MEET TRUMAN, PENDERGAST'S OILER OF ROADS

He Was a Failure in Haberdashery.

BY CARL WIEGMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on page 10.)

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 12.—Messrs. Hague, Kelly, Hannegan, and Hillman, bosses of the Democratic party, have presented to the American people Harry S. Truman for 22 years a protege of the Thomas J. Pendergast political machine, as a candidate for Vice President of the United States.

So that voters may know the record of the man who seeks their votes in his bid for the second most important office in the country, THE TRIBUNE presents a study of Truman's amazing career. Its high points reveal:

1. Truman failed as a farmer and also in the only business venture he ever undertook.

2. At the age of 38, when Truman had made no start whatever toward a career, he was picked up by Pendergast and launched into politics.

Runs County Into Debt.

3. In the only administrative job he ever held Truman's extravagance ran Jackson county into debt from which it has not yet recovered.

4. Truman coöperated with criminal racketeers at the head of the Pendergast organization.

5. After Truman's election to the senate, election commission investigators removed 50,000 fraudulent names from the registration books, where they had been put by the Pendergast machine.

6. As a senator Truman obtained the appointment of a Missouri WPA administrator who turned over millions of public relief funds to machine leaders and who later was sent to prison by the federal government.

7. After Pendergast and other machine chiefs were sent to prison Truman stood on the floor of the senate and bitterly denounced the federal prosecutor and federal judges responsible for the cleanup.

White House Possibility.

Harry Truman may become the President of the United States if the Democratic ticket is successful in November.

Kansas City political leaders declare that the Pendergast machine is far from dead, altho it was ousted from the city hall in the 1940 election. It still holds most of the Jackson county offices and still wields great influence over the courthouse machines of other counties.

Big Tom Pendergast has been in seclusion in his mansion since he was released from prison last spring, and is forbidden by the terms of his probation to engage in politics, but his nephew, Jim Pendergast, is carrying on in his place. Kansas City machine leaders are looking forward hopefully to having Truman near or in the White House from '45 to '48.

A Story in Two Parts.

Truman's life divides itself rather neatly into two parts: Before Pendergast and After Pendergast. His biographers go over the first part rather hastily, for it contains nothing of distinction except his service in World War I.

Truman was born 60 years ago in Lamar, in southwestern Missouri

Nye Discloses $110,000 Plot to Defeat Him

Recalls Offer

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 12 (AP).—H. A. Shirey of Grand Forks said here today that he was present at a meeting in Washington in August, 1943, in which financial support was offered for a disabled war veteran to oppose the reëlection of Sen. Nye. He said he and others from this state were in a room at the Hamilton hotel when the offer was made by "Joe Keenan," who had come to the room with Sen. Langer.

BY PHILIP DODD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—A New Deal congressional contact man placed a price of $110,000 on the political head of Sen. Nye [R., N. D.] in the June 28 Republican senatorial primary in North Dakota, in which Nye was victorious, Nye told the senate today in a speech describing the methods used by his opponents against him.

Sen. Gerald P. Nye.

Nye identified the New Deal agent as Joseph B. Keenan, former chief of the department of justice criminal division and first assistant attorney general under Atty. Gen. Cummings. The $110,000 was offered by Keenan, Nye said, to induce Fay C. DeWitt of Minot, N. D., a veteran of World War I, to run against Nye in the primary.

The offer was made, Nye said, at a conference in Washington a year ago attended by De Witt and five other North Dakota war veterans, all officers of the Disabled American Veterans, Keenan, and a United States senator.

Langer at Conference.

Altho Nye observed senatorial courtesy in his speech by not naming the senator at the conference, Sen. Langer [R., N. D.] rose after the conclusion of Nye's talk and told the senate he was the senator present. He denied that any offer was made to DeWitt.

Nye told the senate the report of the $110,000 offer to DeWitt's campaign was substantiated by testimony given by Neal Williams, Fargo, N. D., one of the veterans at the conference, to the senate campaign investigating committee. Williams' testimony and affidavits from other veterans at the conference were inserted in the Congressional Record by Nye.

Inquiry Under Way.

The senate campaign committee announced a week before the North Dakota primary that it had investigated the campaigns of the candidates and had found evidence of unlawful financing. No further action has been announced by the committee, altho committee investigators have been in North Dakota since June. The committee is headed by Sen. Green, New Deal stalwart from Rhode Island.

Indict Dorseys for Assault in Balcony Battle

Leader Tommy Dorsey's Sunset Plaza apartment, in which Actor Jon Hall suffered a gash on his romantic nose, had a sequel today in grand jury indictments of Dorsey, his wife, Pat Dane, and Allan Smiley, assistant movie director.

The indictments charged the trio with assault by means of force likely to produce great bodily harm, an offense punishable by a fine up to $5,000 and as much as 10 years in San Quentin penitentiary. Bond for each defendant was fixed at $5,000 and their attorneys said they would produce them Thursday morning for arraignment before Superior Judge Clement D. Nye.

Blonde Adds Her Story.

The jury acted after listening to a recital of the battle by Hall, known as the sarong man of the films, who is now patched up and back at work, and Eddie Noris, actor, who says he got a couple of black eyes and a bad beating when he went to Hall's assistance.

Additional bits were added by Jane Churchill, an actress who claims to be a third cousin to the British prime minister, who avowedly lost a handful of her blonde hair to Miss Dane while restraining the latter by her shoulder straps.

Dorsey and his wife appeared briefly before the jury and refused to answer questions, as did Smiley. Two physicians who attended Hall after the fracas said he had cuts on the back of his head and behind his ear which would have been fatal if they had been a little deeper.

Sees Knives Flashing.

Hall is reported to have denied to the jury that he provoked the fight by being overly attentive to Mrs. Dorsey, a version of the affair which the band leader gave Dist. Atty. Fred N. Houser during preliminary investigation. Hall said he was having a friendly chat with Dorsey on the balcony when something—possibly a bottle—clipped him on the head.

He saw knives flashing and bottles waving, according to accounts of his testimony, and he observed that Dorsey had something in his hand which was not a baton. He wouldn't say positively, however, that it was a knife which sliced his nose, and this reticence kept the phrase "deadly weapon" out of the indictments.

Norris said he had left the Dorsey apartment when he was called back by some one who yelled, "They're killing Jon." He rushed in and found Hall staggering around smeared with blood. He said he guided the injured man to his car, then he went back, and:

"Some one hit me and I went out like a light. Afterward Miss Churchill told me some one kicked me several times, and that she pushed the men off and helped me to get out."

BATAAN GROUP SEEKS TO SEND CAPTIVES GIFTS

In an effort to permit soldiers and other Americans who are prisoners of the Japanese to receive Christmas packages, the Bataan War Prisoners Relief of Illinois addressed an appeal last night to Elmer Davis, director of the office of war information, to permit a short wave radio broadcast beamed to Japan. The request, signed by Mrs. Lucy Palermo, president of the relief association, suggested that the mother of an American prisoner make the appeal directly to the Japanese on the broadcast.

CIO Union Badly Beaten in Link Belt Plant Vote

In a consent election held by the national labor relations board, employes of the Link Belt Ordnance company, 306 W. 37th st., voted heavily yesterday against a CIO union which had sought to organize the plant. Of the 654 votes cast, 467 were against the union and 187 were for it. The union involved was the United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America.

CHURCHILL TO RULE UNTIL WAR IS OVER, MORRISON ASSERTS

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP).—Home Secretary Herbert Morrison said today the Churchill government intends to remain in power until the defeat of both Germany and Japan.

Morrison told a dominion labor conference "there is no basic distinction between the war with Germany and the war with Japan, and we cannot break up the government until victory is achieved. Whether the national government is to be continued after that is a matter for debate and it is being debated, and in due course it will be settled."

After the defeat of Germany, Morrison said, "the war in the far east will be prosecuted with vigor, energy, and determination."

Denies F. D. R. Free Time on Radio Station

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 12 [Special].—Facilities of Station WOSH, Oshkosh, Wis., will be denied to Candidate Franklin D. Roosevelt between now and Nov. 7 unless time used is paid for in the same way as by other candidates, Myles H. Johns, senior partner, disclosed today.

Johns said he had reached his decision, announced in a letter to Stephen Early, secretary to the President, after determining that the President's speech from Bremerton, Wash., Aug. 12, was a "political" address and not a "nonpolitical report to the nation," as announced.

Johns said a study of the federal communication commission's rules and regulations convinced him that such talks should be paid for, being political, the same as those by Gov. Dewey, Republican candidate for President.

Offers Time to Dewey.

The station operator said he had written Gov. Dewey advising him that WOSH, because it had carried President Roosevelt's talk, would grant him the same amount of time without cost.

"I am doing this so as not to violate any FCC regulations," Johns said, referring to a provision in them which says that "no licensee shall make or give any preference to any candidate. President Roosevelt had 37 minutes free time, therefore Gov. Dewey is entitled to the same right."

Johns pointed out, however, that after the election station WOSH would give the President, whomever he may be, free time for "reports to the nation," such as President Roosevelt has made before the present campaign opened.

Writes Stand to Early.

Johns said that on Sept. 7 he had sent the following letter to the President's secretary, outlining his position:

"This letter is to notify you that after careful consideration, I have decided that this radio station will be unable to carry any of President Roosevelt's speeches until after the forthcoming Presidential election. This decision has been reached because I honestly believe that the President's recent much publicized address was 'political' in its entirety. Our station is carrying a number of campaign speeches in behalf of or by candidates for both Presidential and other federal and local offices, all of which are being paid for at our regular advertising rates. Consequently, in order to comply with sections 3,421, 3,422, 3,423, and 3,424 of the FCC rules and regulations for broadcast services, I have decided it is necessary for our station to not accept future political speeches of Mr. Roosevelt's except at regular published advertising rates."

CARRIER CRAFT HURL ROCKETS AT 2 JAP BASES

120 Tons of Bombs Also Dropped.

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, Sept. 12 (AP).—Battleships of the Pacific fleet, such as pulverized the defenses of Guam just before invasion, yesterday joined in the daily blasting of Palau, Japanese base 600 miles east of the Philippines.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today that the big battle wagons and cruisers had added their heavy guns to the weight of the attack. Previously, on Sept. 6, cruisers and destroyers had shelled the islands.

The announcement came less than 24 hours after Nimitz reported that the 3d fleet, under Adm. William F. Halsey, had struck its first blow against Mindanao, in the southern Philippines.

Planes Fire 150 Rockets.

Reference to battleships recalled that three days before the invasion of Guam Nimitz first announced that the huge combat vessels were shelling that island.

The big ships went into action as part of a new series of aerial and surface attacks. A two day lull for Palau on Sept. 7 and 8 was followed by a new three day strike, the first of which occurred Saturday. Carrier aircraft continued sorties on Saturday and Sunday, dropping 120 tons of bombs at Babelthuap on north Anguar Island and at south Pelleliu Island.

More than 150 rockets were fired by the planes in the same attacks. Aircraft found a small cargo ship near the islands on Sunday and sank it and damaged another.

The navy also detailed a single plane raid on Iwo Island, a rocket attack on Pagan, a 72 ton bomb raid by army planes on Truk, marine neutralization strikes against Jaluit, Maloelap and Mili Islands on Sunday.

Raid Celebes Airdromes.

GENERAL HDQ., Southwest Pacific, Sept. 13 [Wednesday]—(AP).—A record 202 ton load of explosives was rained on Dutch Celebes airdromes Sunday, in the continuing widespread neutralization raids, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Navy Catalina planes sank one ship and beached another enemy freighter in attacks off Celebes, which lies west of New Guinea. The raid brought to 580 tons of bombs the weight dropped on this strategic island in the last four days.

MacArthur's bulletin revealed that an additional 504 Japanese troops were killed, 116 captured and 25 friendly nationals liberated on British New Guinea in the week ending Sept. 11.

Bomb Two Kurile Isles.

ALEUTIAN HDQ., 11th Air Force, Sept. 9 [Delayed]—(AP).—Aleutian based army Liberators bombed Shimushu Island in the Kuriles today, while Mitchells struck at Japanese shipping off Paramushiro.

Several enemy fighter planes made cautious passes at the big Liberators and returning flyers said one enemy fighter possibly was shot down. Bombs were dropped on installations.

Mitchells attacked an enemy convoy of four ships off Paramushiro's southern tip. Damage was undetermined.

11,800,000 MEN AND WOMEN IN ARMY AND NAVY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—America's army and navy now total 11,800,000 men and women, Col. Francis V. Keesling told a house military subcommittee today. The army has about 8,100,000; and the navy, the marine corps, and Coast Guard, 3,717,000.

The army wants to keep its strength at 7,700,000 "effectives," he testified. The navy proposes to increase its over-all figure to 4,030,000 by next June as the Pacific war expands. Draft inductions will average from 81,000 to 100,000 monthly, he added.

Keesling, an aid of Draft Director Hershey, made an appeal to keep the draft "out of the campaign as President Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie did" in 1940.

GENERAL LOSES D-DAY PAPERS; RELIEVED OF JOB

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

QUEBEC, Sept. 12.—An American general, THE TRIBUNE was informed tonight, has been disciplined and relieved of duty for losing papers giving the date and place of the invasion after the first Roosevelt-Churchill conference here in August, 1943. His name was not divulged.

The papers were found by a sergeant major of the Canadian army, who has been awarded the medal of the British empire for recognizing their importance and placing them in proper hands.

Pledged to Secrecy.

Before the award was made, the sergeant-major was taken to Washington, where he was pledged to secrecy on the knowledge that might have changed the history of the world. He is Eugene Emile Couture, 36 years old, now on duty at the Citadel, where the Roosevelt-Churchill conference is in progress.

He has been wearing his decoration openly for six months, but no one outside his immediate army circle has known the reason it was awarded.

Found Under a Book.

Couture, a librarian at the 1943 conference, was putting affairs in order at the Chateau Frontenac, headquarters of the conference military chiefs, when he found the papers beneath a book. Examining them, he read the date that had been set for the invasion of Europe, and the place where the invasion was to be made.

Couture took them to his commanding officer, Maj. Charles Eduard Gernaey, who communicated with high officials. Summoned to Washington, Gernaey and Couture were pledged to secrecy. Gernaey also was given the empire medal.

KISS LAMP POSTS AS LIGHTS GO ON IN MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER, England, Sept. 12 (AP).—The lights came on in this industrial center of 800,000 tonight after five years of darkness—the first big city in Britain to have its blackout lifted.

The switch was turned at 9 p. m. Pubs emptied. Some people just stood and gazed down the main thorofare, smiling. Others strolled along waving to passers-by. It was the first time they could see more than a few feet at night.

Some one started singing "When the Lights Go On Again" and the crowd joined in. Some went from lamp post to lamp post kissing them.

MIDWEST YANKS SEE GERMANS IN SIEGFRIED LINE

ON THE GERMAN-LUXEMBURG BORDER, Sept. 12 (AP).—A half mile from here the Germans today could be seen moving about the Siegfried line fortifications by Yanks who drove close to the Our river in an armored half track and three jeeps.

Included in the half track crew were Pvt. 1st Class Willis Allen of McLeansboro, Ill., and Pvt. 1st Class Donald W. Douglas of Bloomington, Ind.

For Corp. Gilbert C. Moore of 855 Janssen av., Chicago, this was the second trip down the highway toward Germany. He was a dispatch rider in the last war and is an ordnance man in this one.

Million Tokyo Citizens Moved Out, Say Japs

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—Tokyo radio said tonight Home Minister Shigeo Odachi told the Japanese diet today that about a million of greater Tokyo's 7,000,000 population had been removed from the city under an air raid decentralization program which was "temporarily over."

HODGES' FORCES DRIVE 6 MILES EAST OF EUPEN

Gain New Crossings Over Moselle.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Maps on back page.)

WITH U. S. 1ST ARMY ACROSS THE GERMAN FRONTIER, Sept. 12.—An armored spearhead of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' United States 1st army smashed across the 1940 German frontier south of Aachen at 2:51 p. m. today in a six mile push from Eupen, Belgium. Eupen is five miles from the border.

This was the second crossing of the German border in 24 hours. The first was made from Luxemburg by the 1st army northwest of Trier 65 miles to the south of Eupen.

At a third point other 1st army forces in Luxemburg were less than a mile from the German Siegfried line.

To the south in France Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's United States 3d army gained new bridgeheads across the Moselle river and forced a German withdrawal.

On St. Mihiel Anniversary.

The British 2d army expanded its bridgehead across the Albert canal in Belgium and another spearhead was pressing into Holland. Far to the west other British forces forced the surrender of Le Havre, France's second largest port.

Hodges' attack on Germany today came on the 26th anniversary of the initial American 1st army offensive in the last war—at St. Mihiel. The crossing was accomplished by a United States armored division, which had swept across Belgium in a 10 day march and now has crossed the last frontier of the campaign.

Our tanks sprang forward in a series of strong exploratory thrusts which, like all of our blows all the way up from the Seine river, were audacious and skilfully organized.

Tennesseean in Front.

Armored columns fought all morning as they neared the frontier and the Siegfried line which lies just back of the Belgian border. As American forces drew nearer to Hitler's line of concrete fortifications and anti-tank obstacles German resistance grew stiffer.

The first armored troops across the line were commanded by Lt. Col. William B. Lovelady of Soddy, Tenn. All during the fast drive up from the Seine river and across Belgium, he and his task force have been out in front.

They are part of a larger unit, under the command of a young but veteran general from Denver, Colo., who had fought the Germans in Tunisia and Sicily. This was the general's 10th wedding anniversary as well as being 26 years to the day when as a 17 year old lieutenant commanding an infantry company he took part in the 1st army's St. Mihiel offensive.

Roads Blocked by Trees.

All day long Lovelady's men ran into roads blocked by felled trees. These had been hastily dumped into the road as anti-tank obstacles and were covered by machine guns.

For the first time since the Americans crossed the Seine, German long range heavy artillery began dropping shells around our spearhead armor as it thrust forward.

Actually, according to German maps, American tanks entered Germany when they captured Eupen yesterday. Until the Versailles treaty, which gave this area to Belgium, Eupen and the surrounding country had been included within Germany's borders. After Hitler drove across Belgium he declared it again a part of the reich.

Unfriendly Population.

Certainly its population is far different from that of the rest of Belgium. Many of its 12,000 citizens are Belgian, but the majority are Germans. Unlike the last Belgian town of Verviers, where we were greeted with a rousing welcome, most people in Eupen lined the streets in stony silence as American tanks and armored doughboys worked thru to clean up the last street fighting.

When we entered, Sherman tanks still were fighting at the main square and German shells were bursting overhead. Despite the danger of shell fragments, a lone woman stood in the center of a street waving a British flag under icy stares of her neighbors.

Now with this seemingly accurate foretaste from the border city of the way the Germans feel, the Americans are no longer liberators. We are invaders and are coming into Germany armed to the teeth and prepared for any eventuality.

WIN SPA AND MALMEDY

BY E. E. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SUPREME HDQ., ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sept. 13 [Wednesday].—The Belgian border towns of Spa and Malmedy have been occupied in the American 1st army's drive into Germany. Limbourg, where the Germans were putting up a strong defense, was by-passed in the drive to Eupen.

The 1st army also seized the historical Belgian fort of Eben Emael, one mile from Holland.

The thrust into Germany northwest of Trier, which was launched on Monday, was said to have driven eight to 10 miles toward Koblenz in the industrial Ruhr. It was authoritatively stated that Americans in this sector had not yet reached the main bastions of the Siegfried line, which in this area lie about 10 miles back from the border.

Four Miles Beyond Moselle.

All along the 250 mile arc from the British bridgehead into Holland north of the Albert canal to a line of the Moselle river at Nancy in the south allied forces struck forward yesterday.

Lt. Gen. Patton's 3d army troops breached the Moselle river yesterday morning and infantry pushed four miles beyond the east bank of the river in the first six hours. Metz was under heavy artillery fire and fighting was going on around Thionville, 12 miles from the German frontier at Perl.

Patton's new attack secured a number of new crossings of the river as bridges were built under artillery fire. Guns and tanks were rushed over to support the infantry.

Altho security silence still blankets details of Patton's progress, a spokesman at 3d army headquarters said last night the situation "was more promising than for many days."

On Road to Eindhoven.

Operational secrecy also largely covered operations of Lt. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey's British 2d army but tank spearheads were reported to have penetrated nine miles inside Holland on the road to Eindhoven. The Germans still fighting on the Albert canal were by-passed as the British drove forward.

British troops attached to the Canadian 1st army captured Le Havre after a 36 hour assault. Seizure of this port will open the mouth of the Seine river and enable the allies use of the river port of Rouen after any obstacles placed in the river by the Germans have been removed.

At least 3,000 Germans were taken prisoner at Le Havre and it was estimated that about 2,000 others were killed or wounded in the seizure of the port. Among the injured was the commander of the garrison, whose deputy ordered the Germans to lay down their arms.

Miles of Quay Space.

Le Havre, with a population of 164,000, is France's second largest port. The port in peace time could accommodate vessels up to 767 feet long and drawing up to 33 feet. The port has an outer channel, two other port areas, two tidal ports, and 11 basins or wet docks. There were miles of quays in peace time, a 976 foot drydock, a floating dock and other drydocks.

Gen. Eisenhower, allied commander in chief, warned the inhabitants of the German Ruhr and the Rhineland that "the battle of Germany is about to begin," and he advised them to move immediately because the areas in which they lived soon would become a theater of war.

Peril Rear Communications.

"Rear communications of remnants of the German army retreating into Germany will be subjected to bombing as devastating as that which preceded and accompanied the allied campaign in Normandy," his broadcast message said.

The total of German prisoners taken by all of Gen. Eisenhower's armies since D-day rose far past the 300,000 mark. Up to midnight Monday the 1st army had bagged 169,706, and the 3d army reported several days ago it had taken 76,000. The British and Canadians had sent a huge number of captives to the rear.

In direct support of allied ground troops fighting their way into Germany, 150 Britain and France-based Marauders and Havocs dropped more than 200 tons of bombs on anti-tank traps and troop shelters at Scheld, 32 miles south of Aachen.

Pilots said German roads near the battle lines were jammed with traffic moving eastward. Marauders and Havocs swept over the Siegfried line without encountering anti-aircraft fire or enemy fighters.

EBEN EMAEL WON BY U.S. BATTALION WITHOUT A SHOT

BY MARK S. WATSON.
[Baltimore Sun Papers Military Correspondent. Distributed by the Associated Press.]

WITH HODGES' 1ST UNITED STATES ARMY AT FORT EBEN EMAEL, Sept. 12.—A single battalion of American infantry last night made a cautious approach to this great fort, quarried in solid rock, and prepared for the first stage of a hard struggle. To their amazement there was no resistance whatever and without firing a gun or throwing a grenade they marched into the stronghold.

The Germans captured the fort on May 10, 1940.

The Americans were led by Lt. Col. Paul McCollum of North Carolina. Nothing surprised them more, said Lt. Edward McArdle of Hollis, N. Y., than the fact that all the special equipment they carried with them for reduction of the fort was not necessary. The Germans had simply pulled out.

Nazis Fire Into Fort.

A few Germans remained on the lofty ridge just across the Albert canal and during the day fired rifles into groups of Americans or Belgians who exposed themselves. On the far side of the Meuse river German artillery fired at intervals and received heavy American fire in return.

The capture of Eben Emael by the Germans was one of the notable opening disasters of the war. The fort had been regarded as genuinely impregnable and when the Germans overran it in a day the allied military world was shocked and Germany jubilant. A great deal of discussion at the time dealt with the magic by which Germany achieved the startling military victory which laid all Belgium open to the Germans.

The common understanding was that the Germans had achieved it by profound skill in planning for the assault. They had built a duplicate of Eben Emael, and had trained parachutists and engineer assault troops for weeks in exact techniques of making an entry at several critical points.

Lays Capture to Treachery.

Today, from a Belgian who was here in 1940, I heard a story which makes the capture sound somewhat simpler. He says that it was achieved by treachery. Against a supposedly treasonable Belgian officer he makes charges so grave that they are now being investigated. According to this story, an officer in a responsible position at Eben Emael had been named for that post shortly before the assault on the recommendation of Leon Degrelle, Rexist leader, who had been chief of Belgian Nazi collaborators.

This unnamed officer canceled the normal orders whereby 600 infantry men were kept on guard at the fort's outer ramparts and thus left all approaches unguarded. He also is supposed to have severed communications between the fort and its artillery observers in distant lookout points and thereby rendered the fort's great cannon wholly useless.

Fort Has Few Scars.

The fort shows few scars of heavy fighting. The main approach over which appears the inscription, "Eben Emael, 1932-1935" is somewhat scarred by artillery fire but not wrecked at all and the principal port by which my guide tells me the enemy entered has no scars whatever which meet the eye. It is constructed within one enormous natural rock itself wholly impregnable to any weapon. Its rounded mass rises 250 feet above the level of the 100 foot canal.

In this solid rock, which is roughly a half mile in diameter, have been cut all emplacements for 30 great guns with a sufficient range to reach the German city of Aachen and a great number of lesser guns and anti-aircraft and machine guns. Quarried thru it and connecting all the emplacements with ammunition chambers, barracks, and offices are 11 miles of galleries. Opening from the galleries are all the living and working quarters, machine shops, heating, and ventilating systems.

The Germans have done little damage anywhere save to remove the breech blocks of the great guns and injure the electric system.

Aussies Make It Easy for Yanks to Buy Land

CANBERRA, Sept. 12 (AP).—Australian Minister for the Interior John Silver Collings today announced all restrictive formalities will be waived to welcome American troops who wish to make permanent homes "down under." Collings said many inquiries had been received about possibilities of settling on Australian land.

Hitch Plow Horses to Grading Drags.

BY KENNETH DIXON.

WITH THE A. E. F. IN EASTERN FRANCE, Sept. 5 [Delayed]—(AP).—The dust hardly had settled as the Germans fled when the farm people of France struck their blow for freedom. First they tackled the bridges—the biggest obstacle in the 7th army's pursuit.

Quickly and quietly by the hundreds they unhitched from their plows teams of horses and yokes of oxen and hitched them to road scrapers and road drags. Those without such equipment brought spades and shovels, even hoes. Still others brought only willing arms to carry rocks and logs.

Make Roads Passable.

They scraped, shoveled, and spaded dirt into blasted gaps on the road bed. If a stream ran thru they bridged it with rough wooden spans. Then they carried endless loads of rocks and gravel and placed them painstakingly atop the structures.

When we drove thru—hours ahead of the military traffic in some instances—we found the bridges already passable for jeep traffic. When we waved to the cheering men, women and children and called "tres bon," [very good], they answered "It is the least we can do," and waved us on.

Drag Trees Away.

The same was true for road blocks. Bitterly resentful of German destruction of trees many generations old, they silently and grimly brought axes and saws and went to work. They cut the trees into sections and dragged them off the highways.

"Later we will cut them up into firewood," said one farmer.

Meanwhile others were busy probing carefully for mines. Areas of which they were not sure, they marked off so American engineers could clear them later.

YANK PATROLS REACH 2 TOWNS ON GOTHIC LINE

ROME, Sept. 12 (AP).—United States 5th army patrols have pushed into several outposts of the Gothic line north of Florence against only moderate opposition. But on the Adriatic sector of the Italian battle front the British 8th army still was stalled south of Rimini by fierce enemy resistance.

Allied headquarters announced today that American patrols reached Barberino in the northern Apennines 16 miles north of Florence, and Scarperia, five miles east of Barberino.

In fighting on other sectors of the front American units fanned out on both sides of Pistoia while large units streamed across newly established bridgeheads over the Serchio river between Lucca and the sea.

SUSPECT NAZIS ARE INSURED IN BRITISH FIRMS!

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 12.—By carrying on reinsurance business with Argentine firms, British insurance companies, it is reported today, may unwittingly be carrying life insurance on Adolf Hitler, Herman Goering, and other Nazi leaders.

Many Nazis, it is said, have taken out life insurance policies in Argentina. In many cases Argentine firms reinsure a proportion of their risks in London, where a big international reinsurance business always is carried on.

Altho some British companies insist on the name of the insured person being disclosed, others do not and, according to an Evening Standard writer, may thus be insuring enemy leaders.

20,000 GERMANS CAUGHT BY UNION OF 2 U. S. ARMIES

ROME, Sept. 12 (AP).—Twenty thousand trapped Germans, remnants of the 19th army, are being mopped up between the American 7th and 3d armies in pockets extending from the Belfort gap westward 125 miles, Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's headquarters said tonight.

Official announcements showed the 7th army was making rapid progress in crushing German forces west of Belfort. Americans driving northwest from Vesoul reached Port-sur-Saone, about 33 miles west of Belfort. Between Vesoul and Gray, Americans advanced north of the Saone river in many places.

French Occupy Five Towns.

French units moving north and northwest from Dijon occupied St. Seine l'Abbaye, Val-Suzon, and Courtivron without resistance. Farther to the east Orville and Champlitte were taken against slight opposition.

In cleaning up around Autun, 125 miles west of Belfort, 3,200 Germans were captured. There are still substantial enemy forces west of Dijon. One of these isolated groups counter-attacked vainly near Mersault, 25 miles southwest of Dijon, and now faces annihilation.

Completes Objectives.

Transfer of the 7th army from Gen. Henry Maitland Wilson's Mediterranean command to Gen. Eisenhower's appeared imminent following the junction of the two forces.

When the 7th landed on the Riviera 28 days ago Gen. Wilson proclaimed that the objective was "to drive out the Germans and join up with allied armies advancing from Normandy."

Both of these objectives have been attained.

Absorption of the 7th army into the great allied force under Gen. Eisenhower for the all-out offensive into Germany probably will require some regrouping of Patch's units, especially the French.

Report 18,000 Surrender.

New York, Sept. 12.—The French radio at Lyon said today that a German general and 18,000 men had surrendered to units of the French Forces of the Interior at Chateauneuf-sur-Cher, in central France southwest of Bourges, the capital of the Cher department.

The broadcast, reported by the federal communications commission, added that the FFI commander "immediately got in touch with the nearest American authorities."

India Division Debated by Gandhi and Jinnah

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 12 (AP).—Mohandas K. Gandhi and Mahomed Ali Jinnah, leader of India's Moslems, concluded their conversations today with announcement that they would discuss again tomorrow a formula for dividing India so that Moslems and Hindus could unite in a demand for self-government.

FRANCE TO HELP DECIDE FATE OF NAZIS: DE GAULLE

Tells 4,000 Parisians They'll Have Say.

PARIS, Sept. 12 (AP).—Gen. Charles de Gaulle told Paris and the world tonight that France wants full participation in plans for conquered Germany and liberated Europe.

In an address to an assembly of the national council of resistance De Gaulle said:

"We believe it is in the better interests of all mankind that the arrangement which tomorrow will govern the fate of conquered Germany should not be discussed and adopted without France, because there is no power more interested than France in what concerns the neighbor with which she has had for more than 2,000 years to occupy herself more than any other.

Promises Vote for All.

"If there were any persons anywhere who doubted what this oppressed nation wanted or its capacity to handle itself, I suppose they are now definitely enlightened," the general told 4,000 cheering followers who crowded the auditorium of Chaillot palace.

De Gaulle reiterated the intention of the provisional government to hold an election by universal suffrage of men and women. He said the Germans still had a hold in 15 of France's 84 departments, and France's communications were still paralyzed from the ravages of war.

Abolish Special Groups.

"France wants things to be conducted so that special interests will always be forced to give way to common interests; so that the great sources of common wealth will be exploited and directed not for the profit of the few but for the advantage of all; so that the specially privileged groups shall be abolished once and for all; and that finally each of France's sons and daughters shall be able to live, work, and bring up their children in security and dignity.

"Certainly the state has the duty of turning back into the national purse the guilty riches of those who worked for the enemy."

POLISH CABINET GIVES THANKS TO BRITISH AS WARSAW ASKS HELP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 12.—In the face of repeated queries from the Polish Warsaw garrison why more aid is not forthcoming, the Polish government in London suddenly came out tonight with warm words of praise and appreciation of the British for help rendered to the beleaguered Polish capital. The Poles said a message of gratitude was received from Gen. Bor, commander of the home army fighting for Warsaw.

Besides thanking the British for supplies already received, Bor expressed the hope that further allied assistance will be received, the announcement said.

The cabinet's announcement was seen immediately as a placating answer to last week's charge by Gen. Kazimierz Sosnkowski, commander in chief, that the underground forces battling the Nazis in Warsaw had been deserted by the allies. Following his accusations against the British, upon whom the London Poles are depending for support in negotiations with the rival Polish group support by Russia, it was reported that Sosnkowski probably will be forced to resign.

BELGIAN MONEY AVAILABLE FOR ALLIED FORCES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—Belgian currency and coin have been made available to Gen. Eisenhower for the use of the allied forces in Belgium, the war and treasury departments announced today.

The currency consists partly of notes taken to London from Belgium in 1940, and partly of bills recently printed by the Belgian government in London. Pre-war coins and a few series of two franc coins minted for the Belgian government by the United States also were made available.

TRIBUNE WRITER FIRST IN DIJON; FETED BY CROWD

Greeted by Kisses, Wine, Flowers and Girls.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH FRENCH FORCES IN DIJON, France, Sept. 11 [Delayed].—Hitler was being hanged in straw effigy, German soldiers' trousers were going up in bonfires, and collaborators were being herded in at gun point as the populace of Dijon engaged in wild celebration of its deliverance today.

The Germans pulled out to the northeast late yesterday, having offered only token resistance to French tanks and infantry at the southern edge of the city.

Dijon, important road junction, capital of Burgundy, and world renowned for its cuisine and wines, had no real suffering under four years of Nazi occupation. The Germans garrisoned it heavily and moved many of their units thru it in recent weeks, but the Dijonnais said they had had enough food brought in from the rich countryside and sufficient wine from the great Cote d'Or vineyards to the south. There had not been as much Maquis resistance here as in other parts of southern and eastern France.

Troops Protect Vineyards.

Approaching Dijon from the south there could be seen burned out French and German tanks and some houses at the rim of the city had been smashed. The French were moving up more American Sherman tanks and 155 millimeter Long Tom cannons to strike at the enemy fleeing beyond the city.

It was noted that troops were very careful to travel with tanks and guns only on the east side of the road between Dijon and Nuits-St.-Georges, 10 miles below, for on the west side are the famous vineyards which produce the delectable Burgundy wines. While there had been some trampling in the eastern fields, the vines which stretch in beautiful orderly rows on the Cote d'Or were untouched for the French believe the joys of the palate must not be forgotten even in war.

One becomes repetitious in describing the welcomes in liberated towns, but Dijon's reception can't be overlooked. I was the first American to enter the town since it was freed. I was lifted on the shoulders of a yelling crowd, kissed to a farethee-well, and my cap and insignia ripped from me by souvenir hunters.

Girls Perch on Jeep.

"Vive l'Americain," roared my supporters as they bounced me around thru Place President Wilson, past the 16th century St. Michel church with its bullet top Rennaissance architecture, past the Cathedral of St. Benigne, three centuries older, and up to the palace of the dukes of Burgundy.

When I finally got back into my jeep it was filled with flowers, grapes, bread, and wine, and three Dijonnais lovelies perched on the hood made it very difficult for my driver to keep his mind on his task.

All thru the day the joyous greeting continued. It was a larger edition of what had occurred earlier at Nuits-St. Georges, where, as the first American arrival, I was made honorary citizen and a bottle of Mersault 1924 was cracked over my car in a christening ceremony.

SEAMAN GETS PROBATION.

Charles Grondin, 23, of Lorain, O., a merchant seaman, was placed on 18 months' probation by Judge William V. Daly in Felony court yesterday on a charge of tampering with an automobile. A second charge of attempted burglary was nolle prossed. Grondin was shot and arrested Friday.

Pictures convey ideas more effectively than words. Proof of this fact was given yesterday in the Chicago carburetor plant of the Bendix Aviation corporation by an 11 year old fifth grade boy.

Working entirely from a photograph of the more than 150 parts which made up a gasoline pressure regulator for aircraft engines, Jack Butler, 5116 Woodland av., Western Springs, assembled the complicated device in little more than an hour—considered good assembly time for a skilled workman.

While taking the boy's picture photographers pushed all the parts into a pile. Jack said it made no difference to him. When it was time for him to begin he picked up the basic casting and after a quick glance at the photograph nimbly put the required part into place.

MIDWEST YANKS MAKE MOSELLE A CHICAGO RIVER

BY ROBERT CROMIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 3D ARMY ON THE MOSELLE RIVER, France, Sept. 12.—With bridgeheads firmly established across the Moselle river, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 3d army infantrymen and engineers were still talking today of the heroic defense put up against 36 Nazi attacks in 60 hours by one of the first groups to get across the river.

A number of midwesterners are either across the river or in the town of Dornot on this side, which also was under artillery and machine gun fire. They include Pvt. Albert Moldenhauer, La Crosse, Wis., who said: "It was hell over there," but that they had killed five Germans for every one of our men.

Others are Pvt. Francis Butts, Belleville, Wis.; Sgt. Jasper Covelli, Kenosha, Wis., a former Chicagoan who saw six men killed in Dornot; Pvt. Francis Schuelke, Bear Creek, Wis., who drove a jeep several times down a heavily shelled Dornot road; Pvt. William Fina, Kenosha, Wis., who paddled back in a rubber boat, and Staff Sgt. William Lough, Detroit, Mich., who said he heard men crying for help when they decided not to swim across.

Many Swim River.

Still others are Staff Sgt. Arthur L. Higgins, New Haven, Mich., who hauled ammunition into Dornot; Staff Sgt. Joseph A. Schlitz, Somers, Wis., and Corp. Arnold Dankert, Fond du Lac, Wis., both of whom were as far as the river bank when reenforcements were halted; Pvt. Robert Madison, Kenosha, Wis., who swam half way back and then pulled himself on a rope; Pvt. Arthur Kapchinski, 1821 Augusta blvd., Chicago, a jeep driver on the Dornot road; Pvt. Henry Henizel, Monroe, Wis.; Pvt. Bruno Dybas of Chicago, who swam across the river, and Pvt. Cecil Clark, 8649 St. Louis st., Skokie, Ill., who crossed the river several times.

The men who had been across could still joke, half bitter cracks such as "You didn't have to cover slit trenches over there—the 88s did it for you. Mine was covered with branches from trees."

Some were suffering from battle exhaustion, but as Maj. Bert Rightman, 4923 N. St. Louis av., Chicago, says, they will be fit for action again after a few days of rest. The fact that some of them were weeping means only that the tension was over and they were so relaxed that they were unable to control their nerves for a while.

Chicagoans Bridge Rive.

WITH U. S. TROOPS EAST OF THE MOSELLE RIVER, Sept. 12 (AP).—The break-thru of the Moselle river defenses was engineered by an American general who won his reputation in Africa, Sicily, and Normandy and has since been elevated. His name may not be disclosed.

He juggled his troops back and forth along the river front for 50 miles, spreading and weakening the German defenses. Then he hit hard at weak spots today.

Combat engineers, many from Chicago, plunged into the river and started work on bridges so heavier equipment could pass. The engineers worked under shell fire. The Germans could do little. Each time they fired a cannon, 10 American guns answered and fighter bombers circled overhead and attacked the spot where Nazi guns flashed.

Toughest Job Yet.

"This is the toughest job we have had," said Robert McLain, 1216 W. Flournoy st., Chicago.

Other Chicago combat engineers included Sgt. Julian Hilburger, 9326 University st.; Corp. Steve Konwinskie, 4645 S. Rockwel 1st.; Corp. John Du Mong, 4887 N. Ashland st.; Pvt. David Litman, 3457 W. Monroe st.; Pvt. Chester Knelul, 3210 S. Aberdeen st.; Corp. John Rybycki, 4050 S. Richmond st., and Corp. Victor Caldwell, 2742 N. South Park.

PACIFIC SAGA HALTS TRAFFIC HEARING HERE

Judge William V. Daly continued until tomorrow the arraignment of Floyd Peter Linzmeyer, 22, charged with reckless driving and tampering with an automobile, after Linzmeyer told yesterday a tale of being a prisoner of the Japanese, being rescued from a life raft, and receiving a medical discharge in March after spending two and a half months in a Brooklyn [N. Y.] marine hospital.

Linzmeyer said he had lost his discharge papers as machinist's mate, second class, and that he joined the navy at the age of 17 after leaving St. Joseph Orphans' home in Green Bay, Wis. His ship, he said, was sunk by a Jap submarine. Rescued by the Japs, he was placed on an island in the Pacific, which later was taken by the English. While there he was wounded by bombs from American planes that raided the island.

Atty. Robert Romano, who offered to aid Linzmeyer, said he had been employed in a garage at 5133 Broadway, where he took a car and crashed into another automobile, causing several hundred dollars damage. The lawyer added that Linzmeyer asked for no mercy because he was a war veteran. Judge Daly said he would investigate the story.

INSPECTS MEXICAN PORTS.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12 [AP].—U. S. Rear Adm. Walter S. Anderson, gulf defense commander, arrived yesterday upon the invitation of the Mexican navy ministry to inspect ports of this nation. Today he was to call on Navy Secretary Heriberto Jara.

'Fight On and On,' Nazis Tell Germans, 'or Be Slaves'

Radio broadcasts from Berlin and press dispatches from bordering countries presented these highlights on the picture inside Germany last night:

Dr. Otto Geiger, leading political spokesman for Propaganda Minister Goebbels, told the German people that if the reich is to be saved from extermination they must "fight on and on, come what may."

"Ten million of our compatriots," he added, "will be deported for slave labor in a foreign land if Germany is defeated."

The Moscow radio said that the German ministerial council for defense of the reich had proclaimed a state of siege in all German frontier areas and had extended to them the universal mobilization which has been in effect in East Prussia for some weeks.

The Nazi radio predicted that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill "will address a capitulation demand to the German people from Quebec" which would fail.

"It already can be said that the allies, with their demands for unconditional surrender, have robbed themselves of the chances which Wilson had in 1918," said a broadcast by the Transocean news agency. "In the next few days the German press will be busy reminding its readers of the discrepancy between Wilson's original 14 points and the ultimate Versailles treaty. Berlin political circles consider that a call to surrender had as little chance today as it had at the time of the Teheran conference."

The Swiss Journal de Geneve said that German industrialists have warned Hitler thru the Nazi general staff that the army would be unable to continue fighting more than another eight weeks. Quoting reports from inside Germany the newspaper said Field Marshal Walther von Model, Nazi commander of the western front, and Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, chief of staff, told Hitler the worst must be feared.

The Hungarian MTI agency said that the government had issued an order restricting the size of private letters to half a page, and prohibiting the use of picture postcards showing towns, "localities of war," and similar views. A German-language dispatch, reported by the federal communications commission, said that letters "must be written legibly in the Hungarian language or that of the nationalities living in Hungary."

There is no sign of panic but there is "terrible fatigue" thruout Germany, said La Suise, a Geneva, Switzerland, newspaper. "The German people are without illusions concerning the war issue," it added. "They are calmly awaiting the end of hostilities and the occupation. Terrible fatigue is prevalent everywhere. Numerous inscriptions on walls read: 'The German people want peace—the occupation of Germany means quiet nights.'"

Allied spies inside Germany are so efficient and speedy the Germans are having difficulty keeping their fuel dumps secret from the allied air forces, a reliable source told Stockholm, Sweden, papers. Agents lately have put their fingers on the Nazi fuel stores with great frequency and Nazi counter-espionage operatives are baffled.

Ordnance District, Signal Depot to Get Bond Honor

The Chicago ordnance district and the Chicago signal depot will receive Minute Man flags and T emblems, signalizing their participation in the pay roll deduction plan of war bond purchases, in the Commonwealth Edison auditorium, 72 W. Adams st., tomorrow. The awards will be made by Renslow P. Sherer, Illinois war finance committee chairman.

BRITISH PAPERS TO STAY SMALL ANOTHER YEAR

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP).—British newspapers are expected to remain slim ghosts of their pre-war selves for months after the war ends, because of man power shortages. Bernard Alton, secretary of the Newspaper Proprietors association, said today that while Scandinavia, now cut off by war from Britain, provided a major part of Britain's paper, it was questionable whether the paper could be used if it were delivered.

"Even if the full pre-war supply of paper were available it is doubtful if newspapers could consume it for perhaps a year because of staff shortages," he said. Most papers now publish four pages on week days and eight or 10 pages on Sunday.

Victories May Alter Iran Supply Line to Russia

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—The future status of the Persian gulf command, which built the Trans-Iranian supply line to Russia and has operated it for more than two years, is being studied by the military command in the light of possibilities that more economical routes may be opened up soon by allied victories in Europe. Maj. Gen. Donald H. Connolly told a news conference today that these studies have brought him back to Washington on temporary duty.

3 GERMAN CITIES BOMBED; YANKS BAG 105 PLANES

Strike Again at Synthetic Oil Refineries.

LONDON, Sept. 13 [Wednesday]—(AP)—The R. A. F. battered Berlin, Frankfurt, and Stuttgart during the night, it was officially announced today. The heaviest attacks centered on the industrial centers of Frankfurt and Stuttgart. For Berlin it was the third successive night attack.

Yesterday the German air force rose again for another battle with almost 1,000 strongly escorted United States heavy bombers.

Down 280 Planes in 2 Days.

Again the American flyers inflicted a heavy toll on the Nazis' dwindling air force—105 enemy planes were destroyed, 79 in the air and 26 on the ground, giving the Nazis a loss of 280 planes in the last two days.

The Americans also suffered losses—43 heavy bombers and 17 fighters, bringing the two day cost of battle 91 Fortresses and Liberators and 46 fighters.

Lt. J. Cullerton, 1719 New England av., Chicago, destroyed seven planes on the ground. Lt. William T. Kemp, East Peoria, Ill., shot down three of the enemy in air combat. Capt. Fred R. Haviland, 6041 Matson av., Chicago, was credited with the destruction of three planes on the ground.

Escorted by 700 Fighters.

The American heavies were accompanied by more than 700 fighters. One group of Mustangs shot down more than 30 FW190s for a loss of two Mustangs in a spectacular dogfight near Strasbourg.

The targets of the United States bombers were oil plants at Ruhland, Bohlen, Magdeburg, Brux, Hemmingstadt and Misburg, an ordnance depot at Friedrichstadt and an airplane engine plant near Kiel.

Before the American heavies had returned to their bases between 500 and 750 R. A. F. Halifaxes, escorted by fighters, attacked synthetic oil plants at Scholven-Buer, Dortmund, and Wanner-Eickel.

[The Swiss radio reported that Swiss defense squadrons forced down three United States bombers. The crews, totaling 31 men, were uninjured and were interned.]

500 Fly from Italy.

Early tonight fresh formations of British heavy bombers blasted Munster, a city about 35 miles from the German frontier.

Five hundred Italy based heavy bombers of the United States 15th air force attacked the Wasserberg factory at Ulm, where the Nazis are building their new jet propelled planes, and an airdrome at Lechfeld where many of these planes have been seen. Other Mediterranean based bombers struck the Allach engine factory near Vienna.

GOES ON TRIAL FOR SHOOTING OF TWO OVER $138

William G. Hayes, 44, pleaded not guilty yesterday before Judge John Prystalski as his trial opened on charges of shooting and seriously wounding Roy E. Fuller, 105 Madison st., his former employer, and Joseph Guyette, office manager.

Both victims testified Hayes quit the firm in February, 1941, and later returned to demand $138 which he said it owed him. Refused the money, Hayes later reappeared in the office and shot Fuller three times and Guyette once, they testified.

Hayes was indicted on a charge of assault to kill, then declared insane. After several court hearings he was adjudged sane. The state then reinstated the original charges.

BRADLEY NAMED AS A PERMANENT MAJOR GENERAL

New Promotion List Given to Senate.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—President Roosevelt today nominated Lt. Gen. Omar Bradley for promotion to the permanent rank of major general in recognition of his accomplishments on the battlefields of northern France.

The nomination was sent to the senate along with a long list of other military promotions recommended by the President. Bradley now is a commanding general of the United States 12th army group and commanded the ground forces at the time of the invasion of France.

New Lieutenant Generals.

The President nominated for advancement to the temporary rank of lieutenant general these officers: Maj. Gen. Thomas T. Handy, chief of operations in all theaters since Gen. Eisenhower went to England to take command of allied forces; Maj. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott Jr., commander of the 6th corps in southern France; Maj. Gen. Daniel I. Sultan, deputy commander of the China-Burma-India theater.

These brigadier generals were nominated for advancement to the temporary rank of major general:

Edwin D. Patrick, comamnder of the 6th infantry, Southwest Pacific; Norman D. Cota, commander of the 28th infantry in Europe; Frank D. Merrill, liaison officer in the Southeast Asia command; Eugene W. Fales, commander at Camp Blanding, Fla.; Robert W. Douglass of the 7th air force in the Pacific; Joseph W. Byron of special services; Francis B. Mallon, commander at Fort George G. Meade, Md.; Gilbert X. Cheves, with the service of supply in India; Cyrus R. Smith, deputy commander of the army air transport command, and Maurice Rose, with the 3d armored division in Europe.

Nimitz Rank Permanent.

President Roosevelt asked the senate to make Adm. Chester W. Nimitz's present temporary rank as a full admiral effective as of Dec. 31, 1941. The nomination would not change the war time rank of the admiral, now commander in chief in the Pacific, but would date his commission back to the start of 1942.

HOW HARD HIT IS FRANCE? HERE IS CLOSEUP VIEW

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 12.—What effect will the German occupation have upon the economy of France? Perhaps it is too early to determine the complete answer, but there are indications that it will be less than first imagined.

The impression gained from riding thru the countryside and speaking to farmers along the way from Normandy to Paris is that French agriculture and animal husbandry have been little affected. Farmers said the Germans seldom, if ever, made direct requisitions, but left them to the French government.

The result in most cases was that herds of cattle and other stock were left in more or less good condition. Crops this year are good. The grain harvest, altho not yet brought in, is one of the largest in years.

Germans Invested Heavily.

Industry underwent certain changes during the war. German cartels are said to have invested heavily in heavy industry. The French government now is busy trying to trace German investments which they regard as their bonus.

Many factories have been improved and modernized but many were heavily bombed, tho how much permanent damage was done has not been ascertained.

Big industries have been charged with collaborating with the enemy. This makes their properties, as well as those of Pierre Laval, subject to confiscation.

That suggests interesting developments. Those who are hell bent for confiscating private property are Communists, who find themselves in a rather happy position. All German property and all property of individuals who collaborated with the Germans—and the heat is on the biggest industrialists—will be regarded as belonging to the government. Thus, Communism may confront the nation with a fait accompli of government ownership without any one having been quite aware of what really was going on behind the scenes.

Hope to Stabilize Franc.

Financially, the situation in France, is not as grave as was first thought, an American expert disclosed.

That is the reason why both Americans and British hope that the French franc can be stabilized at 49.63 francs to the dollar and 200 to the British pound sterling. The stabilization figure itself is arbitrary and indicates American subservience to British finance. The British refuse to stabilize the pound at an even $4. They refuse to allow the pound to be stabilized at 50 francs even to the dollar, which would make the pound value, instead of the dollar value, fractional and less convenient to the British.

A new factor in the economic rehabilitation of France remains undiscussed because it is the result of the allied invasion—that is, how will the thousands of homes destroyed in Normandy and other battle areas be rebuilt and how will the population be cared for during the interim?

Politically also a great problem confronts the nation. What role will be allowed private enterprise? Every one this correspondent spoke to seemed convinced the trend is definitely toward the left and that the Communists already hald the trump cards mentioned.

It is significant that the Communists are leading in the attack on "collaborators," and they themselves serenely are escaping censure. Yet they sabotaged the war effort until Russia was attacked and Maurice Thorez, Communist deputy who escaped to Russia at the outbreak of the war, broadcast from Moscow in 1940 imploring the Communists in France not to resist the Germans.

AMG Purges Italy's Schools and Calls Back 3,500,000

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Italy, Sept. 12.—Despite the fact that two great allied armies are still fighting in northern Italy 3,500,000 children will go back to primary and secondary schools in free Italy this fall and more than 50,000 university students in December will reënter classes halted by the war. But they will not study fascism and Benito Mussolini's rise as in other years.

Col. T. V. Smith [top] and Maj. Washburne.

The reopening of schools and universities has been made possible by a small group of allied military government officers, two of whom are Illinoisans. Col. T. V. Smith, former Illinois legislator and University of Chicago professor, is director of this educational subcommission of the allied control commission, and Maj. Carleton W. Washburne, formerly superintendent of schools in Winnetka, Ill., is deputy director in charge of primary and secondary education. The third member is Lt. Col. Henry T. Rowell, Baltimore, Md., director of the summer school in the American academy at Rome from 1937 to 1939.

Children Indoctrinated.

It was at students in primary and secondary schools, rather than in the universities, that Mussolini aimed most of his propaganda, and Maj. Washburne found that every textbook required rewriting.

Twenty-five per cent of the school principals and hundreds of teachers had to be purged for Fascist leanings, and still another problem arose from the fact that it was the thousands of primary and secondary schools of southern Italy which bore the brunt of war rather than the handful of universities in the largest cities.

When Washburne arrived in Sicily last October he found all the schools closed and the allied military government with no plans to reopen them. By December he had some schools open.

Replaces Superintendents.

"The first job is to get a new provincial superintendent of schools because the old ones always have proven to be Fascist," said Washburne. "When I find the man I want I appoint him, with the approval of the minister of education of the new Italian government. Then comes the de-fascization of school principals and administrative officials.

"We do not try to screen individual teachers because they run into the thousands. The new provincial superintendent and his staff are made responsible for them.

"Finally, necessary changes in curriculum must be made. A committee of Italian educators goes over the studies and eliminates such courses as the history of Fascism, geography classes devoted exclusively to the study of Mussolini's empire, and countless others like them. For the three hours weekly of drill and elementary military tactics compulsory in the primary and secondary schools under Mussolini, we substitute physical education."

Europe "Only Continent."

In Sicily, Washburne discovered that every textbook was adroitly designed to manufacture good Fascist minds, so he used his own knowledge of Italian to red pencil every word which deviated from straight education. Then teachers' committees rewrote the books.

Washburne partly solved the housing problem by directing that classes be held wherever possible—in movie houses, churches, and the homes of teachers. In the city of Foggia, several classes will be held in unused trolley cars.

Col. Rowell, as head of the staff handling universities, has reopened three in Sicily, one each in Naples and Bari, and the 400 year old University of Rome.

With the approval of the minister of education, Rowell had Prof. Giuseppe Caronia, head of the infectious diseases department of the University of Rome medical school and a strong anti-Fascist, appointed rector of the university. Caronia selected five other anti-Fascist professors and the six then studied the records of the university's staff members. Already, on their recommendation, 75 full time professors have been suspended and the weeding out is still going on.

At Rome as in other universities, most suspensions took place among the faculty of the political science and law schools, which were found to be honeycombs of Fascism.

Examine Prospective Students.

The next step was to give examinations to the students to see where they stood and to offer them accelerated summer courses so that they would be ready for the opening of the new academic year in December. In normal times the University of Rome had 15,000 students, but attendance had fallen off because many young men were in the army and others were impressed by German labor gangs. Many others were in hiding.

Rowell said the universities had been strongholds of anti-Fascism, particularly since the Ethiopian war in 1936.

CHICAGO SAILOR TELLS OF AIDING INJURED MARINES

GUAM [Delayed].—Navy Pharmacist's Mate 2d Class Irving "Don" S. Afriat, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Afriat of 1401 East Hyde Park, Chicago, told how he worked 30 minutes on four marines who had been injured by shrapnel while crossing the reef to the beach on Guam.

"The Japs got a line on the gun ahead of us and began laying 'em right in," he said. "One exploded about 20 feet from us and sprayed four marines with shrapnel. Two of the men were in pretty bad shape. I gave them emergency first aid treatment. As I finished working with each man I stopped marines on their way to the beach who carried these wounded to a medical aid station. As long as I live, I'll never forget those 30 minutes."

LYONS GETS NEW CHIEF, BUT LOSES ITS POLICE FORCE

The entire police force of the village of Lyons—one chief, one lieutenant, and three patrolmen—resigned in a body shortly before midnight last night after a Democratic rebel faction of the board had taken control and reinstated a former chief who had been ousted as an ex-convict.

A few minutes later the neighboring village of Riverside cut Lyons from its police radio service in sympathetic protest. With a new chief but no police department and therefore no police protection for the night, the village was forced to summon aid from county highway police. Two squads were promised.

Ousted as Chief in June.

Center of the disturbance was Joseph C. Duffek, president of the Lyons Democratic club and a Democratic precinct committeeman. He was ousted as police chief last June after three years in office, when it was revealed that he had once served a term in prison for burglary. He was backed by four Democratic trustees of the Lyons board.

Duffek's apparent reinstatement was worked thru a coup. The reinstatement was proposed by L. Hoffman, a Democratic trustee, but ruled out of order by Theofil Bulat, village president. His ruling was greeted with boos.

Hoffman and three other Democratic trustees, Herman Toepper, Joe Cerny, and Tony Plansky, conferred with Jesse H. Brown, a Chicago lawyer.

One Backs President.

On his advice, they elected Toepper president pro tem. over President Bulat's protests, then reinstated Duffek. Only one trustee, John Subat, supported Bulat.

The rebel faction called Duffek in and told him he was chief again, but the victory was short lived. A few minutes later the entire Lyons police department, Chief Ralph White, Lt. Charles Fiala, and Policemen Stanley Coufal, Herman Marose, and Fred Molkenstine, marched in and threw their stars on the table. "We can't work with Duffek," Chief White announced.

Illinois Flyer Chalks Up 50th Mission Since June

Staff Sgt. Stanley C. Buck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buck, R. D. 1, Ramsey, Fayette county, recently chalked up his 50th combat mission as an engineer-gunner on a B-24 Liberator with the 15th air force in Italy. He flew his first combat mission last June when heavy bombers attacked the Ploesti [Romania] oil fields and helped bomb Toulon gun positions before the invasion of southern France. He holds the air medal with three oak leaf clusters.

TWO HURT IN CRASH.

Two persons received minor injuries last night when the car in which they were riding skidded and rammed against a Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific switch engine pulling one car on Lakewood av. The victims were Vincent Cummings, 55, of 2244 Bissell st., the driver, and Mrs. Maude Ryan, 54, of 2218 Bissell st.

REDS OPEN BIG POLISH DRIVE, GERMANS SAY

Gain in Push on Lomza, Near East Prussia.

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP).—Fall of Lomza, guardian of the southern approaches to East Prussia, appeared imminent tonight as the Russians announced improvement of their positions south and southwest of that besieged Polish city. The Germans declared gigantic Red armies had begun the supreme drive aimed at breaking thru the north Polish front.

The soviet war bulletin, one of the shortest in months, told merely of taking some additional towns near Lomza, from which the Red army was only two and one-half miles distant Monday night, and of a deeper penetration into Hungarian held Transylvania in coöperation with the Romanian army. It was silent concerning such a northern offensive as the Germans described.

The German DNB agency said violent Russian attacks were launched east of Warsaw and northeast of Russian captured Ostroleka in the direction of the German frontier, apparently meaning East Prussia, which the Russians announced early Tuesday had been penetrated by Red army patrols. Other German broadcasts told of heavy fighting west of Lomza, which is 20 miles from East Prussia.

Reports Fighting in Warsaw.

Another Red army has been drawn up in a semi-circle around Warsaw for 44 days. A Polish underground announcement distributed in London said Gen. Bor's Polish forces and the Germans were engaged in hard street fighting for every house in the center of Warsaw and that the Poles had received arms dropped by allied planes from Italy Sunday night. Moscow dispatches said there were indications of resumed soviet activity northeast and north of Warsaw. They told of better weather after a period of rain and fog.

The Germans said another soviet offensive was in progress in the Polish foothills of the Carpathians toward the Czechoslovak frontier. The Germans in that area admitted Monday the loss of Krosno and said the Russians had achieved a small breach south of Sanok, with "overwhelming superiority."

Near Hungarian Border.

A Romanian bulletin said Romanian and Russian troops reached within 30 miles of the Hungarian border beyond Timisoara. This strategically situated city is about 30 miles from the junctures of the Romanian-Yugoslav-Hungarian borders and is on the railroad from Turnu-Severin to Budapest, 150 miles northwest.

The Russian war bulletin did not mention this development, but said Russian and Romanian troops had taken 150 towns in combined operations, including Mercurea-Ciucului, 20 miles inside the Hungarian-Romanian border which Hitler established in 1940, and 19 miles beyond last reported Russian positions in Transylvania.

The Russians also announced capture of Deva, 46 miles southwest of Alba Julia and 85 miles from the pre-war Hungarian border; Blaj, 13 miles northeast of Alba Julia, and Aiud, 18 miles north.

Bulgars Fight Nazis.

A Bulgarian announcement said there was fighting between Bulgar troops withdrawing from Greece and German troops who still were stationed there. The Bulgars claimed they were fighting in full agreement with Yugoslav Partisan Marshal Tito and in collaboration with the soviet union, Britain, and the United States.

All available reports indicated the Germans still were disengaging generally thruout the southern Balkans. The Czechoslovak press bureau in London announced Slovak Partisans and regular Czech forces had destroyed the only two rail bridges east of Zilina, important Slovak junction 80 miles southwest of Krakow, Poland.

GERMANS LEAVE 50 PRISONERS TO BE BURNED ALIVE

LYON, France, Sept. 9 [Delayed]—(AP).—Before the allies captured this French city, American airmen bombed Gestapo headquarters and set a fire in which the Germans left 50 French prisoners to perish, residents said today.

The structure was near one of the railway stations. All prisoners died, said Jean Chaumont, a banker who is the husband of the former Jane Masters of St. Louis.

"The Nazis kept the prisoners locked in their cells when they went to refuges below in the shelter," Chaumont said. "When the building was hit and caught fire, they fled, leaving the French men and women to be burned alive. The Germans threatened to shoot firemen if they approached the scene, altho the screams of the prisoners still could be heard."

2 Illinois 'Head Hunters' Destroy 15 Jap Planes

ADVANCED SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AIR BASE, Sept. 3 [Delayed]—(AP)—Among the flyers of the renowned "Head Hunter" unit in the Southwest Pacific with records of Jap planes destroyed are Lt. Allen E. Hill, Sterling, Ill., who has eight, and Maj. Burnell W. Dams, Chester, Ill., who has seven. Maj. Dams since has been transferred to another squadron.

SETTLE TERMS OF ARMISTICE FOR ROMANIA

LONDON, Sept. 13 [Wednesday]—(AP).—The Moscow radio announced today that an armistice has been concluded with Romania. It said Russia, Great Britain, and the United States acted on behalf of all the allied nations.

The broadcast, recorded by the soviet monitor, said that United States Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, British Ambassador Archibald John Clark Kerr, and Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov participated in the negotiations, which were concluded yesterday.

The armistice was signed by Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, whose army swept thru Romania, on behalf of all three powers and the allied nations. Gen. Damatcanu Stirby signed for Romania. Details of the terms were not made known immediately.

4 Killed as Car Plunges Thru Railing of Bridge

East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 12 (AP).—Four persons were killed today when a car in which they were riding plunged thru a railing of municipal bridge. They were Glenwood Jones, 26, Vernon Emery Godbey, 29, John W. Krug, 27, all of St. Louis and Mary Ellen Kauling, address unknown.

BULGARS LAUNCH PURGE AS SOFIA WAITS FOR REDS

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP).—Bulgaria's new pro-allied government was cleaning house today as Sofia prepared to welcome the Red army—last reported only 25 miles from the capital.

A Moscow radio broadcast reported by the soviet monitor quoted Premier Kimon Georgiev as announcing in Sofia that in 48 hours the council of regents had been abolished and all members of former governments in power since 1941 had been jailed.

Parliament Members Seized.

A majority of the members of parliament were reported arrested. Many newspapers have been suppressed, fifteen diplomats have been recalled from foreign posts and "a purge of state administrative apparatus" has been launched, it was added.

The Sofia radio's home service, heard by the ministry of information, carried appeals of labor unions and the "provisional central administration" to chauffeurs to place themselves and their cars and trucks at the disposal of the new government. There were also appeals to "comrades of the postal and telegraph offices" to form committees to take over all archives and seize control of posts and telegraphs from the old administration.

Red Flags Decorate Sofia.

A newly formed committee of journalists announced a democratic press was to be established, with "disruptive elements to be removed and punished," and "liaison with our colleagues of the soviet press to be established."

The Ankara radio said Sofia was decorated with Red flags and reported "civilians and Communists who have come down from the mountains are all armed" and singing communist songs.

[The Budapest (Hungary) radio said last night that young King Simeon of Bulgaria and the queen mother have fled to Syria.]

Greeks Attack Fleeing Nazis.

New York, Sept. 12.—The British radio today quoted its Cairo correspondent as reporting that "Greek patriot forces now control the whole of the central Greek plateau" and that 40,000 well armed Greeks were attacking the retreating Germans.

As recorded by the OWI, the London broadcast added that about 100,000 Greek reservists "are waiting to strike when the Germans reach their area."

MEMBER OF TRIBUNE STAFF RETURNS; HIT BY JAPS IN AIR RAID

Lt. W. Kermit Holt.

After 14 months in the Pacific, during which he suffered a head wound in a Jap air raid on the Solomons, 1st. Lt. W. Kermit Holt, a member of The Tribune editorial staff on military leave, visited Chicago yesterday with his wife, Gisela.

They will visit Holt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Holt, Clarksburg, W. Va., before Holt reports to the marine corps public relations division in Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.

During his Pacific service, Holt was assigned to a marine corps air wing in the Solomons and at Bougainville. It was during an air raid over his headquarters that shrapnel struck him in the forehead.

STALIN DISTURBS QUEBEC PARLEY, THO HE'S ABSENT

F. D. R. and Churchill Hold First Conference.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

QUEBEC, Sept. 12. — President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill held joint meetings with their chiefs of staff today, after Mr. Roosevelt had thanked the newspapers which have stuck to the official version of the purpose of the second Roosevelt-Churchill Quebec conference.

Officials have gone to considerable pains to present the meeting as a military parley, with emphasis on prosecuting the war in the Pacific after Germany is humbled.

Their protestations, nevertheless, have not stilled reports that the British and Americans are deeply concerned over Premier Stalin's territorial ambitions in Europe. These reports had a reply yesterday when Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill made public Mr. Stalin's reason for not attending—that he was busy—but Russia's stand continued to be one of the great unanswered problems of the conference city.

Hope for Demobilization.

Considerable apprehension was expressed, too, as to the role Great Britain will play in the defeat of Japan after the British are saved by the fall of Germany. Canadians saw in the conference hope of speedy demobilization of many Canadian troops.

Stalin's aloofness and his unwillingness to give the United States bases from which to bomb Japan presented another problem which it was felt the conference could not ignore.

Considerable significance was seen, accordingly, in the announcement of Presidential Secretary Stephen Early that the President was "most pleased" at the emphasis placed in newspapers generally on the military aspect of the conference and its relation to the war in the Pacific.

Early's enthusiasm disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt is enjoying the position of military strategist, for Early told of Mr. Roosevelt's map room, within 15 feet of the President's quarters, for ready reference.

"Chinese Kept Informed."

Early was not sure Churchill has a map room this time, but recalled the rivalry between Churchill and Roosevelt at the Quebec conference last year as to whose map room could supply data with the greater rapidity.

The President and Mr. Churchill conferred briefly at midday, and later called in their military and naval chiefs of staffs for further planning.

No explanation was offered as to the absence of the Chinese from a conference to prosecute the Japanese war, but assurance was given that they are being kept informed on proceedings.

In view of the attention directed officially to Stalin's regrets yesterday, Early was asked if the Russian dictator had given any indication separately of interest in the far eastern situation. Early replied that he did not know.

Pacific Leader a Problem.

The toughest problem facing the conferees is the choice of a supreme commander for the far east theater. Topping the list of those under consideration is Gen. MacArthur. The fact that he was summoned to Honolulu to confer with the President is regarded as significant.

But Roosevelt faces a complicated situation, in view of the traditional rivalry between the army and the navy. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz is in command of the Central Pacific, outranking Lt. Gen. William Richardson, army commander there.

If the precedent of the Central Pacific is followed, MacArthur would become subordinate to Nimitz in the new supreme command, but the consensus here is that the "Ike Eisenhower" of the far east will be MacArthur.

It is admitted that the existing overlapping commands have impeded the allied efforts against Japan, especially as regards the spheres of MacArthur and Adm. Louis Mountbatten, in command of the South Asia theater. Unless this situation is immediately corrected thru the creation of an over-all command, the problems facing the allies will multiply.

Watches Oaks Parley.

In reply to a question about the secret Dumbarton Oaks post-war security conference in Washington Early said Mr. Roosevelt was keeping in touch with it. Some of the delegates to the Dumbarton Oaks meeting are attending the conference here, raising again the question of how much international peace machinery is being set up behind congress' back by the Russians, British, and Americans at Dumbarton Oaks, and whether that machinery will be implemented here.

Another conference figures in the public discussion of the Quebec meeting. This is the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration conference, which opens in Montreal Friday. Canadians have been clamoring to have Montreal made the permanent headquarters for UNRRA's spending of 2 billion dollars on war relief, altho $1,350,000,000 of the money will be supplied by the United States.

BLASTS PEPPER FOR SAYING F.D.R. CAN WOO STALIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Sen. Pepper [D., Fla.], ardent New Deal supporter, was accused of "a new low in political utterances" by Sen. Danaher [R., Conn.] in a senate speech today, after he had read to the senate a news dispatch quoting Pepper as saying Russian participation in the war against Japan depended on the November election.

Sen. Danaher.

According to the dispatch, Pepper had told reporters in Seattle, Wash., last week that President Roosevelt could get Russia on the American side in the Pacific war as soon as Germany is defeated.

Calls Stalin Realist.

"Stalin is a realist," Pepper was quoted as saying. "If Roosevelt is defeated, Stalin will reason that there's not much use in trying to deal with the reactionaries. If Dewey wins, Stalin will wait until an American government he can trust is back in power."

Senators ordinarily do not criticize their colleagues on the floor of the senate, but Danaher stated flatly that Pepper's reported statement was "a new low in political utterances."

Danaher went on:

"At a time when we are approaching, thru the representatives of the three great powers, the resolution of whatever difficulties there may lie in the way of peace, it seems we are trafficking in the franchise of the American people thru utterances of the kind I have read. It deserves the denunciation of that colleague [Pepper] here in the senate."

Johnson Draws Laugh.

Danaher then read a portion of the news dispatch in which Pepper predicted Sen. Johnson [R., Cal.], pre-war isolationist, was Gov. Dewey's choice for secretary of state.

Sen. Johnson, who is hard of hearing, asked Danaher whom he was quoting.

"Sen. Claude Pepper, Democrat of Florida," said Danaher.

New Japanese Advances in China

Legends tell developments reported in China war.

JAPS TAKE PORT IN DRIVE DOWN COAST OF CHINA

CHUNGKING, China, Sept. 12 (AP).—The Japanese in their drive to guard the China coast against expected American landings have captured the important Chekiang provincial seaport of Wenchow and now hold about two-thirds of the province, the Chinese acknowledged tonight.

Wenchow, 225 miles south of Shanghai, fell to the enemy on Sept. 7, a Chinese bulletin said, adding that fighting still is in progress in the suburbs.

In the interior of China the Japanese continued to press southwestward towards the defensive center of Kweilin in Kwangsi province and westward towards Paoching in Hunan province. The Chinese said some of the seven Japanese columns aiming at Paoching had reached points 12 miles from the city, which is 63 miles west of Japanese conquered Hengyang.

The Chinese command placed the Japanese drive on Kweilin as still outside Kwangsi province 18 miles northeast of Chuanhsien, but the United States 14th air force announced bombing the latter city, 67 miles from Kweilin, and reported several attacks on Japanese positions in the vicinity along the Hunan-Kwangsi railway.

American and Chinese planes also struck Japanese positions in Kwangtung province north of Canton and bombed landing barges in the Wenchow area, where many Japanese were reported killed.

The Chinese said Chinese planes on Sept. 8 sank two medium sized enemy warships off Chekiang province and probably damaged two others.

Swiss End Black-Out to Prevent Error Bombings

BERN, Switzerland, Sept. 12 (AP).—Switzerland tonight eliminated its blackout in a move to protect frontier areas which several times recently have been mistakenly attacked by belligerent planes.

HERO'S HONORS PAID FIGHTING CHICAGO COOK

Anzio Feat Costs Life of Swedish Youth.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Corp. Eric Gunnar Gibson, who grew up on Chicago's north side, has been awarded posthumously the congressional medal of honor for his single-handed attack on German gun positions at Anzio beachhead last Jan. 28, the war department announced today.

Corp. Eric G. Gibson.

Corp. Gibson, who was 24, was killed at the climax of a furious fight during which he charged and captured four German automatic weapon positions despite heavy enemy artillery and machine gun fire, killed five Nazi soldiers, and captured two. His bravery secured the left flank of his company in an attack on a strongpoint near Isola Bella, Italy.

Father to Accept Award.

The award of the nation's highest military honor will be made to Corp. Gibson's father, Erland Gibson, on Friday at Camp McCoy, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson recently moved from 4040 Broadway, Chicago, to a farm near Rice Lake, Wis.

Corp. Gibson was born in Sweden and came to the United States with his parents and a younger brother when he was 6. He graduated from Senn High school in Chicago and became a butcher. He enlisted in the army in February, 1941.

He became a cook in the 3d infantry division and was sent to North Africa. His transport was torpedoed during the first assault landing, but rather than wait for a boat to take him off the disabled ship he swam ashore to get into the fight.

"Fightin'-est Man" in Division.

Officers under whom Corp. Gibson served recalled that he soon acquired the reputation of being not only a first class cook but the "fightin'-est man" in the division. They said he never missed an opportunity to leave his field kitchen, grab a submachine gun, and get into the fighting. He took part in the Volturno river crossing and the counter-attack at Mount Rotundo—as a rifleman, not as a cook.

On Jan. 28 he was assigned to lead a squad of new infantry replacements, whose mission was to clean the enemy out of a ditch. Thruout the action Corp. Gibson kept his squad behind him while he ran forward with a submachine gun and grenades and knocked out German positions. After his last single-handed attack his men found him dead, but the German soldier who had killed him also was dead in his fortified emplacement.

CAPTAIN UNDER FIRE THRU 800 YARDS OF NO-MAN'S LAND CITED

The silver star has been awarded to Capt. Forrest Lay, 26, of Aurora, by Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark for leading four volunteers over 800 yards of open ground under direct small arms and cannon fire to capture an enemy position which had stopped the advance of two American units near Capanfori, Italy, on July 15, his wife, Dorothy, was notified yesterday.

Capt. Lay and his men killed two of the crew of a German Mark IV. tank, forced the tank to withdraw, then proceeded toward their objective, capturing 13 of the enemy and killing four more. The heroism of Capt. Lay inspired his company to hold its gains against two strong counter-attacks during the next hour, the citation said.

The captain, whose wife lives on N. Lake Street rd. north of Aurora, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lay of 811 Main st., who have four sons in service. The other brothers are Robert, an air force sergeant in England; Charles, a private in Italy, and Arthur, who is in officers' training school at Fort Benning, Ga.

Chicago Sergeant Wins Air Medal in Pacific

GENERAL HDQ. SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 12 (AP).—The air medal has been awarded posthumously to Capt. Walter P. Langdon of Cincinnati, O., for meritorious achievement in photographic missions over Japanese bases in a fighter plane. Staff Sgt. Briggs Dyer of 301 Eugenie st., Chicago, was also awarded the air medal.

KING CALLS ON YUGOSLAVS TO JOIN TITO ARMY

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP).—King Peter of Yugoslavia called on all Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes tonight to unite and join the national liberation army under Marshal Tito.

In an address in Serbo-Croat, broadcast by the British Broadcasting corporation, the young king said that with the gathering of allied armies on the Yugoslav frontiers "the day of our liberation is at last dawning," and that the time had arrived to unite in the struggle.

"My government, under its prime minister, Dr. Ivan Subasic, has, with my full knowledge and approval, concluded substantial and advantageous agreements with this, our national army," Peter said.

DEMAND AUDIT OF LEND-LEASE WHEN WAR ENDS

Congressmen in London Call for Survey.

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP).—A demand for auditing of lend-lease accounts immediately after victory in Europe was voiced today by Representatives Karl E. Mundt [R., S. D.] and James P. Richards [D., S. C.], who are here on an inquiry for the house foreign affairs committee.

"We should take stock, then," said Richards.

"We should add up the columns," agreed Mundt.

"With a complete breakdown of lend-lease costs and contributions, those of direct lend-lease and lend-lease in reverse," added Richards.

Both suggested that the study should be carried out by congress, presumably a joint inquiry by the foreign affairs committees of the house and senate, which handled the original bill.

Sees Better Hardware.

They maintained post-European war lend-lease should be held to direct military articles "on a basis of actual needs."

Mundt said he had seen in English hardware stores much better displays of goods such as hammers, pliers, and jack knives than in many American communities.

He expressed belief that there should be a definite date for closing lend-lease and for settling "once and for all anything we may get, such as bases or rights to airways, in order to prevent interminable delays."

"Everywhere we have been," said Richards, "there is evidence of great friendship for America, and the hospitality of the people couldn't be excelled."

Five More Arrive.

"We were impressed by the statue of George Washington in Trafalgar square," said Mundt. "It would seem that people who would erect a monument to the founder of independence in America would be one with whom we could work out permanent, friendly, and mutually profitable relations in the post-war era."

Five more representatives arrived today from the United States, bringing the total number here to 10.

GREEN TO PLAY IN STATE OFFICE GOLF TOURNEY

Gov. Green will be the fourth man in a golf contest at the third annual golf tournament and outing of the Chicago offices of the attorney general, department of revenue, and department of finance tomorrow afternoon at Sportsmen's Golf club, Northbrook.

Atty. Gen. Barrett, Finance Director George B. McKibbin, and Revenue Director Philip C. Collins are continuing their perennial battles in the match. The 1943 contest was won by McKibbin by one stroke at the end of seven holes played in a pouring rain.

Last year more than 1,000 persons attended the outing, and an even greater turnout is expected this time. War bonds will be prizes in various contests.

Actress Divorced

ESTHER WILLIAMS.

Los Angeles, Sept. 12 (AP).—Esther Williams today divorced Dr. Leonard Kovner, whom she married in Los Gatos, Cal., four years ago before she rose to screen prominence, after testifying he had maintained "an attitude of criticism and scorn" toward her.

The actress, an aquatic star and Pacific coast 220 yard free style swimming champion before her entry into pictures, testified the physician "treated me and my friends with superiority and contempt and embarrassed me by accusing me and implying that I was disloyal."

The couple separated last June.

Mrs. Roosevelt Shows Churchills Fala's Tricks

QUEBEC, Sept. 12 (AP).—Fala, the Presidential scottie, went thru all his tricks today for Prime Minister and Mrs. Churchill. Mrs. Roosevelt put him thru his paces after a formal picture taking at the citadel. The scottie sat up and begged for food, rolled over on command and, when Mrs. Roosevelt bent and extended an arm, quickly jumped over it.

URGES U. S. CASH TO BUILD BRITAIN AS WORLD POWER

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—The state department was disclosed today as seeking the restoration of England to a strong economic position as quickly after the victory in Europe as possible.

Charles P. Taft.

It was also stated that other countries such as France, China, and Russia must be restored to sound positions as rapidly as war developments will permit.

It was disclosed the United States intends to use its own economic power to bring about a world-wide "liberal and nondiscriminating foreign trade policy." This policy, it was said, would include relaxation of trade barriers, especially those which have been set up by countries like England, France and others seeking to strengthen their empire economies.

Statement from C. P. Taft.

These main elements of post-war economic policy were discussed by Charles P. Taft, director of the office of war time economic affairs, state department, in a speech at Akron, Ohio.

Taft declared the United States must "take the leadership in attempting to secure adherence to a liberal and nondiscriminating foreign trade policy."

He then spoke of the necessity for reconstruction, physically and economically of the other allied nations and said that "if we want stable economy around the world, we have to concern ourselves with the financial position of these major trading countries beginning with England."

"It is essential for our national interest to have a strong England, strongly reconstructed, and exporting enough goods to pay for the goods she must import, including what she buys from us," he said. "England was and must continue our customer."

With allied armies pressing toward a final European victory and with President Roosevelt in a conference with Prime Minister Churchill at Quebec, the Taft statement of policy was regarded here as of unusual importance.

Assurance to England.

It reflected several points that officials have been discussing privately for several months. Some of these officials contend the reconstruction of Britain is not only as commercially desirable but as strategically necessary because of the physical relationship of the British Isles to Europe. These officials declare that in its own interests the United States must back a swift and effective reconstruction of British economy with whatever financial assistance is necessary.

American officials in informal negotiations are known to have assured British leaders this country will not use its superior economic strength at the war's end to drive Britain or any other exhausted allied country out of world markets.

British air lines, for example, have been promised opportunity to buy long range transport planes in this country on equal terms with competing American lines in international trade. It is expected this rule will be applied to other fields.

On the other hand, the United States already has started breaking down British trade controls in the middle east with the idea that after the war American sellers will be able to compete in middle eastern markets alongside British firms which once had exclusive rights there.

The United States also plans to seek an end to certain empire preference arrangements such as the British system of communications rates which makes it cheaper to send a dispatch from one part of the empire to another than from the same originating point to a comparable destination in this country.

U. S. SUBMARINE LOST IN PACIFIC; SKIPPER IS MILWAUKEE MAN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—Another American submarine — the Gudgeon — has been lost from the underseas fleet which has whittled the Japanese cargo carrying strength down to the point where sampans and barges now must be used by the enemy to move supplies and men.

Lt. Comdr. R. A. Bonin.

The loss, the 29th submarine since the war started, was announced by the navy today without details. She was last assigned to the campaign in Japanese waters.

Aboard on her last patrol were at least 65 officers and men commanded by Lt. Comdr. Robert A. Bonin of Milwaukee. All are listed as missing.

POPE APPROVES FINE CONDUCT OF TROOPS IN ROME

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—Pope Pius XII. has expressed his appreciation for "the fine example, bearing and conduct of allied troops in Rome," the White House disclosed today in making public a letter to President Roosevelt from his personal representative to the Vatican, Myron C. Taylor.

"It may be interesting for you to learn," Taylor wrote, "that the pope has seen fit to express himself in regard to the allied troops in Rome, and I quote his message. The commanding general of the Rome area [Brig. Gen. T. K. Brown] has been informed 'His holiness the pope has expressed his appreciation of the fine example, bearing and conduct of allied troops in Rome.' This statement should be very pleasing to the allied officers and to the troops themselves."

TRUNK, PISTOL, CASH STOLEN.

Burglars stole a trunk containing $800 and a pistol from the home of John Rousseau, 11444 Ashland av., he reported to police yesterday.

THAT long-famous tradition of Virginia hospitality was generously expressed at Mount Vernon while the Washingtons lived there. So constantly did they entertain that Washington in 1799 mentioned in a letter, "Mrs. Washington and myself will do what I believe has not been done within the last twenty years by us—that is, set down to dinner by ourselves."

THE GRACIOUS SPIRIT OF Hospitality

You know how it is in some homes—a friendly, welcoming spirit of hospitality is always there to make you glad you came. This feeling must come straight from the heart to be real. But pleasant little things, such as always having a box of Martha Washington candies on hand to offer guests who drop in, add to this gracious air of hospitality. And it's so nice to know that these famous candies, made of choicest ingredients, will be sure to delight even the most hard-to-please tastes.

G.O.P. LANDSLIDE IN MAINE HAILED AS DEWEY OMEN

New Dealers Jolted by Rout of CIO.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Apprehensive New Dealers today studied the results of yesterday's "barometer" election in Maine.

A Republican landslide buried candidates backed by the CIO political action committee and gave the Republican candidate for governor a plurality of more than 75,000, the second largest in the state's history. Three Republican candidates for congress were reëlected by thumping majorities.

On Capitol hill Republican senators and congressman hailed the election as a clear presage of victory for Gov. Dewey and Gov. Bricker in November. Some Republicans expressed the conviction the victory will be of landslide proportions.

New Dealers Dodge Comment.

New Dealers in and out of congress dodged comment on the election, but their long countenances clearly indicated their disappointment and their fears that "as Maine goes so goes the nation."

In past weeks New Dealers had been whispering that the nation might be surprised by the Maine vote. They made no open boasts, but indicated hopes that the vast influx of CIO war workers might set the pace for a New Deal landslide. The results came to these New Dealers as a bitter disillusionment.

In the gubernatorial contest Horace A. Hildreth, Republican president of the state senate, received 130,204 votes against 54,420 for Paul J. Jullien [D.]. The total vote was 8,000 larger than in 1942, when Gov. Sumner Sewell was elected by a 59,000 majority.

Hale Wins, 47,635 to 21,569.

In the 1st congressional district Rep. Hale [R.] received 47,635 votes against 21,569 for Andrew A. Pettis [D.]. In the last three elections the Republican vote in this district was less than 2 to 1. The CIO had concentrated heavily against Hale, Pettis being president of the Portland CIO Shipyards Workers' union.

In the 2d district Rep. Smith [R.] received 45,492 votes against 20,822 for David H. Staples [D.]. The majority of approximately 25,000 was larger than Republican candidates received in 1938, 1940, or 1942.

In the 3d district Rep. Fellows [R.] polled 35,141 against 10,095 for Ralph E. Graham [D]. In 1942 Fellows was unopposed and polled 31,728 votes. In 1940 and 1938, the Republican vote was less than 3 to 1.

More than one-third of the state's 32,000 eligible voters in the army and navy cast absentee ballots.

The Republican majority was far greater than the state returned in 1920 to defeat Wilsonism and the league of nations. In 1920, in what was hailed as a landslide, the Republican majority was 56,000.

Republicans long have felt that a 60 per cent Republican vote in Maine in September spelled victory in November. The percentage in yesterday's gubernatorial vote was better than 75 per cent. The barometer failed twice, in 1936 when the Republican vote was 60 per cent and in 1940, when Maine went 65 per cent Republican.

Republican comment on the hill included:

Senate Minority Leader White [R., Me.]—Apparently the Democrats in Maine did not clear everything with Sidney Hillman. The majority, which is the second largest in history, spells Republican victory in November.

Foresees Dewey Landslide.

Rep. Arends [R., Ill.], Republican whip—On the basis of the Maine congressional election, the Dewey-Bricker ticket is headed for a nation-wide sweep, with a majority indicated of more than 3½ million for the Republicans. The congressional percentage is 72.6 as against 64.7 in 1940. This increase applied to the Presidential race indicates a Republican percentage of 53 per cent, which translated into electoral votes would mean a veritable landslide for Dewey and Bricker, with Roosevelt lucky to carry 16 states.

Sen. Burton [R., O.]—The returns indicate a very definite trend.

Rep. Shafer [R., Mich.]—The sword of Damocles dropped on the Democrats for one swish and went back up to the ceiling until November, when it will swing on the New Dealers.

Rep. Allen [R., Ill.]—The Maine election proves conclusively that there are more redblooded Americans in this country than any other element. Hillman, Browder, and Bridges can take notice.

Sen. Aiken [R., Vt.]—A good start. Vermont will not be the only state to follow Maine's lead.

NAZI FIGHTER ACE KILLED.

LONDON, Sept. 12 [AP].—The Berlin radio announced today that Commodore Count Clemens von Schoenborn, one of Germany's most successful fighter pilots, has been killed in action.

MAINE VICTORY A DEWEY SIGN, BROWNELL SAYS

Maine's Republican landslide was hailed as a virtual guarantee of national victory Nov. 7 by Herbert Brownell Jr., G. O. P. national chairman, in a visit to Chicago yesterday on his way to Oklahoma.

Brownell studied the latest figures from the New England state with James S. Kemper, chairman of the G. O. P. national finance committee; Werner W. Schroeder, Illinois national committeeman, and George B. McKibbin, in charge of western headquarters here.

The chairman then dispatched jubilant telegrams to Gov. Dewey and Gov. Bricker, nominees for President and Vice President. His message to Dewey said:

"Republican victory in Maine clearly indicates your election Nov. 7. Our ticket polled over 70 per cent of the total votes cast. This is the greatest percentage given to the Republican ticket in a Maine state election in a Presidential year in 20 years."

OPA Sets Ceiling on Trays After Delay of 4 Months

After four months' delay, the office of price administration yesterday set a ceiling price for wooden serving trays manufactured by the World Wide Industries, 5409 Halsted st., Rae E. Walters, regional administrator, announced. Walters said he obtained a teletype order from the Washington [D. C.] office, which is in charge of ceiling procedure, after several telephone conversations with his superiors. He told the owners, "I hope your new business prospers."

DEWEY BEGINS CONFERENCES IN COW COUNTRY

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Valentine, Neb., Sept. 12.—Gov. Dewey, on a ranch 19 miles from here, this afternoon hailed the Maine election returns as a certain harbinger of a nation-wide Republican victory in November. The record Republican majority in the gubernatorial and congressional races were 7 per cent higher than four years ago.

"And," grinned the elated Presidential candidate, who had just received the election returns, "we need only a 2 per cent increase nationally for a Republican victory. With 7 per cent up for the G. O. P. there wouldn't be any Democrats left in the country."

The 42 year old New York governor is stopping for two days of cow country conferences on the ranch of Sam McKelvie, former Nebraska governor, in the course of a transcontinental campaign tour.

Trend Accelerated.

"The Maine returns," Dewey continued, addressing 78 newspaper men, radio and magazine men who are accompanying him, "clearly means that the marked Republican trend is continuing at an accelerated pace."

In analyzing the congressional vote, Dewey emphasized that Democratic candidates supported by Sidney Hillman of the CIO-PAC received a resounding defeat even in Bath, Me., where shipyard labor is organized. He declined to comment further on this aspect of the returns. The congressional majority, said Dewey, means that the people of Maine have demonstrated the rising confidence in leadership in the Republican party, "a trend which I have found everywhere evidenced in my trip across the United States.

Indians Greet Party.

On its arrival in this cow town of 2,000 population the campaign party was greeted by a high school band, a score of Sioux Indians in feathers and face paint and on horses, by 50 mounted cowboys and most of the villagers. When Dewey appeared on the rear platform he was greeted with whoops and yells of the range land. Local Democrats as well as Republicans joined in making this a two day holiday with rodeo, dances, and barbecues.

On the McKelvie ranch, in rich grass lands of rolling sand hills, Dewey was meeting today and tomorrow with a Nebraska delegation headed by Gov. Griswold, with a South Dakota delegation headed by Gov. Sharpe, and with representatives of the cattle raising industry.

The Dewey campaign train will leave here tomorrow evening for Sheridan, Wyo. The next scheduled speech is Monday night in Seattle.

NEW DEAL'S TAX PLEDGE TERMED POLITICAL MYTH

Albion, Ill., Sept. 12 [Special].—The New Deal pledge to "soak the rich" thru taxation was branded a political myth today by State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder in the light of disclosures that individual taxpayers were taxed nearly 4 billion dollars more than corporations in 1943.

This is the first time in the nation's history that individuals have had to pay more taxes than corporations, Lueder asserted.

With Atty. Gen. Barrett, and Lt. Gov. Cross, Lueder addressed gatherings here and at Carmi, Shawneetown, and Mount Carmel in their campaign for reëlection. They reported Republican sentiment still booming.

"New Dealers for the last 11 years have hoodwinked millions of Americans with the pledge that big corporations and so-called 'economic bourbons' would be forced to pay the major part of federal taxes," Lueder said.

"Voters cannot be fooled any longer by this political myth. The treasury report for the year ended June 30 shows that 18 billion 261 million dollars was collected in federal taxes from individual citizens, while the corporations for the first time fell behind with taxes of 14 billion 766 million dollars."

BURGLARS GET GAS COUPONS.

Ration coupons for 698 gallons of gasoline were stolen by burglars who broke into a service station at 10567 Indianapolis av., the owner, Al Pennington, reported to police.

WOMAN G. O. P. LEADER WARNS OF RED INROADS

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 12 [Special.]—Totalitarianism is creeping into our own government even while we are defeating its foreign exponents on the battlefield, Mrs. Clyde Corbin, national chairman of the Young Republican National federation, declared today at a meeting of the Indiana branch of the organization.

"The bright pictures of our military victories are darkened with lack of confidence regarding the political, economic, and social concepts which may arise in our government," Mrs. Corbin said. "We are fearful that the same evil forces which have penetrated so deeply into the European countries are fast coming to the fore in America.

"The very things we are fighting are fast seeping into our own government. Our people can follow deception, New Dealers, the Communists and the political action committee until they have yielded freedom in exchange for bondage, or they can awaken and vote against the fourth term."

AMNESIA VICTIM COMES TO.

to all hunters who want ammunition

Our sincere apologies to those thousands of our good friends who had to wait in line or were otherwise inconvenienced in the purchase of ammunition Monday and Tuesday.

We are glad, of course, to see this tremendous interest in hunting—and we appreciate the confidence and goodwill of so many people in coming to VL&A.

However, it is only right to tell you that we have a reasonably good supply of ammunition and don't expect it to be exhausted tomorrow, this week, or even this month.

So, please, for your own convenience and to help us serve you properly, take your time, and buy only what you actually need.

In order to be fair to everyone and to supply as many hunters as possible through the coming season, we have been forced to limit each individual purchase to:

50 rounds of shot gun shells
20 rounds of center fire ammunition
150 rounds of 22 long rifle ammunition

Under the circumstances, we are trying to do the best we can. We know you appreciate our problem.

COURTNEY VOWS SALES TAX CUT; ATTACKS GREEN

Charges Governor with Breaking Promises.

BY LEWIS HUNT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 12.—State's Atty. Courtney opened his campaign as Democratic candidate for governor tonight with a speech in which he called Gov. Green "Do Nothing" Green, pledged himself to cut the sales tax in half and eulogized President Roosevelt as the "experienced pilot of our ship of state."

Some 500 Winnebago county Democrats welcomed Courtney and his fellow campaigners—Earl Merritt, candidate for state treasurer; Casimir Griglik for secretary of the state Supreme court, and Mrs. Emily Taft Douglas, for congress at large—at a dinner in the Faust hotel preceding the rally. The meeting place, Lyran hall, which holds 1,000, had only a scattering of vacant seats.

Asserts Promises Kept.

Terming himself "the candidate of downstate Illinois," Courtney said he had been elected state's attorney of Cook county three times because he had kept his promises. Then he turned on his Republican opponent.

"At this hour the people of Illinois are stunned by the realization that not one of the Green promises have been fulfilled," he said: "That is the reason the people now call him 'Do Nothing' Green.

"Among Gov. Green's major promises was his pledge to remove the sales tax on food. Every man, woman, and child in Illinois knows that he has not kept that promise. Thruout Illinois the people are asking Gov. Green why he did not do something about the sales tax. Of course, he has no answer."

Courtney asserted that Gov. Green also has failed in pledges to reduce state expenditures, increase old age pensions, reduce taxes, redistrict congressional representation, protect civil service, and renounce machine politics.

Mrs. Douglas Hits Opposition.

"The paramount issue in this state campaign is good government," said Courtney. "As governor I stand pledged to effective, efficient, and economical state government.

"I stand pledged to reduce the sales tax and to cut the sales tax on food and everything you buy in half. This will mean a savings of 50 million dollars a year to the taxpayers."

Mrs. Douglas charged "the opposition in Illinois" with "baiting the other united nations as tho they were worse than the Nazis and the Japs." Russia and Britain she said, "have poured out their blood and resources to defeat the common enemy and yet one learns today that communism is our greatest enemy."

Merritt and Griglik spoke informally and praised President Roosevelt and Courtney.

REP. LUCE GIVES SPEECH OF FOUR WORDS IN HOUSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—The shortest speech in the history of congress was delivered today by Rep. Luce [R., Conn.].

The author of the play "The Women" asked permission to address the house for 10 seconds. When it was granted, she walked to the well of the house, cleared her throat, and turned toward Speaker Rayburn.

"Mr. speaker," she began. She then turned to face the house.

"Clear everything with Sidney," she concluded.

Wins Divorce

Mrs. Esther Lillian Van Kirk.

Mrs. Esther Lillian Van Kirk, 28, of 216 Myrtle st., Winnetka, obtained a divorce in Superior court yesterday on grounds of cruelty when she testified that her husband, Gordon, 45, brushed her off the runningboard of their car by driving close to a hedge on Aug. 12. She had stepped on the runningboard to stop her husband, she said, when he told her he intended to drive away and never return. They were married in 1938. Van Kirk is a former teacher of English at New Trier High school in Winnetka. Judge Joseph Sabath granted the decree.

FIGHT TO BEAT KELLY MACHINE, G. O. P. IS URGED

Republican candidates for Cook county offices last night were called upon by one of their own number, Raymond J. Peacock, nominee for recorder of deeds, to come out and fight the Kelly machine. Peacock made the first speech of his campaign in the 39th ward at 3925 Irving Park rd.

"We can't win this election with cards, signs, and pamphlets alone," Peacock said. "It is the duty of the Republican nominees for county office to tell the people that Cook county is the main battleground in the state election and one of the main arenas of the Presidential contest.

"We cannot sit idly by day after day and allow the corrupt city hall machine to continue unmolested. We must fight that machine. Each hour that we do not combat the Kelly machine thousands of votes are being made to defeat the Republican party in the county, state, and nation."

The G. O. P. county candidates cannot afford to sit back and depend upon Gov. Green and Gov. Dewey, the Presidential nominee, to win the election for them, Peacock declared.

GREEN OUTLINES AID TO VETS AT MANSION PARLEY

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 12 [Special].—In the second of a weekly series of conferences with representative citizens of the state Gov. Green tonight, in the executive mansion, discussed Illinois' plans for assisting returning service men after the war.

Highlight of the discussions were broadcast over W-G-N and a statewide network of 15 downstate stations.

Those taking part in the conference with the governor were Dr. Leonard W. Esper of Springfield, past commander of the Illinois American Legion; Col. W. Don Jones of Rock Island, state commander of the disabled American veterans; Henry Warner, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Wilmer Lamar of Decatur and John DiCicco of Chicago, both veterans of the present war.

Asserts Benefits Are Assured.

Gov. Green outlined the state's program on veterans' rehabilitation and employment and emphasized that the Illinois plan carries assurances that widows and children of veterans will receive benefits to which they are entitled.

"Our program is not relief—not a dole," the governor said. "It is the guarantee of a great state that its heroes shall suffer no hardships or handicaps in resuming the life which is theirs by right of valor."

Vote Program Explained.

Green explained the Illinois soldier voting program, declaring the Illinois law guarantees the soldier's right to vote in absolute secrecy, in contrast with the federal ballot which, he said, provides no safeguards.

"I can well realize why there are some who dread to give soldiers the full ballot," the governor said. "Yes, even in seeking only a second term, I would fear to give the full ballot to soldiers if I were depending on the Communists and their Hillmans and Browders to see me thru."

OPA Files Triple Damage Suit Against Poultry Firm

The office of price administration yesterday filed injunction and triple damage suits in federal District court against David Rosin, owner of the wholesale poultry firm of White and Rosin, 137 W. 62d st., charging the company had overcharged retailers for more than a year and that it has failed to keep records of its transactions. The OPA asked the court to determine the amount of the damages.

Leaves Sing Sing

James J. Hines, former New Deal patronage dispenser, leaving Sing Sing prison yesterday after serving sentence on racket charge.

HINES IS FREED FROM CELL; CAN'T WORK FOR F. D. R.

Ossining, N. Y., Sept. 12 [Special].—James J. [Jimmy] Hines, 67, former Tammany boss and one time chief dispenser of Roosevelt administration patronage in New York City, emerged from Sing Sing prison on parole today after serving three years, 10 months, and 28 days of a four to eight year sentence, for conspiracy and operating a lottery in connection with the 20 million dollar "Dutch" Schultz policy racket.

The white haired convict, who was praised by President Roosevelt for his 'humanitarianism" while dispensing thousands of New Deal jobs ranging from a United States marshal to federal judgeships and minor government clerks, was met at prison gates in a waiting automobile by his wife, Genevieve, and two sons, James and Philip.

Hines left the prison intending to visit the state division of parole in New York City, whose parole restrictions will control his activities until Dec. 14, 1948. Under terms of his parole granted Aug. 22 by the state parole board after two rejections, Hines may "not be engaged in any business other than that specifically approved by the board for his release and is not to hold office or engage in political activities of any organization." This provision is interpreted by political leaders as preventing him from campaigning for President Roosevelt for a fourth term.

SENTENCED IN CIGAR THEFTS.

Harry Williams of 613 Wrightwood av., house detective at the Medinah club, 505 N. Michigan av., was placed on probation for six months, and Theodore Callin, 6508 N. Ashland av., a bell boy, was sentenced to 30 days in the Bridewell by Judge John R. McSweeney in Chicago Avenue court yesterday for stealing cigars from the club.

FIRST SOLDIER BALLOTS COME BACK THIRD DAY

The first ballots voted under the Illinois soldier vote law were received yesterday. There were 63 in the batch, returned from the mailing begun Saturday by the Chicago board of election commissioners.

Working into the night, a special staff of 150 aimed at running the total of ballots sent out up to 66,000 by this morning. This will be approximately half of the 122,333 for which applications have been received. Yesterday's applications were the lowest in several weeks—1,725.

Ballots for the 1st senatorial district on the near south side began going out after County Clerk Michael J. Flynn certified the independent candidacy of State Rep. Ernest A. Greene for reëlection. Objections to Greene's petitions of candidacy were being considered by the Chicago election board. But failure of objectors to file protests before Flynn closed the case.

MEET H. TRUMAN, OILER OF ROADS FOR PENDERGAST

Failure as Haberdasher When He Met Tom.

near the Joplin lead mining district. His father, John A. Truman, was a mule dealer known as Peanuts Truman. After several years of drifting, the family settled on a Jackson county farm near Independence. The farm belonged to Harry Truman's maternal grandmother. There Truman grew to manhood.

He attended Independence High school, completing his formal education in 1901. He never went to college or to law school, altho years later he got himself admitted to the bar.

A Variety of Vocations.

After high school he was slow in finding his true vocation. He worked for a while in a drug store, then got a job wrapping newspapers for the Kansas City Star. From there he drifted to a job as a clerk with a railroad construction gang. Then he became a clerk for a Kansas City bank.

All these jobs led to nothing and he landed back on his grandmother's farm. The farm did not prosper, as mortgage records show, but it offered a living, and Truman stayed there until, at the age of 33, the first World war offered him an opportunity to get away. He became captain of an artillery battery that saw combat service in France.

Truman came home a major and in no mood to go back on the farm. So he started a haberdashery in downtown Kansas City.

The Pay-Off—10 Per Cent.

This enterprise, Truman's only venture into business, quickly failed, and a judgment of $8,944 obtained by his creditors reportedly was paid off at the rate of about 10 cents on the dollar. Once more Truman returned to the farm.

At this dark moment in his career, a fairy godfather who was to change the course of his entire life appeared—he was Boss Pendergast.

It came about this way:

In his office at 1908 Main street, the most important address in Kansas City, Pendergast held court every morning, receiving his satellites and issuing orders about the direction of his kingdom. One day in 1922 the boss' nephew, Jim Pendergast, appeared and asked his uncle to help out a friend whom Jim had known in the army. Jim said the friend was a worthy fellow named Truman who had just had a little hard luck in haberdashery.

Nephew Jim pointed out that Truman had friends among war veterans and was active in lodge circles. Also, Jim explained that Truman could be trusted to coöperate.

A man with a blameless, if colorless, record was just what Tom Pendergast needed to sweeten his ticket, and he ran Truman for judge of the County court, representing the eastern part of Jackson county. Truman was elected.

It is not necessary to be a lawyer to be a judge of a County court in Missouri. The court is the administrative body of the county, corresponding to the county board of commissioners in other states.

A Start on the Pay Roll.

There are three members of the court, a presiding judge and two members representing the eastern and western parts of the county. They have charge of the county buildings and welfare institutions, maintenance of roads, and such matters, and they also sit as the board of equalization to hear tax appeals.

Truman served as judge for two years. In 1924, when he ran for reelection, he was defeated because of an uprising of the Shannon faction of the Democratic party. Despite this defeat, Pendergast decided that Truman was a useful man to keep on the pay roll, and gave him a job as a county road overseer.

Oil from Pendergast.

The duties of a road overseer were not arduous and Truman faithfully saw to it that the secondary roads were oiled. The county court saw to it that the oil was purchased from Pendergast's Eureka Petroleum company.

In 1926, Truman ran for presiding judge of the county court and was elected, of course with Pendergast support. Thus, the man who had been unable to make a success of farming or business was now at the head of the county government. It was a big step up in the world, and Truman knew how to be grateful.

Boss Pendergast often boasted he never exacted any promises from his candidates before elections. He once told an interviewer:

"If a candidate hasn't got sense enough to see who helped him win and hasn't sense enough to recognize that man's friends, there is no use asking for favors from that candidate in advance."

In this way, and under such auspices, Harry Truman was launched on his political career.

[Tomorrow's article in this series will discuss Truman's record as presiding judge of the Jackson county court.]

"I think I'll offer this lady my seat, Mama!"

SEN. OVERTON WINS RENOMINATION OVER THREE IN LOUISIANA

New Orleans, La., Sept. 12 (AP).—John H. Overton, sponsor of flood control and American naval might, was renominated in today's Louisiana Democratic primary to a third term in the United States senate by a substantial majority over three opponents on the basis of representative returns.

The vote in 1,196 of 1,871 precincts gave the 68 year old Overton 112,746; E. A. Stephens, New Orleans, 49,808; Griffin T. Hawkins, Lake Charles, 13,044, and Charles S. Gerth, New Orleans, 5,035.

Incomplete returns showed all incumbents in the lead in the six congressional contests.

CHICAGO FLYER SHOT DOWN BY NAZIS TO RETURN

Lt. John K. Smith, 28, a bombardier whose plane was shot down last Feb. 11 over Brunswick, Germany, is among the Chicago men who will reach the United States late this month on the exchange liner Gripsholm. He is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Smith, 7736 Luella av. Lt. Smith was reported to have been on his 17th mission over Germany when his plane went down. He was wounded in the side, neck, and left eye. A graduate of Hirsch High school and De Paul university, Lt. Smith went into service with the national guard in March, 1940. He transferred from the 131st infantry to the air force and went overseas in July, 1943.

Greeley Attorney Leads Colorado Primary Race

Denver, Colo., Sept. 12 (AP).—David Miller, Greeley attorney, led Maj. Homer G. Preston of Brighton tonight in the contest for the Democratic nomination for congress in the 2d Colorado congressional district. Votes in 104 of 479 precincts in the district were: Miller, 727; Preston, 510.

Dutch Submarine Sailor Shot by Enraged Suitor

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP).—Fatthos Morsdorf, 25, a member of a Dutch submarine crew, was shot and wounded in the back today in a taproom. Police arrested Anthony Gatto, 41, on a charge of assault. Police said Gatto approached Morsdorf as he sat with Miss Eleanor Quirk, 29, and opened fire shouting: "She's my girl friend and I don't want you around her." Hospital attendants said Morsdorf was not wounded seriously.

PRO-F. D. R. BLOC WINS FIRST TEST IN TEXAS SCHISM

Seat Their Delegates at State Convention.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 12.—Anti-fourth term Democrats and pro-Roosevelt Democrats engaged in a bitter struggle today in Texas' Democratic state convention and in two test roll calls which occupied hours, the Roosevelt forces prevailed in a move to substitute Dallas New Dealers for anti-New Dealers. The votes were close, the first standing, 803 to 774; the second, 799 to 769.

Pandemonium tore loose in the hall, then the pro-Roosevelt camp took control of the convention machinery. They ditched Mark McGee, choice of the party executive committee and of Gov. Stevenson for temporary chairman, and elected Robert Calvert, ex-speaker of the Kansas house, a pro-Roosevelt leader.

McGee in a speech remarked, "I didn't come here pro-Roosevelt or anti-Roosevelt, but just a Democrat."

Eight Hours Organizing.

They struck out recommendations of the executive committee for chairmen of various committees, and left the choice to the chairman. Finally, they provided for the appointment of a committee on Presidential electors. These electors are at the basis of the fight.

It took eight hours merely to get temporarily organized, and the convention then knocked off for an hour for dinner. Delegates on both sides have been in full voice all day but despite the bedlam there was no violence.

Rep. Dies, arch foe of the Communists, was introduced to the convention while the first roll call was still being canvassed. Bedlam broke loose, with mingled cries of applause and yells of "No, no." Dies strode from the platform with a broad grin without making a speech.

Altho the pro-Roosevelt camp captured today's state convention the uprising which has split the party asunder is expected to be taken into the courts. The plan proposed by the Roosevelt Democrats is to nullify the work of the May state convention at Austin. Two slates of Democratic electors for the November election emerged at that time. One, that of the regulars, is instructed to vote in the electoral college for other Democrats than the national tickets; the other slate, produced by a rump convention, is for Roosevelt. The pro-Roosevelts have proposed to undo all this and to nominate a slate of Democratic electors instructed for Roosevelt.

Little Chance for Peace.

If the convention follows this program the antis propose to go to the state Supreme court to have the May convention upheld, on the contention the September convention is acting outside its powers.

Gov. Stevenson, author of a peace plan said to have been approved by President Roosevelt at a recent White House visit, by Sen. Truman and Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones of Houston, tonight said he saw little chance for it.

The plan is to put the two rival sets of Presidential electors on the November ballot in the Democratic party.

Chief leader of the Roosevelt group here is James V. Allred, who was governor of Texas in 1935-'39; then appointed federal district judge in 1939, a post he resigned to run unsuccessfully as New Deal candidate for senator against Sen. O'Daniel in the 1942 primaries. Later he was appointed to the Circuit Court of Appeals, but O'Daniel raised objections and his name was withdrawn.

Leaders Denounced.

In caucus and individually before the convention opened today, anti-New Dealers criticized the national convention in Chicago, and expressed resentment against party control by big city bosses and Sidney Hillman of the CIO-PAC, whom they called the power behind the secenes. Pro-Roosevelt Democrats have been saying that the anti-New Deal Democrats are striving to elect Gov. Dewey, the Republican candidate. The antis answer that they favor Sen. Byrd of Virginia. The dirty linen of Chicago is being laundered.

Resentment against big city bosses who went hat in hand for instructions to Hillman during the Chicago convention was given a dramatic touch long before the convention was called to order when someone in a box unfurled a poster with pictures captioned "Our National Leaders." On it were sketches of President Roosevelt, Hillman, Earl Browder, Communist chief; National Chairman Hannegan, and one labeled "Hague" (with Kelly and Flynn, big city bosses).

A pro-Roosevelt delegate rushed to the front of the box, leaped up and snatched down the poster. After being photographed by the press, it was torn up. In another part of the hall, a copy of this poster was held up while a delegate made an exaggerated salaam. Much language was spilled, but no blood.

Sued for Alimony

MRS. ISABELLE DAUNORAS.

Edward Daunoras, 26, of 6354 S. Rockwell st., who is 6 feet 3 inches tall, charged his wife, Isabelle, 29, with cruelty in a divorce suit yesterday and asked Superior Judge John A. Bbarbaro for temporary alimony on the grounds that his wife caused him to lose his job in her father's foundry. The alimony petition was denied.

Edward Daunoras.

Daunoras, represented by Atty. Victor Frohlich, said he earned $100 a week as a metallurgist, and his wife made the same as office manager and secretary, at a foundry in Cicero owned by her father, Joseph Barsezske.

On Aug. 25, he said, his wife struck him, and they separated, after being married four years. Barsezske fired him after the separation, and notified his draft board, which reclassified him 1-A, Daunoras testified. Because of his draft status, he cannot get a job, he said. Judge Sbarbaro continued the hearing on the divorce to Sept. 18.

DROPS HANDBILL CHARGE AGAINST C. D. M'DOUGALL

Mayor Charles F. Clarke of Lake Forest personally interceded last night to clear Curtis D. MacDougall, Democratic nominee for congress in the 10th district, of charges of distributing campaign handbills in Lake Forest in violation of the suburb's ordinances.

Similar charges were also dropped in the cases of Harrison Hayford, 827 Elmwood av., Evanston, and Merrell R. Davis, 2131½ Ridge av., Evanston, MacDougall workers. MacDougall, Hayford, and Davis were arrested Sept. 4.

The three appeared last night before Police Magistrate Garrit M. Bax. Members of their families and friends also were present. When the case was called, Mayor Clarke stepped up. City officials of Lake Forest, he said, "consider the incident regretable." Lake Forest, he said, "has no desire to keep any candidate from expressing his views," and therefore wished to drop the case. This was all right with MacDougall, and Magistrate Bax dismissed the charges.

CIO EQUIPMENT UNION OPPOSES 'EQUAL RIGHTS'

Taking a definite stand against the so-called "equal rights" amendment to the Constitution now pending in congress, the national executive board of the United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers of America [CIO], at a meeting in the Stevens hotel, yesterday issued the following statement:

"Senators and congressmen who are concerned to maintain the rights of working women will vote against this amendment, which would sweep away overnight all the legislation so painfully adopted for the special protection of women workers.

"Laws setting rest periods and establishing decent wage and hour standards for women all go by the board. Not a single organization of working women has indorsed this amendment, outside of a group of publicity seekers known as the National Women's party. Now is the time to kill this reactionary movement once and for all, as the corresponding movement was killed many years ago in England."

"C" stands for Christmas, and C-day is when Santa Claus is booked to invade the war fronts of Europe and the South Pacific. It may be a bit early for us, here at home, to think about Christmas, but it is time to start sending those packages overseas.

MR. A. FRANKLIN

Mr. A. Franklin, manager of the Post Office News Book Shop, suggests you send your man-in-service several of the pocket-sized books he is now featuring. His selection offers a complete range of novels, non-fiction, mysteries and poetry. These handy, compact little books are great favorites with our fighting men, and are a sure way of saying "Merry Christmas" in G.I. jargon. Mr. Franklin has appropriate greeting cards, too, for you to enclose and will be glad to wrap the package for you, suitable for overseas mailing.

While you're in the shop, why not make yourself a present of one or two of the latest fiction releases? Among them are "Time Must Have a Stop" ($2.75), a compelling new novel by Aldous Huxley, and "I Hate Actors" ($2.50), Ben Hecht's hilarious mystery novel with a Hollywood setting.

If you prefer "nothing but the truth," there's "Russian Year" ($2.50), by Xavier Prusynski—a refreshing treatment of the "diary" idea by a young Polish diplomat who really knows his Russia, from the wheat fields to the Kremlin.

Here's a tip for students. This shop now has a large display of palladium point fountain pens, ranging in price from $1.00 to $1.50, and gold-tipped pens at $2.75 and up. Smooth-looking and smooth-writing, these pens are ideal for the classroom as well as home or office.

Stop in today at the friendly Post Office News Book Shop, conveniently located at 37 West Monroe. Other Handy Book & Gift Shops can be found in: Daily News Bldg.; Palmer House; Merchandise Mart; Board of Trade; Field Bldg.; Hyde Park (1457 E. Hyde Park).

PROBE COERCION IN GIFTS TO PAC CITIZENS' GROUP

Hillman Unit Spent $5,000 for Marcantonio.

New York, Sept. 12 [Special].—A spot check of contributors to the Citizens' National Political Action committee—an offshoot of Sidney Hillman's CIO-PAC—to determine whether coercion was used to get campaign funds, will be made early next week by a house committee investigating campaign expenditures, Rep. Anderson [D., N. M.], chairman, said today.

Rep. Anderson visited the CNPAC offices today with Representatives Sparkman [D., Ala.], Gathings [D., Ark.], and Andresen [R., Minn.] and John A. Caddell, attorney for his group, and W. B. McCollum, committee investigator.

The New Mexico Democrat said his committee had received reports that members of CIO unions and employers with contracts with CIO unions had been forced to make campaign contributions. He said the spot check would be made of the $1 contributions of CIO members to the PAC because the committee would be unable to check all of them. The PAC is asking 5 million CIO members to contribute $1 each.

$5,000 for Marcantonio.

At CIO headquarters, Anderson said he had received copies of reports filed with the clerk of the house, showing that the CIO-PAC had spent $29,000 in primary elections for house members. Of this total, $5,000 was spent in one congressional district—the 18th in New York—in behalf of Rep. Marcantonio, American Labor party member who won nominations of all three recognized parties. Marcantonio, who has been supported by the Communist party, has been listed by the Dies committee as a member of more than 100 Communist front organizations.

The report also disclosed the CIO-PAC had spent $2,000 in the unsuccessful campaign to defeat Rep. Fish for the Republican nomination in the 29th district in New York, and Sen. Nye [R., N. D.], both strong backers of nationalism.

Other PAC contributions included $5,000 to help Sen. Pepper [D., Fla.] and $3,500 to help Sen. Thomas [D., Okla.], both ardent New Dealers. Sen. Pepper is considered the leading interventionist in the senate.

Two Groups Have $55,000.

Anderson was told by C. B. Baldwin, deputy to Hillman, that the CIO-PAC had a balance of $23,000 and the NCPAC a balance of $32,000. Baldwin said the CIO had spent $16,000 for senate campaigns in addition to the $29,000 for certain house members.

Anderson said his committee also would check records of the Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc., and disclosed that the latter group had refused to furnish names of its contributors on the grounds its activities were not political and not within the jurisdiction of Anderson's committee. Anderson disclosed the constitutional government's committee's budget this year would be about $385,000. He said the house unit was interested in its fund raising campaign in Texas, where certain funds were retained in the state. In all other states, the contributions went directly to national offices, he said.

"We tried to find out why the campaign in Texas differed from that in other states and why it coincided with the unusually animated primary campaign," Anderson asserted.

DISTILLERY MEN WIN DELAY IN MICHIGAN PROBE

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 12 [Special].—Kim Sigler, special prosecutor for the one man grand jury investigation of state affairs conducted by Judge Leland W. Carr, announced a 10 day postponement of the examination scheduled for today of four Detroit distilleries executives charged with a 1941 legislative graft conspiracy.

Sigler said some of the respondents had obtained permission to leave the state on pressing business trips and had asked the hearing be delayed. Earlier Carr and Sigler had indicated they wished to expedite the hearing in order to make possible trial of the quartet if bound over at the September term here of Ingham county Circuit court.

The men named in the warrant are Emanuel M. Rosenthal, president, and Charles Layton, sales-manager of the Mohawk Liqueur corporation, and Abe H. Weinstein, president, and Samuel Schreirer, secretary-treasurer of the Arrow Liqueur corporation. They were accused, with Murphy, of conspiring to bring about a reduction in distillery license fees by legislative bribery.

NORMAN THOMAS SEES PERIL OF NEW WORLD WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12—Asserting the Dumbarton Oaks conference seems to be moving toward the formation of triple alliance imperialism, Norman Thomas, Socialist Presidential candidate, said today that such an arrangement will lead inevitably to a third world war.

"Considering the way that President Roosevelt, with the support of Mr. Dewey and John Dulles [Dewey's advisor] is moving, there will be another world war within the next two or three decades," he said.

Thomas said the major nations eventually will decide the issues "on the basis of their interests and their rivalries, and not on anything said at Dumbarton Oaks." He said he believed there was an excessive degree of secrecy—"something ominous"—about the conference.

G. E. Q. JOHNSON HITS U. S. RULE IN PRIVATE FIELDS

Every advance by government into fields formerly occupied by private enterprise should be closely scrutinized by the citizens, George E. Q. Johnson, former United States attorney in Chicago, told the American Daughters of Sweden at 122 S. Michigan av. last night.

"In these days of great commotion and confusion, when people are clamoring for intervention by government into many things," he said, "you may be certain of this: that every time the government undertakes to enter a field heretofore reserved to private enterprise, it will of necessity impose some limitation upon the acts of its citizens.

"The great and constant danger is that the executive department will encroach on the field which heretofore has been occupied by the judiciary."

Gambler Cleared in Quirk Slaying Booked Again

John Joseph Williams, 29, south side gambler who was acquitted on a charge of participating in the Martin [Sonny Boy] Quirk slaying, was arrested by detectives yesterday as he left a bowling alley near 63d st. and Kedzie av. His bartender companion, Walter Knapp, 33, of 5758 S. Laflin st., was with him at the time. Both men were booked on a disorderly charge and ordered to appear in South State Street court today. Williams, who said he was a clerk, was released on $100 bond, and Knapp on $50.

Affirm $105,200 Ward Printing Suit Dismissal

The Appellate court yesterday affirmed a Superior court decison dismissing a damage suit for $105,200 by Montgomery Ward & Co. against eight local and four international printing unions. The company charged they caused a delay in the printing of the 1942 Montgomery Ward catalog. The company alleged the unions refused to handle the work of R. R. Donnelley & Sons, which is an open shop firm.

NYE BARES PLOT TO BEAT HIM BY $110,000 OFFER

were Lynn Stambaugh, former national commander of the American Legion, and Rep. Burdick [R., N. D.], Langer's political protege. Stambaugh, beaten once, is campaigning as an independent for Nye's seat. Gov. John Moses is the Democratic senatorial candidate.

Nye's account given in the senate today said that De Witt, Williams, Andy Nomland, Oscar Winters, and Howard Shirey, all of Grand Forks, N. D., and Charles Gray, Bismarck, N. D., were in Washington a year ago en route to a disabled veterans' convention in New York.

While in the capital, they called on "one of their senators" to discuss veterans' legislation, Nye related. The senator, Nye continued, borrowed De Witt's veteran credentials with the promise that they would be returned in a few hours. That night, Nye went on, the senator came to the veterans' rooms at the Hamilton hotel in Washington, accompanied by Keenan.

Offers $110,000.

At the conference that followed, the senator [identified in Williams' testimony as Langer] and Keenan urged De Witt to run in the primary against Nye. Keenan was reported to have offered $10,000 on the spot, with $100,000 to be made available later.

Nye said that when Keenan was asked what could be his interest, as a Democrat, in a Republican primary fight in North Dakota, Keenan replied he was interested only in defeating Nye, adding, "We got to get him out of the senate."

"The North Dakota veterans," Nye said, "administered a verbal tongue lashing in response to the proposition to buy a candidate for the senate. After three hours, the party broke up but not before the former assistant attorney general had told the men they were making a mistake, that there could be a guarantee that some service men would be in the race for the senate.

"The story of resistance by these veterans wins my great admiration. The story is one of personal denial of 'easy money' by poor men and a story of jealous guarding of the good name of the service organization of which these six were members, the Disabled American Veterans.

New Deal "Contact Man."

"Mr. Keenan has been recognized in congressional circles as an administration contact man on Capitol hill. At one time it was speculated he would become a secretary to President Roosevelt. He resigned from the justice department in 1939 at which time newspaper accounts credited him with saying that tho he was retiring to private life, he hoped to remain useful to the Roosevelt administration."

Keenan was chief of the justice department criminal division in 1934 when Langer was tried on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct the orderly operation of an act of congress. Langer was accused of soliciting political contributions from federal employes who were paid out of federal relief act funds. After three trials, Langer was acquitted.

DESPONDENCY BLAMED FOR SUICIDE.

Mrs. Rose LeBurkien, 48, of 2718 N. Laramie av., who hanged herself Monday, committed suicide while despondent, it was found yesterday by a coroner's jury.

PACKING HOUSE UNION'S LEADER BACKS 4TH TERM

Herbert March, boss of the United Packing House Workers' union [CIO], pleaded for a fourth term for President Roosevelt in a talk last night before 150 members of the State, County and Municipal Workers' union, also of the CIO, in the Hamilton hotel. Chairs had been placed for 300 members, but only half were used.

March, who has been accused of communist activities, referred to Roosevelt as "our commander in chief." He also lauded "those associated with him."

The packing house union chief urged his listeners to get people to register to vote. It had been expected that he would also ask for financial contributions, but he did not do so.

NO-STRIKE PLEA STIRS STRIFE AT PARLEY OF UAW

Union Heads Assailed for Aid to PAC.

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 12.—An appeal for retention of labor's no-strike pledge by CIO President Philip Murray was followed at the CIO United Automobile Workers convention here today by a display of placards advocating rescission of the pledge.

The placards were hoisted by rank and file delegates seeking an end to UAW participation in the wartime labor truce on the grounds its continuance is sought by union "brass hats" to aid activities of the CIO's political action committee.

The demonstration drew boos from followers of UAW President R. J. Thomas, who went on record as favoring uninterrupted wartime production at the convention's opening session yesterday.

Murray Pleads for Unity.

Murray coupled his plea for the no-strike pledge with an appeal for unity within the UAW, asserting "unless we have unity our enemies will destroy us." He said the CIO is being attacked in the public press because it is backing President Roosevelt for reelection and added "America and its 130 million people need the CIO."

When Murray finished, UAW officials sought to take advantage of his unity plea and rush a no-strike resolution thru to immediate passage. Delegates voted, however, to defer action on the measure until tomorrow.

Interior Secretary Ickes addressed the convention tonight, assailing Gov. Dewey and hitting at critics of the campaign being waged by the PAC in support of President Roosevelt.

Indications that the fight over the no-strike pledge will be a bitter one was seen in an announcement by Robert Carter, 28, committeeman from local 651 of Flint, Mich., that he will oppose Thomas for the union presidency on a platform calling for its revocation. The election will be on the closing day of the convention.

Chicagoans in Fight.

Large "rank and file" support for elimination of the no-strike pledge appeared at caucuses.

Participants in one caucus opposing the pledge included delegates from local 6 of the Buick Motors Melrose Park plant, local 274 of the Dodge Chicago plant, and local 719 of the Electro-Motive plant at Brookfield, Ill. One of the largest locals represented was the Briggs Manufacturing company group of Flint, whose delegates have orders to "smash the no-strike pledge."

Rank and filers described international union officers as "our brass hats," and warned they would use every trick, "even to the shedding of crocodile tears," in pleas that "if the pledge is rescinded it will embarrass President Roosevelt and put the CIO-PAC in the sewer." Identified as brass hats were Thomas, Walter Reuther, and Richard Frankensteen, UAW vice presidents, and George Addes, UAW secretary-treasurer.

After-Hours Operations to Cost Club Its License

Mayor Kelly yesterday ordered the immediate revocation of the license of the Players club, on the third floor at 75 W. Randolph st., on the recommendation of Police Commissioner Allman and Capt. Thomas J. Duffy of the Central police station. The night club, owned by Theodore T. Joseph, was found operating after closing hours on Sept. 4. It had been closed Aug. 22, 1942, but the license was restored Oct. 29, 1942.

MINERS CHEER LEWIS ATTACK ON ROOSEVELT

Union Kicked in Face, Convention Told.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 12 (AP).—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, told the opening session of his union's convention today that President Roosevelt "publicly kicked every coal miner in the face" during the wage disputes last year and appealed to the UMW membership, in effect, not to vote for him in November.

Lewis referred to the President's radio appeal to the miners in the spring of 1943 as the "kick in the face," saying that Mr. Roosevelt denounced the men and their union after the policy committee had voted to call off the strike.

"You'll Get More of It."

"How did you like it?" Lewis asked the packed auditorium. "Perhaps you would like some more of it."

"No, no," came a cry from delegates.

"Well," continued the UMW chieftain, "vote him into office in November and I think you'll get some more of it next April." The current coal contract expires in April.

Lewis hammered on the theme the miners asked no special privilege but only equality of treatment.

"And yet," he said, "there are some who hold that the miner is a hewer of wood and a drawer of water and is not entitled to equality of treatment. I delight," he thundered, "in nothing more than to hurl that smug concept back into the faces of those who hold it, whether it be a coal operator, a politician, a Russian pants maker, or the President of the United States."

The "Russian pants maker" reference was his identification of Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and chairman of the CIO political action committee.

Attacks Autonomy Move.

Lewis criticized Ray Edmundson, Illinois leader of UMW autonomy forces, without mentioning him by name. He said the leader of the movement "got some money, put out some interviews, and set out to change the constitution, change the contract, and get my job. While all that is going on, just what am I supposed to be doing?"

This remark brought him the greatest ovation of his opening address. The crowd whistled, shrieked, and clapped its approval.

POLIO DEATHS RISE TO 4 IN CITY; 1 NEW CASE IS REPORTED

One death from infantile paralysis and one new case were reported in Chicago in the 24 hour period ended at noon yesterday, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, said.

There have been four deaths and 93 cases in the city this year, compared with 59 deaths and 591 cases a year ago at this date. Fourteen cases and one death were reported on Sept. 11 last year.

Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, county health director, said another infantile paralysis case was reported in the county yesterday, making a total of 51 with two deaths this year in the county outside of Chicago, compared with 158 cases and 16 deaths last year.

MAP WAR FUND DRIVE TO COVER 600 CITY FIRMS

Plans for carrying the solicitation of the community and war fund drive to the 1,200,000 employes of more than 600 major firms in the Chicago area were outlined yesterday at a meeting of representatives of management and labor in the Commonwealth Edison auditorium at 140 S. Dearborn st.

James A. Cunningham, vice president of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, presided as chairman of the carrier and utility section of the war fund's business division.

Speakers included Clarence D. Randall, general campaign chairman; Elmer T. Stevens, president of the fund; Thomas J. Murray, business representative of local No. 134 of the Electrical Workers' union [AFL], and Maurice McElligott, secretary of the Chicago Industrial Union council [CIO].

The drive, which starts Oct. 2, seeks to raise $12,980,000 for many war aid services and 187 health and welfare groups in the Chicago area.

Clifford S. Young, chairman of the fund's special gifts division, announced the appointment of Hamilton M. Loeb and Walter P. Paepcke as section chairmen in the special gifts division.

Short 10 Ounces of Gas; Fined $5 for Each Ounce

The 10 ounces of gasoline Louis Toll, owner of a filling station at 1150 Addison st., was short on a sale of five gallons, cost him $5 an ounce yesterday in License court. Judge Francis Borrelli fined him $50.

URGES U. S. BAR BACK CHANGE IN O.K'ING TREATIES

Would Let Majority of Both Houses Vote.

A resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to make possible approval of treaties by an affirmative vote of a majority of the house and senate, instead of by two-thirds of the senate as at present, was laid before the house of delegates of the American Bar association yesterday.

The resolution was introduced by J. R. Morford of Wilmington, Del., a member of the association's board of governors, and is believed to have been inspired by post-war considerations.

After a sharp battle in the house of delegates, approval was given to the revised draft of a resolution calling for creation of a world court backed by an international organization and executive council to preserve peace.

Oppose Super-State.

In adopting the recommendation the house urged earliest practicable establishment of the security agency while noting it opposed "as unnecessary and unwise the creation of any manner of super-government or super-state."

The committee which formulated the original proposal for the world court was continued in office and instructed to report back to the section on international law with a plan or plans for effectively suppressing acts likely to lead to breaches of international peace.

As advocated by the A. B. A. group, the powers of the international security agency would be subject to the limitation that any legislation it might enact could not be binding upon a member nation until the member nation had consented.

'Double Talk' Decried.

Cries of "double talk" and "weasel words" were heard when the resolution was laid before the house. These utterances were said to have been directed against what some objectors to the measure held was the inadequacy of the language employed in the draft.

The resolution was bitterly opposed by Floyd E. Thompson, a former justice of the Illinois Supreme court and a member of the association's board of governors.

Edward R. Burke, former senator from Nebraska and now president of the Southern Coal Producers' association, told the A. B. A.'s mineral section that Interior Secretary Ickes "aided and abetted" John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in engineering the portal-to-portal pay plan, after Lewis had called his miners on strike.

Vote to Hold Standard.

The National Conference of Bar Examiners held in conjunction with the A. B. A.'s section on legal education, voted not to relax educational standards for admission to the bar in behalf of returning soldiers and sailors.

The association is holding its 67th annual convention with sectional meetings in the Drake, Knickerbocker, and Stevens hotels and in the Medinah club.

APPOINT GROUPS TO LEAD CHICAGO V-DAY FESTIVITY

Activity committees to direct Chicago's V-Day celebration of the end of the war with Germany were appointed at a meeting of 98 civic, church, and business leaders called yesterday by Mayor Kelly in the city council chamber.

The coöperation of all organized groups in the city in a program intended to celebrate the victory day in a suitable spirit, without excessive orgies, was assured by representative speakers.

Holman D. Pettibone, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said many business houses and industries have made plans to close V-day and the following day. Churches will be accessible for thanksgiving services on V-day. Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commanding general of the sixth service command, was named chairman of the V-day executive committee.

Plants Another's Field; Court Forbids Harvest

Andrew Hoekstra of rural route 1, Blue Island, who planted five acres of corn in the spring on some land he did not own in Worth township, was enjoined by Circuit Judge Robert J. Dunne yesterday from trespassing to reap his harvest. The injunction was obtained by Louis B. Allen Jr., 5427 Blackstone av., who owns the land and who said he warned Hoekstra he was trespassing when he planted the seed.

Theodore Hulbert and his wife, Sarah, as they were arraigned yesterday on robbery charges.

"Jesse James was no bolder than you," Municipal Judge William V. Daly told Theodore Hulbert, 33, when he was arraigned yesterday with his wife, Sarah, 21, on charges of larceny and robbery. The judge held both to the grand jury and fixed Hulbert's bond at $10,000 and his wife's at $1,500. Hulbert, an ex-convict released from Leavenworth penitentiary last February after serving eight years on a charge of armed robbery, robbed Henry Nathan, 1239 Madison pk., of $52 at 625 S. Michigan av.

WAR TO RESTORE LAW TO WORLD, FAHY TELLS BAR

Several hundred members of the Federal Bar association were told yesterday by Charles Fahy, solicitor general of the United States, that the war in Europe and Asia is being fought for the restoration of law in the world. Fahy was the principal speaker at a luncheon meeting in the La Salle hotel.

Liberty, he said, is the bedrock of all "tolerable" law. The war had proved, he continued, that the world cannot be conquered by lawlessness; that the great victories now being won are won in the name of justice and law.

Fahy predicted that in the post-war era law would be more important than ever. He urged that its influence be extended to cover international affairs.

SEN. TAFT ASKS FREE PRESS AS PEACE PROVISION

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—A movement to foster world-wide freedom of news as one means of preventing future wars gained impetus here today with introduction of a senate resolution calling for a congressional declaration.

The resolution, by Sen. Taft [R., O.] would place congress on record in favor of international agreements establishing freedom of exchange of news as a part of any peace treaties. It is similar to a resolution introduced in the house last week by Rep. Fulbright [D., Ark.].

Both resolutions are consonant with a proposal reported to have been worked out by the state department which may be submitted soon to the other allied nations.

Taft's resolution stated, briefly, that absence of censorship and removal of any discrimination anywhere in the use of communication facilities would help maintain peace by nullifying effects of false propaganda and removing causes of misunderstanding. Chairman Connally [D., Tex.] of the senate foreign relations committee, said he intended to call hearings on the free press question at the first opportunity.

B-17 Gunner Back Home After 50 Missions in Italy

Sgt. James Korshak, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Korshak, 5133 Ellis av., has been granted a furlough after completing his 50th mission from a base in Italy as a radio operator-gunner on a B-17, his parents said yesterday. Sgt. Korshak completed his missions in less than six months. He attended Hyde Park High school and enlisted in the air forces in 1942. Korshak said his entire crew escaped injury. He will report to Miami, Fla., for a new assignment after his furlough.

OPA Objects, but Judge Will Visit Stock Yards

A visit by Federal District Judge Barnes to Swift & Co. might confuse rather than clarify the issues of an injunction suit filed by the OPA against Swift and three other large packers, Alex Elson, chief enforcement attorney of the regional OPA, declared yesterday. The OPA is seeking preliminary injunctions restraining the packers from selling pork with more fat than the OPA permits. Judge Barnes proceeded with plans for the visit, telling Elson he would give the results only the evidential weight to which they were entitled.

POLICE GUARD JACKSON BLVD. BRIDGE.

LEGION OF MERIT GIVEN WIDOW OF LT. COL. KADLEC

The Legion of Merit has been awarded posthumously to Lt. Col. Harry R. Kadlec of the corps of engineers, the war department announced yesterday. The presentation was made to his widow, Mrs. Nell B. Kadlec, 10940 State st. Col. Kadlec was construction quartermaster from Oct. 22, 1940, to Dec. 15, 1941, and was area engineer from Dec. 16, 1941, to May 1, 1943. The citation which accompanied the decoration said he had immediate and responsible charge of the construction of various plants for the manufacture of TNT and other munitions.

are you bothered by the smell of wet paint?

PAT. NO. 2,316,473

You know how air-wick almost magically kills the odors of cooking...freshens closets, bathrooms, smoky living rooms. Well, why not use it also to help eliminate the smell of fresh paint? Simply uncap the bottle, place it near the source of the paint odor, pull out the wick...and that's all. There's nothing to light...nothing to burn. If the odor is unusually strong, it will take more than one bottle of air-wick to eliminate it completely ...but even one bottle will lessen the irritation.

You will find air-wick at hardware, paint, grocery, drug, chain, variety and department stores.

*air-wick deodorizer and household freshener is fully protected by U.S. patent. air-wick is a trademark of Seeman Brothers, Inc., New York 13, N.Y., distributors.

There is only one air-wick. Remember air-wick is the only household product of its kind that contains activated chlorophyll

SCHOOL BOARD DELAYS HEARING TRANSFER PLEAS

Meeting Scheduled for Today Postponed.

While parents in all parts of the city prepared yesterday to storm a meeting of the board of education this afternoon to protest the schools' no transfer order, notice was sent out by Frank H. Landmesser, secretary of the board, that the meeting would not be held.

Dated yesterday, Landmesser's notice said that "due to the illness and absence from the city of certain board members, the board of education will not be able to hold a meeting tomorrow for lack of quorum."

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers may be drawn into the controversy as to whether Chicago transfer permits, allowing pupils to attend schools outside their home districts, shall be discontinued in accordance with the school board's edict of a few days ago.

May Involve State Group.

Mrs. Frank H. White, 1716 W. 103d st., president of the High School council of the PTA for districts 1 and 25, said a proposal that Mrs. Theodore Gleichman of Moline, state president of the congress, be asked to take action in the fight will be advanced at a meeting of district 1 today in the First Presbyterian church, 64th st. and Kimbark av.

A mass meeting to consider the school board's response to city-wide protests against the transfer order will be held tonight in the Morgan Park Methodist church, 110th st. and Longwood dr., Mrs. White said.

One hundred and fifty mothers attended a meeting at the Jewish Peoples Institute on the west side yesterday and all were urged to be at the board meeting today. Seven schools were represented.

Supt. William H. Johnson yesterday scotched any hope for a quick redistricting of the city's schools, as suggested by Mayor Kelly Monday. Johnson said it would take two years to accomplish this.

By last night 75 applications for transfer permits, accompanied by physicians' certificates of physical or mental disability, had been approved by Supt. Johnson. Proper physicians' certificates will not be questioned, he said.

Enrollment Under 1943.

Chicago public school enrollment gained more than 21,000 in the first week of classes, school officials reported yesterday, but the total was 11,000 short of last year's count. The figure last night was 359,571 compared with 338,110 the first day, Sept. 5.

The latest high school figure was 109,386, only 3,000 short of last fall's total, but the elementary school figure of 250,185 last night was about 8,000 under last fall's final count.

COURT ACQUITS MAN WHO SLEW ST. LOUIS KELLY

Wendell C. Lyons, 40, of 4848 Michigan av., Negro, was found not guilty yesterday in Judge Frank M. Padden's Criminal court of manslaughter charges in connection with the slaying on April 7 of J. Livert [St. Louis] Kelly, Negro labor leader, gambler, and political power in the south side Negro district.

Kelly was slain by Lyons, a brother-in-law of former Ald. Grant [3d], Negro, a candidate for the post of Democratic committeeman in his ward, in a political dispute in the yard of Forrestville school, 4419 St. Lawrence av. Kelly was supporting County Commissioner Edward M. Sneed, Negro, Grant's opponent. Lyon had complained that Kelly was defacing Grant posters.

After the shooting a coroner's verdict ordered that Lyons be held to the grand jury. Judge Padden held the trial without a jury.

Shoppers Can Pool Blue Tokens Sunday, OPA Says

With only four more days remaining in which blue tokens for processed food may be used singly, the office of price administration yesterday advised shoppers that, starting Sunday, they may pool them with other buyers to make groups of 10 tokens, which will continue to be accepted by retailers thru Sept. 30.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BEN MARKLAND

The GARDEN

GARDENERS whose early and midseason plantings of sweet corn are out of production should consider next year's crop of European corn borers in disposing of the old cornstalks. The corn borer larva is harbored in the stalks during the winter months, therefore the stalks should be completely destroyed. They should not be placed in a compost heap, as they are too coarse as compost and also because of the corn borer menace.

The best way of disposing of the old stalks is to put them in small piles where they will dry thoroly this fall. Gardeners having old fencing wire can make a rough platform a few inches above ground level to keep the stalks free of dew and permit the passage of air around the stalks to induce drying. After they are thoroly dry they should be burned.

September 12, 1944.

THE long drouth of the past summer had its effect on garden vegetables and field crops, and now it probably will reduce the amount of autumnal color to be displayed by oak and maple leaves during the next two months.

One of the major thrills of midwestern farm life is the sight of an oak woodlot in a full display of color ranging from orange to scarlet and a country road lined with maple trees loaded with leaves of yellow, pink, and red. Yet those who look forward to a brilliant display of color this season may be disappointed, because summer drouths have a way of "toning down" the succeeding autumn's leaf parade, regardless of frost action.

Jack Frost Ignored.

Botanists don't pay much attention to Jack Frost as a leaf painter, despite the popular belief that tree leaves are colored by frost. Leaves of many small trees, shrubs, and vines change color long before frosts strike, and the giant oaks, hickories, and maples would put on their autumn dresses with or without frost.

The sumacs along the farm roads already are scarlet, the Virginia creepers which wind around the oak trees and over the farm fences now are coppery red and the leaves of the shagbark hickories are turning color, even tho we have had no frost.

Summer an Influence.

More important than frost as an influence on autumn coloration is the summer weather. A healthy tree which has access to a plentiful supply of ground moisture will retain its green leaves until late in the season, then change color gradually and gaudily.

A tree weakened by summer drouth, on the other hand, is more likely to deteriorate rapidly in late summer and early fall, with very little leaf color resulting.

As yet few of the large trees have started their fall coloration process, but there are other natural signs which prove that autumn isn't far away. The New England asters, largest of our native wild asters, are showing their light purple and gold blossoms around the shores of the farm ponds.

Most Common of All.

The prairie sunflower, perhaps the most common of all wildflowers at this time of the year, is on display in waste places alongside every country road. The thornapples are red on the hawthorne trees, grapes are ripening in the farm vineyard, and wild grapes which clambered over the rail fences have been made into jelly in the farm kitchen.

As the nights become cooler, more of these symbols of late summer and early fall will provide color for the farm landscape.

SOLDIER'S WIFE DENOUNCED AS 'BOOZE PACKER'

Disorderly conduct charges against Mrs. Doris Cramer, 31, wife of an army private in Australia, were continued to Sept. 36 by Judge Frank E. Donoghue yesterday in Women's court. Mrs. Cramer, who lives at 309 Winchester av., was arrested with Sam Edelman, 38, of 432 Oakdale av., Saturday night. They admitted that they had engaged a room together. Detective Leo Kelly of East Chicago av. police said both were intoxicated.

Judge Donoghue called the woman "another booze packing mama" for picking up strange men while her husband is overseas. Her two children, Donald, 13, and Gerald, 11, are in Juvenile home pending investigation. Their mother will undergo treatment at the Chicago Intensive Treatment hospital.

Here's the recipe below! We call it a $2,000,000 "dream of a drink"—because that's what Fleischmann invested in grains, skill and research before we released one golden bottle of this rich, luxurious, straight bourbon whiskey. We make it in limited amounts. We have to—it's so smooth and delicious!

FIRST, GET FLEISCHMANN'S BOND

THEN DO THIS!

1. In a mixing glass containing ice cubes put one dash of Angostura bitters.
2. Add ¼ oz. of sweet vermouth and 1½ oz. of delicious Fleischmann's BOND.
3. Stir. Strain into chilled 4-oz. glass. Garnish with Maraschino cherry. Then close your eyes—and drink!

FBI ROBBERY SUSPECT HELD IN $5,000 BAIL

Federal bureau of investigation agents arrested Warren McFeely, 26, of 1734 Huron st. yesterday and charged him with conspiring with three other men in stealing $1,557.88 in a holdup of the North West Federal Savings and Loan association, 4865 Irving Park rd., on Aug. 31. He was arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, the case was continued until Sept. 19, and bond was set at $5,000.

Spencer J. Drayton, FBI head here, said McFeely provided a hideout for the robbers. Two of the men, W. Theodore Jagiello, 27, of 1317 Haddon av., and Leonard Brzezinski, 20, of 2433 N. Harding av., were arrested Sept. 2 and held to the grand jury Sept. 3 under bond of $15,000.

GAS MURDERER DOOMED TO DIE BY HIGH COURT

Alvin Krause, 29, sentenced to be executed Friday in the county jail for murder in a currency exchange robbery in June, 1943, was denied a writ of error and supersedeas by the Illinois Supreme court yesterday.

A jury of 10 women and two men found him guilty of murdering Walter Bush, 50, of 5347 S. Sawyer av., in a currency exchange at 5151 S. Kedzie av.

He previously had been convicted in February, 1943, of the poison gas murder of Miss Agnes Olson, 54, cashier in an exchange at 311 N. Pulaski rd. An all woman jury sentenced Krause and an accomplice, Edward Damiani, 28, to life imprisonment.

A Campaign to the Wage Earner Millions Who Hold the Power to Win the Peace

Jobs after the War?...Why ask me?

You've got the answer to jobs after the war. You and every other American worker.

Believe it? Listen. Right now you're welding steel for tanks. A good job. Plenty of overtime when you want it—and sometimes when you don't. You're good at your job. You earn what you're paid. But you've got that job because someone wants what you can make...wants it bad enough to pay cold cash for it.

War Bonds Today, are JOB Bonds Tomorrow!

Trouble is—that someone is WAR. And maybe some day quick—if we're lucky, if we sweat and fight plenty—there'll be no war. And no war jobs either.

That's the time when you stop welding tanks and start welding cars, and refrigerators, and washers—on the one condition that you and your neighbors have saved up enough cash to buy them.

Why you? Why your neighbors? Because you're the only kind of American there's enough of. All the cars and washing machines the bosses could buy wouldn't keep a factory running a week. But the cars and washers you and millions like you could buy would keep factories roaring from Pittsburgh to Portland.

Today you're making good money. Dig down and buy War Bonds!

For every three dollars you put into War Bonds now you'll get back four dollars. You'll spend those four dollars for things you want. And as men get paid for making things you want they will have money to buy what you make. Then you will get paid. You can keep the ball rolling.

Yes, that's how war dollars today go to work in peacetime making jobs for you and your neighbors. The more dollars you save now to spend later—the longer will be the peacetime payrolls and the fatter the peacetime pay envelopes.

Think it over. Sure it's tough to go without—especially now when you've got it to spend. But it's the one sure way—not only to win the war—but to win the things we want afterwards...the homes we want...the America we want.

In the hands of America's Wage Earner millions rests America's future. They—only they—can make prosperity—or prevent it. · Their billions of war dollars are the only source of sufficient spending money to start peacetime factories rolling and keep peacetime payrolls big. · Through ads like this in its own 8 magazines and in large newspapers throughout the country, America's largest Wage Earner Publisher is winning America's Wage Earner millions to the realization they and only they can keep America—themselves—prosperous after the war.

But advertising faces the big responsibility of reaching—and tapping—that vast reservoir of Wage Earner buying power!

The slogan "War Bonds Today Are Job Bonds Tomorrow" or any complete advertisement in this campaign is freely offered to other advertisers. Address Macfadden Publications, Inc., 205 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

MAINE.

Of course Maine is expected to go Republican and of course a Republican victory in Maine in September gives no assurance that the nation will elect a Republican President in November. The thing to watch in a Maine election is the swing toward one party and against the other. It is precisely for that reason that the Republicans have been and will continue to be immensely heartened by the results of Tuesday's election. They show a clear trend toward the Republican party and against the New Deal and the Communists.

For governor the Democrats polled 14,000 fewer votes than their candidate got two years ago. The Republicans, on the contrary, gained 12,000.

In the congressional race in the 1st district the Democrats were weaker by 7,000 than in 1942. The Republican gain of 9,500 exceeded the Democratic loss.

Or take a longer perspective. Between 1938 and the Presidential year of 1940 the Republicans showed a loss of 2,000 votes in this district. The Democrats in the same interval showed a loss of 8,000. Between 1942 and the Presidential year of 1944 the Republicans showed a gain of 9,500 and the Democrats a loss of more than 7,000. Those figures say that when Willkie was the candidate his party in September failed to poll as many votes in the 1st district as it had two years before, but when Dewey was the candidate his party polled 9,500 more votes than it did two years previously. The Democratic losses are continuing at about the former rate, but this time many Democrats, instead of abstaining from voting, are voting Republican.

The same story, varying only in detail, comes from the other two congressional districts in the state. What it all means is that the foreign and domestic policies of the New Deal are increasingly unpopular. It means also that the activities of the Communists and their CIO political action groups have actually been a liability to the New Deal. It means, finally, that the American people are determined to preserve their Republic and maintain its independence.

A lot can happen between now and November, but it already begins to look as if the king's second minister is on his way out. He was conferring with the king's first minister at Quebec at the moment the citizens of Maine were marching to the polls to register their adverse judgment on his works. Evidently nothing that has happened in Europe or in America in recent weeks and months has altered the clear trend against Mr. Roosevelt that has been apparent in all sections of the country. On the contrary, rather, the Republican gains are increasing. The swing in Maine is a portent of great promise.

CONGRESS LOOKS AHEAD.

The summary of the findings of the special committee of the house on post-war economic policy is encouraging. Here is a committee composed of ten Democrats and eight Republicans, but it was able to report unanimously on a program of action which, for much the most part, merits approval. There is no lack of good sense in congress. Left to itself, it would have made few of the blunders from which the country has suffered for nearly a dozen years.

At almost every significant point the committee offers an anti-New Deal program. The congressmen are against deficit spending. They favor tax reduction, but accept the plain implication of the enormous federal debt. Taxes, they say, must remain high for many years to come, but they can be readjusted to encourage the expansion of business and industry and thus provide more jobs and more wealth to be distributed among the people.

The congressmen favor the removal of war time controls on production and consumption. The report speaks of a gradual discontinuance of the various rationings when the emphasis might better have been placed upon prompt action, with a view to stimulating the flow of goods and therefore preventing inflation; but at least the desire of the left-wingers for the retention of the controls forever is rejected.

Republicans and Democrats were able to agree on a moderate tariff policy and could join in a demand for the end of currency manipulations and international trade discriminations. It will not be as easy to carry these principles into practice as to state them, but the agreement indicates that the will to achieve these goals is present. It is worth noting that if the work of the conference at Bretton Woods is approved by congress none of these plans for stimulating a healthy international trade is likely to be of much value, for the Bretton Woods agreement imposes no penalties on foreign nations which debase their currencies.

The congressional report gives all the evidence that may be required to show that there is enough good sense and good will in congress to carry the country thru the difficult years that lie immediately ahead. The great danger is that Mr. Roosevelt, if elected to a fourth term, will declare that he has another mandate to move the country toward communism. He will trot out a demobilization crisis to match all the other crises and emergencies that have been used to stampede congress into action which the great majority of its members in their hearts disapprove.

FREE PRESS EVERYWHERE.

The state department has drafted a proposal calling for all nations to join in guaranteeing world freedom of news as a means of keeping the peace. The plan, which is to be submitted to allied nations soon, and presumably would be imposed as part of the peace in conquered countries, would grant to reporters the right to gather news wherever it develops and transmit it out of any country without hindrance. Each country would permit unhindered receipt of news from all other countries, and communication tolls would be lowered to encourage the exchange of information between countries.

The idea behind this plan is sound, and is founded on the fact that had the axis dictators not controled news sources and dissemination in their countries they would not have been able to poison the minds of their citizens with lies, propaganda, and half truths, or conceal their purposes from their neighbors. Without the propaganda machines, the dictators could not so easily have mobilized their people for war.

The difficulties confronting any international free press agreement arise, not so much from the job of imposing that condition on defeated peoples, but from the task of establishing a free press in all of the allied countries—in Russia, for example. Hitler and Mussolini learned how to control the German and the Italian press from the Communists. The Russians never have enjoyed a free press and their form of government would have to be altered and thoroly revised in order to establish any real press freedom there.

SOME SENSE IN TRACTION AT LAST.

Mayor Kelly, apparently conceding that there is no immediate hope of forcing thru the plan for unification of Chicago's three big traction systems under municipal ownership, has approved a report submitted to the city council by Philip Harrington, city commissioner of subways and superhighways. This plan calls for an about-face in the city's traction policy. It would require the elevated and surface lines to purchase 15 million dollars' worth of new equipment for the benefit of car riders, would withdraw the city's offer to purchase the properties for 85½ million dollars, and would wipe out the 1941 traction unification ordinance. The idea is eminently sensible, but the city employes who drew up the plan should not be given credit for originating anything. The Illinois commerce commission appointed by Gov. Green has been years ahead of them in almost every detail.

The elevated system has operated under a deficit for 20 years and is bankrupt. The street car company went into receivership, but it has always earned enough to meet its underlying bonds and has amassed 24 million dollars in cash for renewals and new equipment when such things can be purchased. The courts have held the surface lines in receivership while Mayor Kelly and others have been trying stubbornly to bludgeon this company and the elevated into unification with the Chicago Motor Coach company, the whole system to be purchased by and operated by the city.

The picture has been complicated by franchises which have expired and have not been renewed; by the question of how the new subway system could be incorporated in the setup; and by the fact that stockholders of the surface lines have not accepted the purchase price offered by the city. Traction experts have pointed out that the amalgamation of the bankrupt and debt ridden elevated system with the solvent surface lines under municipal ownership might result in ruin for both, or in a municipal subsidy such as New York City enjoys, where the taxpayers kick in 8 cents for every nickel fare dropped in the turnstiles.

Not one single car rider will get a smoother, faster ride because of financial unification of the transit companies, whether under municipal or corporate management. The kind of unification that means something to the public comes in the form of a universal transfer system such as the one established some time ago by the Illinois commerce commission, which ought to be extended still further.

The surface lines made a start toward getting new equipment long before the Democratic city administration gave any serious consideration to that problem. The surface lines already have received the first of 30 new and bigger buses, some of the 270 now on order. The company is buying this equipment not because of any plan the Kelly administration has announced but because the commerce commission ordered it to buy 200 modern street cars, 100 trolley buses, and 100 gasoline buses back in April, 1942, when the 1 cent increase in fare was approved.

As far back as 1939 the commerce commission ordered the elevated company to buy 36 million dollars' worth of new cars and equipment, but lack of funds made it impossible to comply, altho the order still is in effect. The mayor's new ultimatum won't accomplish anything unless he is more successful than the commerce commission in showing the bankrupt company how to rustle up the cash.

The only sensible course now is for the city council to approve Mr. Harrington's plan and put it into immediate effect. This will give the council the position of coöperating with the commerce commission for the improvement of the Chicago car rider's lot instead of obstructing and hamstringing all improvements.

It cannot be repeated too often that the only way to bring about any real improvement in local transportation in Chicago is thru new and improved facilities. If this truth has at last been accepted by the city authorities a better day may be dawning for the car riders.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Ber. U. S. Pat. Office

A RIVER IN WINELAND.

This column's last look at the maps of the western front, as it moves eastward, found American troops near Trier, across the German border, viewing the valley of the Moselle. They were overlooking a region whose wines have gladdened dinner tables for centuries. Along that little meandering river and its small tributaries, the Saar and Ruwer, the culture of the Riesling grape in hillside vineyards is the chief interest of the people. From Trier to Koblenz is the country of the light-hearted and fragrant Moselle wines.

There are about 30 wine-making districts in this valley, divided into many small holdings, each with its own special bottling. German wine labels give the type or district, the vineyard, the quality, and the maker, in that order, with the date of the vintage. Here are a few of the district names of Moselle wines, always given first on the label: Bernkastel, Erden, Graach, Piesport, Trittenheim, Zeltingen.

Lightness, delicacy, and flowery bouquet are the characteristics of the Moselles. Wine experts can write a graceful line of tosh when riding their hobby with a few glasses under their belts, but the Moselles, we think, have not been overpraised, even in such utterances as this:

"It may not be a wine for philosophers and saints, not a wine to inspire some ripe theory of the universe or to reconcile the contradictions of existence. Rather it is a wine of love, and romance, and thoughtless youth, free from that sickly sentimentality to which some other German wines tend." ["The Romance of Wine," by H. Warner Allen, 1932.]

The most famous and costly Moselle is Bernkasteler Doktor, so called because several centuries ago the owner of the vineyard said to a sick friend who could not find a physician to cure him, "Here is the doctor for you"—and handed him a bottle. [The patient recovered, of course.] Its vintage of 1921, only 50 dozen bottles, was regarded as such a marvel that it became an item of princely luxury. In 1932 it was listed in London at £6 a bottle. On an American wine list of 1938 we have seen the Moselles begin with a Piesporter at $18 a case, and end with a Bernkasteler Doktor of 1935 at $120 a case.

UNSUNG HERO.

What little known newspaper man
  Gets up each day at four?
Who's never mentioned in a tale
  About newspaper lore?
Whose work is not with ink or press?
  Who never "does a story"?
Whose job is 'most entirely grief
  Without a drop of glory?
I'll tell you if you haven't guessed,
  Or did you know before?
He's the man who gets the boys
  Who get The Tribune to your door!
"My paper's late" . . . "Mine didn't come"
  . . . "Mine got all over mud!"
"Please tell the boy he wakes me up;
  He throws it with a thud,"
"My Johnnie won't be down today;
  I knew you wouldn't mind."
Who'll carry Johnnie's papers now,
  With boys so hard to find?
Yes, troubles bubble doubly and
  You don't know half the score;
Speak kindly to the hero who Gets up each day at four!  Casual.

The opening of school brings back many fond memories: The joyous shouts as I jumped out of bed on crisp September mornings . . . the insistence that my neck and ears be well scrubbed . . . the unhurried putting on of my favorite Little Lord Fauntleroy suit in the nice, warm kitchen while mother packed my lunchbox with cookies and candy . . . the pleasant mile and a half walk over a broad, paved highway to the large, comfortable schoolhouse at the Corners . . . the melodic chiming of the school bell.

Memories of days beyond recall: The beautiful and considerate teacher . . . the simple lessons . . . the easily dismissed thoughts of fishing or a romp with old Spot . . . the distinguished, pointed cap and seat of honor I occupied in the corner . . . the enjoyable late afternoons I spent in class after every one else had gone home.

Happy days, carefree days, school days: Endless lessons . . . tormenting exams . . . stubbed toes . . . quarrels . . . disappointments . . . lickings and childish heartaches. What wouldn't I give for their return!

[Draft, military, and veterans' questions are answered here or by mail if a stamped envelope is sent. Personal advice and assistance are given veterans by appointment.]

D. I. S. writes: "Since my husband returned from service it seems that he is a nervous wreck and has already had a dozen jobs but gets restless and quits. Under the G. I. law, is he entitled to compensation? How many times can the veteran make a claim under this law?"

If your husband was discharged from service under conditions other than dishonorable and had 90 days or more of active service after Sept. 16, 1940, or was discharged by reason of a service connected disability, he qualifies even tho he has not held a job since leaving service. The veteran must, of course, report his unemployment to the nearest office of the United States employment service. In the first 90 days after leaving service a veteran may draw up to $20 per week for 24 weeks if unemployed, and each month of his service entitles him to four weeks of additional unemployment compensation if it is needed until the 52 weeks' total is exhausted. A veteran may file any number of times during the two year period after leaving service and receive compensation if suitable employment is not found for him.

NUTRITION AND SUNLIGHT IN RHEUMATIC FEVER.

THE importance of rheumatic fever, and its all too frequent complication — heart disease— justifies an aroused public interest in this malady. What we want to know is how to live in order to avoid the infection.

As has been pointed out in earlier discussions, the condition is more rife in districts where damp days are common, where sunshine is less, and where chilling of the body is likely to be encountered. Let's look at the map. The ailment is prevalent in the New England states, as well as New York and Pennsylvania. As we journey west and south, we will observe fewer sufferers. Nevertheless, residents of mountainous areas [Colorado and Utah] are not immune.

What about the tropics? Does the illness manifest itself in regions where the daily mean temperature is elevated? Yes. India, for example, shows a fairly large incidence. But more cases develop during the cold, dry months than during the season of the monsoon rains.

Careful studies indicate that localities supplied generously with sunlight, where the diet of the population is rich in protein, have the lowest percentage of victims. Poverty is likewise a factor but this no doubt is reflected chiefly in poor nourishment. In other words, where milk, butter, eggs, and fresh vegetables are plentiful—and Old Sol is allowed to form an intimate acquaintance with the skin—little difficulty is experienced.

We are all familiar with the fact that, for the past generation, tuberculosis has been decreasing sharply. The same may be said of rheumatic fever altho the rate of decline is not so sharp. The answer undoubtedly lies in better nutrition, including a full complement of vitamins, and suitable protective clothing.

Apparently sunshine is the best governing agent we have in establishing normal mineral balance within the body. Furthermore, we realize that ultraviolet manufactures vitamin D in the skin. If, in addition, butter is procurable, we will have excellent sources of both A and D. In such circumstances, rheumatic fever will be rare.

Some one has suggested that overheated houses, baked air, etc., are conducive to throat and sinus troubles. If so, they have little influence upon rheumatism. The American Indian is about as likely to encounter arthritis as is the inhabitant of a steam heated home.

We may conclude that, while climate has an effect, it is not the only element. More depends upon good food and maintaining resistance at a high level. If light rays are available, those who live in cold and damp sections will seldom exhibit this infection. This means that if sunlight cannot be taken advantage of the year round, we can safeguard ourselves by using artificial ultraviolet as a preventive against this efficiency destroying disease.

Heart cripples are just as handicapped as are those who have acquired rigid joints. This is one reason why we give cod liver oil to youngsters in the winter time. This remedy is equally useful for adults. We recognize that vitamin D is a potent antidote against various disorders of metabolism—chiefly rickets and rheumatism.

PERNICIOUS ANEMIA.

V. O. W. writes: What are the symptoms of pernicious anemia?

REPLY.

The blood count drops in both hemoglobin and red cells, the skin becomes pale, and digestive symptoms and weakness appear. Later, the nervous system may become involved. Prompt treatment will not only save life but many sufferers will be restored to normal. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this disorder.

SWELLING.

F. R. writes: Do edema and dropsy mean the same thing? What is the cause?

REPLY.

The conditions are similar, if not identical. Excess fluid within the abdomen is called "ascites." If within the chest, the term "effusion" is employed. Causes are numerous. See our discussion which appeared Aug. 22, 1944, on nutritional edema [too little protein].

BACK AND LEG PAIN.

N. N. writes: What is sciatic rheumatism?

REPLY.

This is a common name for lumbago or muscular rheumatism. Pain originating in the lower back, which travels down the thigh, may come from pressure, inflammation of the sciatic nerve, or trouble within the muscles [fibrositis]. This latter condition may follow infection, for example, sore throat.

Test Your Facts

Below each of the following questions are listed three answers. Make your choice, see the correct answers below, and mark your score:

1. A scalene triangle has [a] All sides equal. [b] All sides unequal. [c] Two sides equal.

Front Views & Profiles

By MARCIA WINN

Memory Tapestry of Guam.

[Editor's note: This was written on Guam for this department by S/Sgt. Ward Walker, former Tribune reporter now with the marine corps as a combat correspondent.]

Dawn of D-day—and delicate threads of hell streaking in the dark sky from the fleet's guns to a target we couldn't see . . . the constant swelling blast of the shells . . . the sound, the color, the destruction . . . the tough little gunner's mate who helped a marine fix his pack and shook his hand at H-hour . . . his "Good luck, mate," a rough benediction.

The young marine lieutenant, worried and paternal, who studied the beach in the early morning light and kept moving about the boat, checking his men, his face a study in concern when the machine guns searched close, when the shells dropped on the stern . . . the helpless blasphemous cry of the "alligator's" helmsman when the craft hung on a trap 10 yards out . . . his frantic and finally successful effort to back off.

The mind's failure to record scrambling across the sand of Asan beach, up the bank, and into the still hot and crumbling concrete ruins of the village . . . the shock and anger when the sniper's bullets followed that mad dash across the rice paddies.

The unbelief on the face of the kid when the bullet found his stomach and he crumpled into the red clay of the hillside, the battle over for him . . . the cool, methodical work of the corpsman under fire, his calm certainty he wouldn't be shot, and his weak grin from the shelf of an ambulance jeep two days later as he lay there, shot thru both arms.

The blessed comfort of the earth in the lonely night when the shells come whispering their evil chant . . . the cool mud drawing your body closer, wrapping its protective mantle about you in the foxhole . . . the earth tortured by the shells which scar it, rocking and twisting . . . the incredibly lonesome calls of the wounded and their buddies' "Corpsman! Corpsman!" . . . the glory of the dawn creeping over the towering bluffs and silencing the enemy batteries.

The gray, exhaustion-ridden faces of the lads in the line . . . five days and nights of action, and then, "We're moving up, men." . . . They did, thru fields of death . . . the more than 2,000 Japs grotesquely strewn over the level fields beyond X-ray ridge . . . gullies choked with their bodies, each clearing dotted with the pitiful clumps . . . the thick, evil smell of mass death lying like a blanket over the earth.

The incredible beauty of the naval guns at midnight seen from a foxhole on the ridge, the orange flare of the muzzle blast, the huge red projectiles that seem to crawl over the black velvet of the sky to meet you. . . . They pass only a few yards overhead, their train-like rumble a fearsome thing. . . . The night is lighted, and the earth shakes from their blast.

The marine who, hand clapped over a red hole in his dungarees and side, staggered along the ridge road in the moonlight with word of a Jap breakthru . . . the ominous clicking of bolts in the foxholes near-by as rifles were readied . . . the hysterical chatter of machine guns ahead as they wiped out the breakthru . . . the smell of cordite on the night wind.

The day when the line sensed the Japs were thru . . . the liberated Chamorros, tearful and proud, thousands of them—ragged, thin, haunted by nearly three years of brutality, yet their heads high and smiles mixed with their tears, for the marines had come back.

Guam, an ill-shaped peanut of an island below the wingtip . . . a new marine cemetery down there, its white crosses sparkling in the sunlight . . . the loaded hospital ship in the harbor. . . . But a free Guam, another springboard for America. . . . And soon its roads will be smooth, the shell wounds in the red clay will heal—while the waves of war wash another shore.

THE MEAT PACKERS EXPLAIN.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Many farmers, like the one who wrote in The Voice of the People Aug. 21, from Mendon, Ill., have had difficulty in understanding why a good to choice grade hog weighing 265 pounds, which was within the support price range [180-270 pounds] established by the government, sold for a higher price than a heavier hog of the same quality, say, one which weighed 275 pounds.

The meat packing industry had nothing whatever to do with the establishment of support prices and a meat packer was in a position where he could not pay less than the support price for hogs within the support weight and quality classification regardless of the value of the product therefrom. Hogs outside of the established weight limits were sold under competition based on supply and demand. It should also be noted that the OPA ceiling prices of wholesale pork cuts are lower on certain heavier cuts.

The farmer in this instance complains that despite the tremendous amounts of meat in storage he was unable one week to buy a pound of ground pork at a local market. It is true that government owned meat stocks in storage were relatively large and most of this government stock was of the more desirable cuts of pork. Meat packers could not be held responsible for this situation.

This farmer implies that the packers are a monopoly. Over 2 million dressed weight pounds of livestock are slaughtered annually in each of 800 establishments in the United States. Then, there are some 3,000 additional packing plants producing more than 200,000 pounds annually, and about 23,000 small or local butchers. Each plant is openly competing in the open market for sufficient livestock to provide for its needs for government contracts and civilian needs. Obviously, there can be no monopoly.

The farmer writes: "Give the American farmer a fair share of the profits that are being made from this war. . . ." The meat packing industry obtained in 1943, after taxes, a net income of but 1.1 per cent on sales. This figure included income derived from investments and other sources, as well as straight sales. These earnings were smaller than those of any other major industry, and were based on total sales of more than 6 billion dollars worth of products. The American Meat institute will gladly attempt to explain these and other points to any farmer who will write us.

THEY SHOULD SOLICIT SIDNEY HILLMAN.

St. Charles, Ill., Aug. 30.—I have just listened to a commentator, speaking for the United States treasury department, imploring us to buy just one more war bond. How about the 6 million dollar slush fund now being raised by the CIO for the coming campaign? Would that not buy a lot of war bonds?

LILLIAN STOLL.

WANTS STRAPS IN BUSES.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—In reply to the plea of the bus driver who wants passengers to move into the bus instead of gathering around the entrance, why don't they provide straps whereby smaller passengers [for we are not all 6-footers] may keep their balance?

A WORKING PERSON.

"EXCESS BAGGAGE."

Bainbridge, Ga., Aug. 27.—Any number of us, men over 38 and some over 40 years of age, are pretty well exhausted in this army of youngsters, yet we are unable to return to civilian life because apparently we are a number on a book. We keep the medics busy and without a question are unable to continue the pace with the youngsters still arriving in camp. It appears now as tho we just have to die of old age or collapse from exhaustion.

Why is it not possible to release all soldiers over 38, and thus simplify the months and months of demobilization the officials speak about? Place us in the reserves, available for call if necessary. From our knowledge there are so many now in service they and we are just excess baggage. In civilian life we could at least be of service and not a burden on the government pay roll.

Another item worth notice. It appears that prior to discharge all men will be returned to a reception center, thus adding to the now overburdened travel situation and expense. Every station has a medical and quartermaster division. Why is it not possible to be discharged directly from camp, thus eliminating travel? This would also aid in eliminating an unnecessary waste of man power and money.

PRIVATE.

NEW DEAL PENSIONS.

Ripon, Wis., Sept. 2.—Willard Edwards' story in which he tells of one New Deal ex-congressman who retired on retirement pay of $180 monthly puzzles me. When I retired it was at the maximum pay of $100 monthly. This figure was arrived at by multiplying 1/40 of the average pay for five years [not exceeding $1,600] by the number of years of service [not exceeding 30]. On that basis an employe with 18 years' service would retire on 360 monthly. The 5 per cent deduction for the retirement fund is made on the basic annual pay, but employes earning more than $1,600 all receive the same retirement pay.

It seems that if the ex-congressman receives more than that amount it must be under some other law than the civil service retirement law.

F. E. TINKHAM.

NO TWO-PANTS SUITS.

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 6.—I have looked in vain for some comment on the asinine restriction allowing only one pair of trousers with each suit. It cannot be to save wool, for you may have any number of extra pairs, only they must not match the original suit.

J. L. WICKMAN.

TENANT'S USE OF YARD.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—What rights do a tenant's children have to play in the yard?  G. N.

The tenant and his children are entitled to a reasonable use of the yard. What is reasonable depends on the circumstances.

MATTOON'S 'GAS' ATTACKS CALLED MASS HYSTERIA

Investigation Casts Doubt on Prowler Theory.

BY CHARLES BALLENGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 12—State Police Capt. Harry Curtis, in charge of eight squads of state police sent here in an attempt to catch a night prowler believed to be spraying a nauseating gas thru bedroom windows, said today "the whole thing is a mistake" and termed it a "perfect example of the working of mass psychology in which rumors of a gas spraying prowler, spread by a community whispering campaign, blossomed into a mass hysteria."

Capt. Curtis told reporters in the office of Police Chief C. K. Cole he had investigated all cases of reported attacks of the "gas maniac" and had failed to find reliable evidence that any prowler sprayed any gas, which 35 persons said caused them nausea and temporary partial paralysis.

Considers It Coincidence.

"I am inclined to believe a prowler may have been seen in some of the cases, but merely by coincidence," said Curtis. "No one, however, actually saw a prowler spraying gas thru windows and the idea of the prowler undoubtedly just grew with rumor."

Curtis said he believed gas fumes were present in many cases, but he attributed them to several causes.

"In the northwest part of the city, where most of the cases were reported, the fumes could have been from carbon tetrachloride used by the Imperial Diesel Engine company for cleaning greasy surfaces," he said.

Fumes Traced to Nail Polish.

"In another case, the reported victim lived adjacent to a bicycle shop which used a strong smelling paint remover. In one case in the western part of the city, we found a bottle of spoiled nail polish emitting strong fumes near the window of a person who reported being attacked."

Curtis said his eight squads, comprising two men to a squad, equipped with mobile two way radios, would continue to patrol the city tonight.

INSTALMENT XXXIX.

FAMILIAR VOICE.

"So you know about Gen. Bachmann?" Carol asked quickly. "I'm not supposed to talk about it."

"Then I won't ask you," Steve Barlow said. "But I know the whole story and I must say that a woman who could do a thing like that and then proved able to refrain from talking about it, deserves a dozen medals."

"I can do without medals, thanks. I've got a whole skin, and that's a lot more comfortable to wear."

"But a promotion?"

"I was offered a job in intelligence this morning, but I'm not taking it."

"Why?"

"Because this success was just a fluke," she explained. "I knew that a definite thing existed and I went after it and got it. Which does not prove that I'd ever be valuable to intelligence again. But I am a trained nurse. That's work I can be relied on to do and it's going to be needed more and more. I'll be back on the job in two days' time."

There was a little silence while he sat with bent head. And when he looked up again all the love and tenderness which he had been holding in check shone in his eyes.

"You're a great girl, Kansas," he said quietly. "I hope you are going to marry me?"

"I can't, Steve. I'm truly sorry, but I can't!"

"You could still go on with your nursing, even if you married me. I haven't forgotten what you said before you left, about good soldiers doing their jobs."

It had come. Now she would have to tell him.

"It's not that, Steve. I'm going on with my job and—I guess it's better to come clean—I'm going to be married to somebody else."

"Somebody you've just met?"

"Somebody I've always known. I thought for a while that he was gone, that I'd never see him again. Now I know that wasn't meant to happen. It's the man who took me to France and who brought me back in safety. Bright Stoner."

"I wish," said Barlow, "that I could think that it's the romantic situation you've been thru together. But something tells me that isn't so."

"I've loved him ever since I was a kid," said Carol.

"I see," said the colonel. "Good night, Carol, and good luck!"

"Good luck, Steve!"

Back at the old convent where her things still were and where she went to freshen up before meeting Bright, Mother Michalette let her in, greeting her with the same tired but wise smile on her withered apple of a face.

"Ca marche? was all she said.

"Yes, it marches," said Carol. "It marches well in les services!"

The mother superior nodded happily.

In the old refectory hall the girls arose from their beds and crowded around Carol. Where had she been? Was she okay?

"I heard you all got sent to the new front!" little Mees Butch said wonderingly. "Many sick out there?"

"There were plenty sick in the head where I've been," said Carol, "and a lot of 'em are going to be sicker!"

"Mental center, huh? Don't care for that work, myself!" another voice chimed in.

"Played to a full house, did ja?" It was the big, rawboned Smithy, the ex-vaudevillian. "While you were gone I understudied your role with Col. Barlow. Say, I could play straight man for him forever!"

"Go ahead," Carol approved. "I believe you've got the right moment picked."

"What's wrong?" said sleepy Swenson, a husky from Minnesota. "Why ain't you playing for him yourself any more, Kansas?"

"Because I've met the man!" said Carol. "No kidding. I'm having champagne with him tonight and I think you all ought to loosen up with a few doodads so I'll come home with a chance of living happily ever after. I need hairpins!"

They parted with a few each of those scarce and precious articles. They swarmed about her like bees, patting her hair-do, helping her dress, pressing Arabian perfume and sound American advice upon her with equal lavishness. At last they were satisfied to let her go. She must look nice if she was to believe what they told her. The small cracked mirror in the dormitory was not too reliable.

It was a gay place, the one they had agreed upon, the Cafe International, a modern bar and restaurant where the atmosphere was heady, the wine good, and the food, for war time Algiers, quite tolerable. It was already well crowded when she arrived, the tables filled by parties of all sorts. There was a so-called American jazz band playing.

Carol preened herself at the mirrors in the entrance. She really did look nice, she thought with satisfaction. And she was losing the tension which always followed her into the first hours of a furlough. She was relaxing unconsciously and ready for every drop of personal happiness she could extract from the evening before her. She looked over the crowd, but Bright had not yet showed up. Probably he had not been able to get away as soon as he had expected to. Or it might be that she, in her eagerness, was a little early. There was a vacant place near the far end of the long bar and she took it and ordered a glass of dry sherry.

Next to her were two men, talking. One, with his back to her, wore the uniform of a captain in the Fighting French air corps, the other, an English line regiment officer, had a jolly roundish face and seemed to be enjoying his own humor immensely.

"I say, De Gresser, don't tell me you never heard that one about Pippin Waycross before! Ha! Ha! Why, he was the joke of the club, even when you first joined up, way back in '20 or thereabouts."

"O, I've heard others along the same line," said the man who had been addressed as De Gresser. "He always was a bit of a fool! Whatever became of that girl Becky you and I used to take out?"

The French flyer spoke English with just a hint of a foreign accent. A Belgian, perhaps. The Englishman guffawed.

"Better not bring up Becky!" he said. "Married probably by now, with several brats. Well, I must trot now! See you again, old man—jolly running into you over here!"

"Right! You can often find me here around this time." The line officer moved off.

Suddenly Carol realized that the voice of the man called De Gresser was definitely familiar to her. She wanted the man to turn around so that she might see his face. Then, as tho feeling her thought he did turn towards her and with a chill of horror she wished he had not done so.

NORTHERNERS OPEN 14TH YEAR TONIGHT IN W-G-N BROADCAST

The Northerners program will begin its 14th consecutive year of broadcasting at 9:30 o'clock tonight over W-G-N. Harry Walsh, who organized the program, is still the conductor. Two of the original octet are still with the group—George Smith, baritone, and Leslie Arnold, bass. Miss Isabel Ebert has been the accompanist thruout the years. Two soprano soloists alternate on the program. They are Lois Wallner and Louise Yates. Miss Wallner will sing "Isle D'Amour" tonight. Selections from "Her Regiment" and from "Wild Flower" will be sung.

SENATE TO VOTE ON TWO BILLION ROAD PROGRAM

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—Overriding bipartisan opposition, the senate voted 36 to 18 today to begin consideration of a bill proposing a federal contribution exceeding $2,000,000,000 toward a $3,375,250,000 post-war highway program.

The vote indicated that proponents of the legislation had sufficient strength to obtain passage if they can maintain the quorum of 49 members necessary to make the action stick.

Attacking the proposal to contribute the huge federal grants for a three year road program, Sen. Russell [D., Ga.] told the senate, "the time has come when the congress must consider the government's public debt." Russell joined with Senators Taft [R., O.] and Maloney [D., Conn.] in opposing a motion by Sen. Hayden [D., Ariz.] to take up the bill.

EX-MATE SEEKS $40,000 IN ESTATE OF 'POOR' WOMAN

John A. Skoog, 65, a tailor at 1733 Greenleaf av., filed suit in Superior court yesterday seeking $40,000 from the $59,219 estate of Mrs. Ada Faalk Skoog, who asserted that she was destitute and was awarded half of his $2,480 savings when they were divorced in June, 1943.

Mrs. Skoog had lived frugally in a room at 1060 Lawrence av. and the extent of her holdings was learned after her death last March 7. In her will she left her former husband nothing and $1 to a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Carlson, 1322 Washington av., Wilmette. She bequeathed 10 per cent of the estate to the Evangelical Mission church, Crystal Lake, and the rest equally to Ivar J. Johanson, a brother living in Sweden, and the Swedish Societies Old Peoples Home association, Evanston.

In his suit filed by Atty. George S. Lavin, Skoog asked that the divorce agreement by which his wife received half of his savings be set aside and that he be awarded $40,000 which he said represented savings from his earnings during 34 years of married life.

INSPECTOR FRANK MAGOLAN

KEEPS THE "400s" ROLLING WHILE HIS 4 SONS FIGHT

● When a sleek, streamlined "400" stops at Milwaukee to discharge or take on passengers, it's more than likely that Frank Magolan is a member of the efficient crew that inspects the cars of this famous train. Frank has been a "North Western" car inspector for years—an alert, keen-eyed workman who prides himself on doing a thorough job.

Frank's thoughts, these days, are largely with his boys, especially the four in service. Harry, the oldest, is the family's representative in the Navy—he's an aviation radio technician. Raymond and Arnold enlisted for service with the Marines. Raymond is somewhere in the South Pacific; Arnold at present is at Pearl Harbor. Corporal Jerry favored the Army. He first went to Africa, then saw service in Sicily, then moved on to Italy where he was seriously wounded in the Battle of Cassino. He's now recuperating in this country.

Wonder if you feel as we do about the Magolan family. Somehow they seem to exemplify the spirit of the thousands of other families whose boys have gone into service. While the older folks are doing what they can on the home front, their uniformed sons are overseas, moving determinedly forward toward victory. "North Western" families are represented on fighting fronts all over the world. To say we are proud of them is putting it mildly.

News Is Given of Number of Men in Service

BY JUDITH CASS.

NEWS of army and navy promotions is a source of pride to the families of the men concerned. New gold leaves, denoting his recent promotion to the rank of major, have been added to the marine corps uniform of William Ogden Coleman III., who has been flying in the South Pacific for more than six months. His brother, Randolph Coleman, recently was promoted to a sergeant in the army. They are sons of Mrs. William Ogden Coleman of Winnetka.

Lockwood Pirie now is wearing the two and one-half gold stripes of a lieutenant commander in the naval reserve. Both he and his brother, Samuel Carson Pirie Jr., a lieutenant in the naval reserve, are serving in the Pacific. Another brother, Lt. John T. Pirie II., also of the navy, now is stationed at Great Lakes, after having been in Washington, D. C., for some months.

Corp. Joseph Seaverns and his brother, Sgt. George A. Seaverns III., are having their first reunion in three years at San Diego, Cal., where both are stationed with the marines. Corp. Seaverns was in Lake Forest recently with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seaverns Jr. Sgt. Seaverns has been overseas.

Taylor Strawn Jr., who has been inducted into the navy, is awaiting his orders in Santa Barbara, Cal., where his mother, Mrs. Strawn, has taken a small apartment. His sister, Mrs. John B. Addleman, and Capt. Addleman, who recently was promoted from the rank of lieutenant, are at Williams field in Arizona.

Word that her son-in-law, Flight Officer Roy Hensman Munsey of the royal air force, has been reported missing in action reached Mrs. Henry O. Ramsey in a cablegram a few days ago. Flight Officer Munsey and the former Sonneva Ramsey were married in New York at Christmas time and have been living in Cambridge, England, since then. Mrs. Ramsey is living in Oak Park until she is able to join her husband in Manchester, England, where he is the American consul.

Capt. Henry H. Brigham recently was transferred from Camp Carson, Colo., to the army artillery base at Fort Riley, Kas. Before he received his new orders Mrs. Brigham and their two sons, Charles and Henry III., journeyed to Colorado for a six weeks' visit with him. They now have returned to their home in Glencoe.

Mary Meade Fixes Planked Whitefish with Vegetables

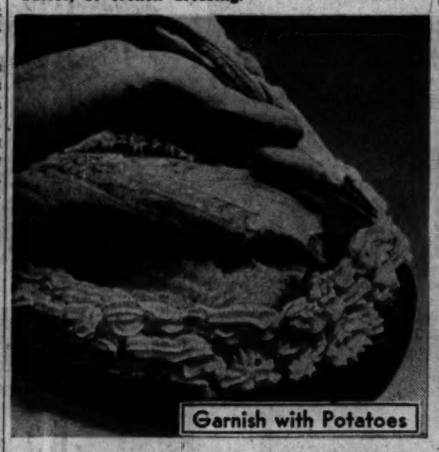
1. Lay whitefish or other firm fleshed fish fillets on an oiled hardwood plank or oven glass platter, skin side down. Brush with oil, melted butter, or french dressing.

2. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, and paprika. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, for about 20 minutes or until fish is nearly tender and beginning to brown. Time depends on thickness of fish.



3. Remove plank from oven and encircle fish with mashed potatoes pressed thru a pastry tube. Brush with melted butter or milk and return to oven to brown fish and potatoes.

4. Arrange hot cooked peas and carrot balls on platter. Beautified by these vegetable garnishments which complete the dinner entree, planked fish is worth the extra preparation time.

Murder-Sleuth Film Mediocre but Full of Life

"LEAVE IT TO THE IRISH."

A Monogram picture, directed by William Beaudine, starring James Dunn and Wanda McKay, and presented at the Downtown.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

I eased into the Downtown yesterday. The one time burlesque house Rialto has been cleansed and refurbished and now offers on its screen and stage the same sort of entertainment to be found in loop picture houses.

This week's feature picture is a mediocre but lively murder-detective piece in which James Dunn, as an Irish special investigator, outwits the police force, also Irish, chief of which is his prospective father-in-law, and solves the mystery concerning the death of the husband of a beautiful woman who has come to him for help. His jealous fiancee [Wanda McKay], who insists on accompanying him while he sleuths, is sometimes a bother and sometimes a blessing. And so on. . . . Acting thruout is commendable, and the director did the best he could with his story material.

Good luck to the Downtown!

$5 PRIZE RECIPE

Baked Peaches.

[Serves six.]

12 peaches, peeled and cut in halves
¾ cup honey
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon orange juice
Grated nutmeg, marshmallows [optional]

Arrange peach halves, cut side up in shallow baking dish. Place 1 teaspoon honey, ½ teaspoon butter, and few drops each of lemon and orange juice in cavity of each peach. Put remaining fruit juice in pan and add enough water to just cover bottom of pan. Bake in moderately hot [375 degrees] oven until peaches are tender and lightly browned, about half an hour. Sprinkle nutmeg over each peach and top each with half a marshmallow; continue baking until marshmallow is puffed up and lightly browned, about 15 minutes. Serve warm with cooking sirup and cream, if desired.

Nervous Child Must Be Given Special Care

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

What really constitutes nervousness in children, what some of the symptoms are and what is a good fundamental approach to the difficulty were talked about in Sunday's and Monday's columns. On Monday we went into the physical angle somewhat fully, the point being that the first thing to do is to be sure there is no bodily ailment, and from there on do everything you can to get your child into as fine physical condition as possible. The second angle, the psychological one, we merely mentioned. But it is equally important. In fact it is necessary that besides having her physical well-being raised to a maximum, your nervous child should be lovingly and wisely managed.

Without spoiling her in the accepted sense of the word, your nervous child still must be handled with her special needs in mind. She need not realize that you are doing this, and I suppose it goes without saying that you mustn't let her think of herself as nervous, nor discuss her condition with "all comers" in her presence.

Now to manage a nervous little boy [or girl] wisely you must first understand what that individual child is like. Then you must observe him, what his response to things is, what he needs in order to be calm and happy. And last, you must try to fill those needs. Punishment and severity must be laid aside.

There is one thing more as to managing. Sometimes there is an unseen, even unsuspected cause of nervousness hidden in a child's inner life. An emotional cause, I mean. For example, there may be underlying jealousy, unhappiness, or perhaps lack of warm love in the life of your nervous child. Marital conflict is often felt by children when husband and wife least suspect it. Such causes must be cleared away if this child is to be helped.

An additional aid for nervous children has been found in manual activity, either in the arts or crafts. Adult nervousness responds to this too, as psychiatrists have found.

This is on the whole a brief but good program for helping your nervous child to come back to health, relaxation, poise.

School Lunchrooms' Patronage Increases to 135,000 Each Day

Patronage of Chicago public school lunchrooms increased in the first week of the school year to 135,000 a day, 5,000 over the average last spring, Frank O. Washam, lunchroom director, said yesterday.

Approximately 82,000 meals are served in high schools and 33,000 in elementary schools, Mr. Washam said. In addition, penny milk programs are offered in 223 schools.

The increase came despite an enrollment drop of 11,000. Cash receipts from pupils amount to $250,000 a month, and state and federal funds contribute $120,000 a month to lunchroom operation, Mr. Washam said. Food shortages, he said, make prepared menus subject to frequent changes.

Army Releases Leader of Cleveland Orchestra

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—Erich Leinsdorf, whose career as conductor of the Cleveland orchestra was interrupted Dec. 31 when he was inducted into the army, has returned to civilian life. He received an honorable discharge Sept. 7 at Camp Lee because of flat feet and immediately came to New York. With his wife and two children, he expects to leave in a few days for his farm in Virginia. The discharge came too late for him to resume his Cleveland career this season, since the orchestra board already had engaged a number of guest conductors to direct the winter concerts.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY MARYON ZYLSTRA

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Capt. W. J. King, Fort Belvoir, Va.]

THE QUESTION.

How are you able to tell when your dad is in no mood to have his patience tried?

Jackson Park.

THE ANSWERS.

Tommy Pennington, 5222 Halsted st.—He doesn't like to be bothered when he reads a book or the newspaper. He never listens to me then. He just nods his head and says "Uhuh." When I want to ask him an important question I wait until he's thru with the newspaper or just after he has finished eating.

Joyce Burns, 5436 University av.—Dad follows the baseball games and as soon as he comes home he asks for the newspaper. If his team has lost a game he feels just about as bad as the team must feel. I can tell by the way he looks if his team won. However, he's kind of quiet when things aren't going along as they should.

Mary Cassidy, 1406 E. 54th st.—When he has had a hard day at the office he looks tired and usually takes a nap. Before his nap he is not in the best of spirits, but when he wakes up he feels good. He always tells my sister and me to be quiet before he goes to sleep and if we make a lot of noise he doesn't like it.

Robert Breeden, 5401 Lake Park av.—It's hard to tell when he does or doesn't want to be bothered. When he is doing some work at home and doesn't want me to ask questions, he just tells me to go read a book or go out doors. I keep my business until dinner when he can't do anything else but stay there with me and talk.

Herbert Shellberg, 706 E. 88th pl.—My little sister and I get on his nerves sometimes and when he gets tired of listening to our noise he starts to frown. Then he isn't in any mood to have his patience tried. But if he has a happy look on his face and smiles for no reason at all, I know it's because he feels good.

John Monahan, 7515 Blackstone av.—If he is quiet when he comes home and doesn't want to be asked a lot of questions, it's easy to know how he feels. He doesn't talk much and takes his newspapers and goes in the living room and reads. But most of the time he is in good humor. He hardly ever gets mad at me.

John Jacob Astor III. to Take Bride Monday

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—John Jacob Astor III., one of the heirs to the Astor fortune, will marry Miss Gertrude Gretsch Monday, Mrs. Walter Gretsch, her mother, said today. The ceremony will take place in the Gretsch apartment in 77th street with only members of the two families present. Miss Gretsch, daughter of the late Walter Gretsch, made her debut in 1941. Mr. Astor, the son of the late John Jacob Astor and the late Mrs. Madeline Force Astor Dick Fiermonte, married Ellen Tuck French in 1934. The marriage ended in divorce last year.

The Solid Side Sees 2 Sides to School Life

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Most guys and gals are sensible enough to know that while dating, dancing, and boy-girl friendships are important in high school, they still have important things to consider in the hard work department. A good joe can find himself a honeychile whom he thinks is slightly wonderful and still keep his mind on his schoolwork. And a thoughtful gal can enjoy T. Dorsey, knit her own sweaters, have dates two nights a week, and still come out with an A in English and reasonable facsimiles in other subjects.

High school is usually an 80-20 proposition, scholastic and social, and the smarter characters will fit in the social activities on weekends or rare week nights when school work is first stacked away. But for those gals who are strictly man-mad and off the beam and live a lazy date-to-date existence, here's a bit of sharp talk from a honeychile with something solid on her mind. It goes this way:

"I am impressed with the number of letters written by girls who are miserable because their boy friends do not give them the attention they expect. They can think of nothing else. These girls should put their minds to better use trying to educate themselves and build character. Many of the fellows and girls who think they are unhappy over their love affairs do not know what real hardships are like.

"My father died when I was 14. Since then I have known real hardships and they are not 'love affair' hardships either. They have interfered with my school work and, so far, have prevented me from going on with my life in a normal way. I hope, if possible, to have a career in photography. I want to see the world and learn things about it. I am not just content to fall in love and marry young, but am determined to make something of my own life before I share it with some one else. Girls spoil chances for themselves by becoming date-crazy. Now is the time to become interested and interesting."

It takes a smart gal to know her own mind. There's a new school year opening; think yourself over. This is a good time to get out of the rut and back into the groove!

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Little White School House.

It was the first day of school and her first day as teacher. She had done some substitute teaching, to be sure, but that morning, when she rang the handbell to summon the children to their desks in the little white school house at Cedar Grove, Wis., it was a real thrill.

"You see," she explained, "I went to school here when I was a little girl and it's the very same bell. I live just down the road. The children all know me as Pearl, yet this morning, as they came in the door, they each greeted me respectfully as 'Miss'."

She said it was fun to be on her own, adding, "Altho I had to learn other people's way first, it's nice to plan the work the way I want to do it." For example, the children previously had been taught to say grace before they had their noonday meal from their lunch boxes. However, their pretty new teacher liked the idea of their singing a short hymn of thanks and taught them one that morning.

First Day.

"Did the children mind coming back to school?" I asked.

Not here, she replied, where their homes are far apart and the reopening of school means companionship and playmates. Then, as their voices drifted in thru the window from afternoon recess, the teacher said, "I have only six; they come to school from 9 o'clock to 4; there are three boys and three girls, two in each grade. The younger ones learn more quickly in a one room school house because they hear the older ones recite. But all are so willing and ready to do their best! I prefer rural school teaching. It's less hurried and quieter, and I can do more with the children. I like little folk."

Her tone was so convincing that all of a sudden I felt sorry for countless white collar girls who never find the work they enjoy, who spend their lives amid the noise and grayness of the city, away from the green, sweet fields and the hearts of "little folk."

"Perhaps you've never been in a rural school before?" she commented as she exhibited the radio, phonograph, piano, the books, and the big, black coal stove. Picturing wintry days and snow covered children, I asked, "Who is going to tend the stove?" She laughed. "I am."

We talked a few moments about teaching and the dearth of country school teachers which she finds hard to understand. "My sister teaches in the next school on the highway," she said.

"Show me where you sat as a little girl," I prompted. And she blushed. "Well—it was this desk in the first row," and, "the pupils aren't supposed to do such things," there was a bit of childish carving—"P" for "Pearl" on the desk top.

She glanced at the clock, not as you and I in an office but because recess was over. It was time to ring the bell again—the handbell, the feel of which in her fingers that morning had brought such joy in peaceful attainment to the new teacher of district No. 8 school.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 12.—Afterthoughts of a two day trip to Chicago: Present at a cocktail party Fairfax Cone gave for me was Philip Manuel, organist of a south shore church. He kept looking at a woman he was sure was a parishioner in his church. He finally greeted her, and she turned out to be Zasu Pitts. Zasu asked help in writing her political speech. Seems she's taking the stump for Tom Dewey, and I'll lay a wager right now—when she does, she'll get him more votes than all the female speakers in America. . . . Also there was Frank Morgan [no relation to our Frank], who said, "We dined together 25 years ago when you were singing in 'The Quaker Girl.'" But he was just being nice to me, 'cause that was 31 years ago. . . . Chicago always has had "welcome" on the mat, but this time, visiting with folks I'd never met before was a real experience. Here in Hollywood we become so engrossed with our life and movies we're apt to believe that all of life is a movie set, instead of the real thing, so it was fun getting a new perspective.

Best Things in Life Free.

Hollywood producers pay their stars thousands per day and week. Elsa Maxwell gets their services free. Those of us invited to her victory party were privileged to enjoy them. There's no doubt about it, Maxwell has a flair for party giving. This one, commemorating the victory of France, was tops in anything that's happened here. A hundred and thirty-five sat down to dinner, 75 came in later to enjoy the performance in the garden. A stage had been erected and our Mr. Nightingale lighted not only that, but the trees, especially a giant poplar whose golden leaves fluttered down like a blessing on the performers. That group included Artur Rubenstein and Alicia Markova and Anton Dolin of the ballet, with Rubenstein playing for them; Laurits Melchior, who sang a solo, then was joined by two French soldiers and sailors who sang with him; Judy Garland, who has never seen Paris, singing "The Last Time I Saw Paris" as I've never heard it sung; Danny Kaye, who did two songs from his new picture, "Wonder Man"—one a burlesque of the ballet. Danny was followed by Frank Sinatra, who ended up with "Night and Day," with Arthur Schwartz playing his accompaniment. Edgar Bergen did his hilarious Phella stunt. It wound up with Charles Boyer reciting the "Marseillaise," after which we all sang it.

Yes, Sir, That's How We Do Things.

Barbara Hutton and Cary Grant's performance was rather amazing. They came to the party with different partners, kissed, watched the show together, danced, kissed good night, and left with separate partners—which doesn't mean a thing, except to show the outlanders the way we do things here. . . . Sonja Henie and I congratulated Don Loper on his coming marriage to Gypsy Rose Lee. He was in a complete fog until we explained we'd heard Edith Gwynn give it out on the air. Then he laughed and muttered, "It might not be such a bad idea at that!" . . . All the glamor girls wore new dresses. I must say, they were done up right and looked beautiful. Elsie Mendl wore the last dress she had made in Paris. And now I can believe that Elsa Maxwell will not only try to, but actually will pry a big ship away from Henry Kaiser, fill it with our titled refugees, and be the first to steam into a French harbor.

Really Quite Cozy, Wot?

Myrna Loy went to New York via Washington, D. C., and Capt. Gene Markey. When Myrna was the wife of Arthur Hornblow [who is Gene's best friend], she introduced Gene to Hedy Lamarr. So if Myrna and Gene ever marry, it sure will be a heck of a family affair. . . . Teresa Wright's next for Sam Goldwyn will probably be a costume drama, story laid in London about English royalty in 1840s, which means Queen Victoria's early reign. It's about time Teresa did a picture for Sam. She's been working for everybody except the man who brought her to the screen. . . . Ina Claire relaxed with Zoe Akins for a week in Pasadena to talk over her new play which Ina may do on Broadway.

Garden Club of Illinois Council Set for Monday

The annual president's council of the Garden Club of Illinois will take place at luncheon Monday in the Wedgwood room of Marshall Field & Co. Miss Elizabeth Howland, president, will have charge of the session, to which representatives of member clubs have been invited to consult with state officers and committee chairmen regarding all phases of garden club work. Mrs. J. Wilson McAllister will direct the program of seven talks following luncheon. Decorations will be executed by the Kenwood Gardens club under the chairmanship of Mrs. Raymond Lukins.

ORPHAN ANNIE

Thru the Looking Glass

As time marches on, the feminine complexion sacrifices something of the fine texture that was one of its glories in youth. Not one woman in a thousand escapes the subtle skin coarsening that comes with the years.

This is one reason why we believe the mature woman should be permitted to splurge a little on her face powder. It ought to be good, with superior covering and sticking powder and of the most flattering texture and tint. Maybe it will be a bit more expensive than the powder the 16 year old can use, but if it serves to give her ageing skin the illusion of youth it will be well worth it.

Such a powder is one we've been using lately. It's de luxe. What you'll notice first about it, probably is its scent, a rich, warm and subtle one such as is achieved with only the costliest perfume oils. It's just awfully nice, but relatively unimportant. What is important is the texture of the powder. It is fine, but not too light. It has just the right weight to film the skin and to hold that pretty and delicate veiling for hours on end.

Shades are important to the maturing woman, too. She, above all others, must avoid the powdered look. In this powder there are 12 shades from which to choose, grouped in the three categories of neutral, rachel, and pink tones. These last are by far the most important, from a fashion point of view, and probably even from the point of view of harmony with the mature skin tone. One tint, in particular, a muted rose, is beautifully flattering. And, if you want perfect skin veiling with an unobtrusive undertone of radiance, try wearing two shades—a coral perhaps, or peach, with ivory or cream over it. It's one of the best of makeup tricks.

This powder is the product of a couturière and its fashion-rightness is assured. But best of all, we think, for the woman who wants her powder to flatter as well as to conceal minor defects of skin texture, is its exquisite consistency.

Mesh Hosiery Is Correct and Not Expensive

BY REA SEEGER.

Temptingly low price marks on the new fall rayon and lisle mesh hosiery take some of the sting out of the war time absence of nylons. Instead of gnashing your teeth about the stocking situation be jubilant over the mesh weaves, for nothing ever promoted for wear with woolens and tweeds equals the dull, smart mesh texture of such hosiery. Even when silk and nylons were plentiful, many fastidious women wore lisles, fine cotton, or sheer wool hosiery with their costly tweeds.

There are very fine, smooth, super flat meshes, medium patterns, and those with rather large holes, but the textures of all are fine and lacy in effect, and many have that obliging quality of being almost runproof. High fashion shades are abundant and there's a grand neutral tone to wear with every colored wool or silk. They'll fit and keep the line after the swish thru suds and the drying period. Mesh weaves wear and wear and wear!

The dark browns and an exciting deep dubonnet tone are just about ideal for wine red shades of velveteen used for slim dresses and suits or for the stunning tweed mixtures with threads of wine red. Deep golden brown to wear with green, copper, and the beige and blue tweeds is a perfect tone for legline flattery. Several neutrals or good street shades complete the showing and the price marks will make you believe in Santa Claus a good three months ahead of time. Try mesh weave stockings with your new fall clothes and be a step ahead of the less perspicacious shoppers.

Dorothy, as maid of honor, and Caryl, as bridesmaid.

Capt. Lloyd L. English of the army will be best man, and ushering will be Richard Fink, Edward Gustafson, and a cousin of the bride, Walter R. Ericsson, who will receive his navy commission tomorrow from the naval reserve training school at Northwestern university. His parents, the Walter H. Ericssons, will give a supper following the rehearsal Friday. Mr. Wright and his bride will live in Milwaukee.

Dr. and Mrs. John Gotthold Kunstmann of Stony Island av., announce the marriage Sept. 7 of their daughter, Lois, to Lt. Ward Emerson Huston Jr. of the army air forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. Huston of Rochester, N. Y. The ceremony took place at 3 p. m. in the Thorndike Hilton chapel at the University of Chicago, at which the bride's father is professor of Germanics, language, and literature. Lt. Huston, who attended Purdue university, and his bride, who attended the University of Chicago High school, are at home at the Syracuse army air base in New York.

Here and There.

There will be a few small parties for Mrs. Ernest Spencer of Short Hills, N. J., while she is in Chicago visiting her former Wells college classmate, Mrs. Richard D. Nugent, and Mr. Nugent. The Nugents and Mrs. Spencer, whose husband, Ensign Spencer, is on sea duty, will arrive Friday from Lakeside, Mich., where the Nugents have spent the summer. They will move from their small Lake Shore dr. apartment into a larger one in the same building around Oct. 1. Mrs. Robert G. Walker is entertaining at luncheon Saturday at the Woman's Athletic club for Mrs. Spencer.

Fall hats will be on sale Friday at the White Elephant Rummage shop, 27 E. Ohio st. The junior auxiliary of the Children's Memorial hospital is in charge of the sale, with Mrs. Roy Flannery as chairman. Some of those assisting her will be Mrs. Edwin W. Sims Jr., Mrs. Philip D. Armour Jr., Mrs. William E. Roberts, and Mrs. William F. Borland.

Mrs. Nelson Morris is coming from Washington, D. C., to address a luncheon meeting of Les Filles de France at 12:30 p. m. Monday in the Hotel Sherman. The organization is celebrating its fifth anniversary.

The first in the series of Wednesday luncheon book reviews in the Mayfair room of the Blackstone hotel will be held next week with Florence Bourke Ellis reviewing "Cluny Brown," by Margery Sharp, and "Time for Decision," by Sumner Welles.

School Notes.

Miss Barbara Straw, daughter of Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. H. Foster Straw of Lake Forest, has left for New York to study interior decoration at the Parson school, with a career in that profession as her goal. She and a former classmate at the Ethel Walker school will share an apartment this winter. Miss Straw completed one year at Finch Junior college last spring.

Miss Virginia Mowry, daughter of the Otto D. Mowrys of Evanston, who was graduated from Finch Junior college last spring, will continue her studies at Mills college in California this winter.

Among the young women entering the Ogontz school this fall is Gertrude Munns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John James Munns of Evanston. Miss Munns, who has been attending the Roycemore school, will depart Sept. 21.

Students entering Bennett Junior college Sept. 20 include three debutantes of the season, Miss Anne Wilson, Miss Emily Dixon, and Miss Barbara Ann King, and others who may be having debut parties next year, Miss Janet and Miss Joan Bennett, twin daughters of James E. Bennett; Miss Joan Riley, and Miss Joan Clement.

Freshmen entering Connecticut college and their mothers have been invited to a tea which the Chicago chapter of the Connecticut College Alumnae association will give from 3 to 5 p. m. today in the Woman's Athletic club. Miss Wilma Swisler, president of the Chicago chapter, is making arrangements for the tea.

Judges Debate Divorce Rules for Service Men

A proposal that Cook county courts permit absent soldiers and sailors to obtain divorces by deposition was supported and assailed yesterday at a meeting of the executive committee of Superior and Circuit court judges. The courts now require personal appearances of plaintiffs in all divorce hearings.

Leo J. Bartoline of Chicago and George S. McGaughey of Waukegan, co-chairmen of the military affairs committee of the Illinois State Bar association, urged the judges to relax the court rule and admit depositions. An unfaithful wife of an overseas soldier or sailor can claim allotments from his pay for the support of an illegitimate child, and he cannot sue for divorce, because of the inability to appear in court, Bartoline and McGaughey contended.

Stephen Hurley, president of the Chicago Bar association, said its military affairs committee had not encountered need for changing the rule against depositions, but was willing to consider suggestions.

Mrs. Sarah B. Scharr, representing the legal aid service of the Jewish social service bureau, said her group recommended "some relaxing of the rule under certain circumstances."

The judges' committee postponed its recommendation on the proposal until the Illinois Supreme court rules on an appeal from a recent action by Superior Judge Joseph Sabath, who refused to admit a deposition offered in behalf of an absent soldier suing for divorce.

Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of Superior court presented to the committee a letter he had received from an army officer's wife who opposed any plan to make divorces easier for soldiers.

The woman stated she was one of a group of officers' wives whose husbands, overseas two years or more, had requested them to start divorce proceedings. All had been married 15 or 20 years, and all have children. The wives "do not intend to allow their marriages to be wrecked by their husbands' indiscretions," she wrote, and will not act on divorce proceedings until the husbands have returned home and "regained their equilibrium."

| 1 spade | Pass | 1 no trump | Pass |
| 2 diamonds | Pass | Pass | Pass |

Opening lead, two of clubs.

More sins have been committed in the name of the singleton than have been dreamt of in your philosophy. It's a fetish, it seems. A player holding one apparently must not permit partner to play a hand at no trump. This, I call the nursemaid policy.

My advice is to worry more about your own no trumps and somewhat less about your partner's. It is not my policy to barge right into no trump myself with a singleton, but if my partner shows an inclination to play that contract, I would consider it very arrogant of me to deprive him of that luxury.

Observe today's hand. South's opening bid of one diamond, North's response of one heart, South's rebid of one spade, and North's call of one no trump are all clearly indicated. The object of our attention is South's subsequent bid of two diamonds, which he made, first, to show a five card suit and secondly because of the singleton heart. The contract of two diamonds was defeated for 300 points on defense that required no more inspiration than a club opening and a club return. A one no trump contract would have called for no special skill. Declarer could have taken three club tricks, two spade tricks, a diamond, and a heart.

It was arrogant of South to decide that this hand should play at diamonds just because he had a five card suit. If diamonds were the proper contract, North would have taken him back to that suit. It was evident that North's values were concentrated in hearts and clubs, and the singleton heart, having been covered by North's response should not have deterred South from permitting the hand to play at no trump.

When you are not going game, the best place to play an indifferent hand is one no trump.

Some players have the notion that they must always show a five card suit. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Possession of a five card suit gives you the privilege of rebidding it, if it seems like a good idea, but it is not obligatory.

TOMORROW'S PROBLEM.

Women in War Work

By Dorothy Johnson

A Chicago interior decorator, Jane Derrick, is using her special talents as a Red Cross club director in Italy. Associated with Red Cross foreign service last October, Miss Derrick has decorated rest homes for aviators and a library in Capri, Italy.

Jane Derrick.

From Capri she wrote of the service men who visited the air force rest home there and of their reactions to the natural loveliness of the island. "It's good to feel there is still beauty in the world," one of them told Miss Derrick. "It makes one feel clean and small and humble."

The Red Cross worker was in business in Chicago for approximately 15 years before going into foreign service. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Derrick of Ada, Okla., and the sister of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Babcock of Lovington, Ill.

The volunteer office of the office of civilian defense and the Council of Social Agencies, which is handling recruiting of recreation aids for volunteer work this winter in Chicago's play centers for war workers' children, in social settlements, and in boys' and girls' clubs, anticipates a need for such volunteers greater than the demand last year.

Mrs. Janina Adamczyk of Northwestern university's department of sociology has organized an intensive two weeks' course, to open as soon as registration is complete, for both daytime and evening aids. Classes for day workers will be held from 10 a. m. to noon in the Y. W. C. A., 59 E. Monroe st. Evening classes, from 7 to 9 p. m. will be conducted in headquarters of the Chicago Woman's Aid, 185 N. Wabash av.

Registration for the instruction is being held now at the volunteer office, 53 W. Jackson blvd. Persons who enjoy supervising the recreation of children of all ages are asked to telephone Wabash 0528 in advance of registration for an interview.

Today is "Star Spangled Banner day" in all war bond and stamp booths maintained by the women's division of the war finance committee of Chicago and Cook county. The special campaign gets its keynote from the 130th anniversary of the national anthem.

Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, chairman of the women's division; Mrs. Max Epstein, chairman of building booths; Mrs. Georgia Hunt, head of hotel booths, and Mrs. Ada Emory, chairman of theater booths, have issued a joint appeal to Chicagoans to buy extra bonds today. Since the women's division was organized in January, 1942, it has sold $791,859,725 in war securities.

Mrs. Eugenia Kozubal Kamys of Chicago, who was accepted in June for civilian training at the Robins air field at Warner Robins, Ga., now is working as a clerk in the supply division of the air service command, which is responsible for repair, maintenance, and supply of army aircraft thruout the world. Mrs. Kamys, the daughter of Mrs. Lillie Kozubal of 2439 Lotus av., attended the Austin Commercial school and was employed by the Galvin Manufacturing company, makers of radionics equipment, before going to Robins field, where her husband is stationed with the army.

Music Notes

From the Chicago opera comes the news that Gustaf Bergman, husband of the contralto, Kerstin Thorborg, and who bears the official title of musical secretary and stage director, will have five operas under his supervision during the coming season: "Carmen," "Il Trovatore," "La Traviata," "La Boheme," and "Pelléas and Mélisande." Two guest stage directors also will function during the season. Dr. Lothar Wallersfein of the Metropolitan opera will have charge of "Aida," "Die Walkure," Romeo and Juliet," "Otello," and "Tosca." Armando Agnini of the San Francisco opera will take over the stage direction for "Faust" and "Rigoletto."

Because of the early opening of the Chicago opera season, on Oct. 16, subscription sales will be closed Wednesday, Sept. 20, to give time for single seat purchases. Until then subscriptions will be received at room 234, Civic Opera bldg., 20 N. Wacker dr. In the last three weeks more than $25,000 have been received in subscriptions. Beginning Monday, Sept. 25, holders of coupon books may exchange coupons for single seats at the Civic Opera house box office. Two weeks later, on Monday, Oct. 9, single seat sales will be open to the general public.

NINE GAMES IN FIVE DAYS ADD TO CUBS' WOES

Double Header with Reds Rained Out.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Charley Grimm's Cubs who last week were distressed by idleness as devised by the schedule makers now are confronted with something exactly the opposite. Due to the vagaries of weather such as yesterday when a double header with the guest Reds was canceled, the Cubs have a happy outlook made up of two today, two tomorrow, two Friday, and two more on Sunday, after practically being without work on Saturday because of a single game.

Boss Grimm doesn't object to going to office immediately after breakfast and not getting back home until long after the dinner hour but the immediate program demands a quantity of pitching. Whether he has enough he doesn't know, so beyond billing Japhet [Red] Lynn and Claude Passeau for today and Paul Erickson for one of tomorrow's games he has no definite plans.

Fight for Series Cash.

The accumulated distress probably could be taken in stride if it weren't for the fact that the Cubs, even tho not a world series entry, still believe they have an interest in the loot collected at the turnstiles in the so-called fall classic. They are still in fourth place which pays a series dividend and they hope to be there instead of in the non-paying second division when the race ends, but being crowded with nine games in five days against two percentage top-notchers, their task is made doubly difficult.

Grimm, if he chooses, can reintroduce today one Paul Gillespie, a catcher who recently showed up with the Cubs after about two years in the Coast Guard service from which he was discharged because of a knee injury. He had been on the club's National Defense list but was restored to active service yesterday. Gillespie came up from the Tulsa club three seasons back and stayed around long enough to hit a couple of home runs, the latter a feature that wasn't overlooked when he came back with his announcement that he had completed his hitch.

Cards Here Friday.

Grimm wants to get somebody back of the plate so as to provide a few hours of leisure for Dewey Williams who has been laboring so steadily that his pals now speak of him as "Gas Pipe."

Today's and tomorrow's bargains in Wrigley field will involve the Reds, after which the competition will become a bit stiffer, what with the Cardinals showing up for the last time this season in these parts. The repeating champions will present themselves on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, the latter entertainment being the final of the season at Wrigley field.

RAIN WASHES OUT OPENING GAMES OF A. A. SERIES

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The American association play-offs scheduled to start last night marked time instead as rain washed out inaugurals between third place Louisville and the Champion Brewers at Milwaukee and fourth spot St. Paul and the runner-up Mudhens at Toledo.

The first three games of the four will be played at Milwaukee and Toledo. Pilots of all four contending clubs indicated their mound choices tonight would be unchanged with Jim Wilson of Louisville opposing Charley Gassaway of Milwaukee and St. Paul's Otho Nitcholas tossing against Johnny Whitehead of Toledo.

Los Angeles Wins Second Straight League Title

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 12 (AP).—The Los Angeles Angels tonight won the Pacific Coast league baseball pennant for the second consecutive season. The Angels, who have held a firm grip on first position for several weeks, dropped their eight game series opener to the Seattle Indians, 3 to 1, but still had a sufficient percentage standing to cinch the circuit flag after the second place Portland Beavers lost to the Oakland Acorns, 4 to 2.

Tunney Names Flaherty Coach

Lt. Comdr. Flaherty.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 12 (AP).—Ray Flaherty, former coach of the Washington Redskins, and Max Farrington, onetime athletic director at George Washington university, will be associated with Gene Tunney in the management of the Baltimore eleven of the newly formed All-America Football conference, it was reported today. The league is expected to start operations next year, but Flaherty's participation would be delayed until he leaves military service.

Flaherty, who coached at Gonzaga university in Spokane, Wash., before joining the pro ranks, now is a lieutenant commander in the navy. Farrington holds a similar rank.

Flaherty, who joined the navy after the Redskins defeated the Chicago Bears for the National league title in 1942, says he has received many post-war coaching offers. He is stationed at the naval training center at Farragut, Idaho.

An associate of the group said that present plans provide for Tunney to be president of the Baltimore team and supply the principal financial support. Farrington is slated for the business managership, and Flaherty will coach the team, this source said.

The All-America conference, first major group to challenge the professional dominance of the National league, already has issued franchises to teams in Baltimore, Cleveland, New York, Buffalo, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Chicago. An eighth club is to be selected later.

A. L. ANNOUNCES 500,000 GAIN IN ATTENDANCE

It May Surpass 1943 Total by Million.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

American league attendance this year will show an increase of one million over 1943—if good weather prevails the remainder of the season and the close pennant race continues.

Will Harridge, league president, in revealing figures yesterday, said that to date the games have drawn 4,158,000 customers, which is 500,000 more than last season's total. With four clubs currently engaged in a throat-to-throat battle for the championship, which may not be decided until the windup of the campaign on Oct. 1, another half million is expected to be added and thus produce the one million increase.

Only Two Under 500,000.

Home attendance statistics thru Sept. 10 follow:

| Team— | G. | Attend. |
|---|---|---|
| New York | 75 | 737,385 |
| Detroit | 64 | 648,642 |
| Chicago | 63 | 529,485 |
| Washington | 74 | 512,368 |
| Boston | 78 | 507,034 |
| Philadelphia | 76 | 365,322 |
| Cleveland | 69 | 414,286 |
| St. Louis | 60 | 341,293 |

Only St. Louis and Cleveland are under 500,000, and each has 17 home games remaining, including battles with the league leading Yankees and the threatening Red Sox and Tigers, so they have a chance to hit the 500,000 mark.

Detroit will show a terrific increase over 1943. If the Tigers had been in the pennant contention from the start they might have attracted more than one million.

"Our attendance is simply amazing," Harridge commented, "when you consider the great number of potential fans who were here a year ago and are now overseas. Our clientele has been restricted to men and women excused from war work or not subject to draft.

The Game's the Thing.

"The way we've drawn proves that no matter how many big names are missing from the lineup, close, keen competition is the thing. The game itself is what the people want."

The hottest American league race in years will be resumed Friday, with only the Yankees' game against the Athletics in Philadelphia tomorrow night breaking the breathing spell. Detroit, only a half game behind the Yankees, opens a four game series in Cleveland Friday and then returns home to finish the campaign.

CATHOLIC PREP LEAGUE MEETING CARDED TONIGHT

Directors of the Catholic High School league will hold an organization meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the Atlantic hotel, the Rev. Terence Fitzgerald, O. Carm., announced last night. The meeting will be held preparatory to the Catholic league season, which is to open officially on Sunday, Oct. 1. The Catholic teams have been participating in a series of non-league games prior to the inaugural date.

Last year's co-champions, Mount Carmel, south section title holders, and St. George of Evanston, will see league action the first day. Mount Carmel will meet Weber in Yates Avenue stadium, while Fenwick will entertain St. George in Hanson park.

King Levinsky Decides He Doesn't Want Divorce

Harry Krakow, a prize fighter better known as King Levinsky, has been reconciled with his wife, Fritzie Bey Krakow, his attorney Nathan Hoffberg, informed Superior Judge John A. Sbarbaro yesterday. Krakow had been seeking a divorce from his wife on a charge of cruelty.

NORTHWESTERN SAYS GOOD-BY TO TWO VETERANS

Tom Robinson (left), Northwestern university's first and only swimming coach who is retiring after 35 years of service, and Ade Schumacher (right), who is severing connections with the university after serving as assistant athletic director of the Wildcats for 17 years, are honored at a banquet attended by 200 N. U. alumni in the North Shore hotel, Evanston, last night. Robinson and Schumacher are seen with Franklyn B. Snyder, Northwestern president, who paid tribute to their long years of service with the university. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

N. U. Honors Robinson and Schumacher

Two hundred Northwestern alumni assembled at the North Shore hotel in Evanston last night to honor Tom Robinson, swimming coach, and Ade Schumacher, assistant athletic director, departing members of the Wildcat athletic staff. Robinson is retiring after 35 years of continuous service and Schumacher, a member of the department for 17 years, has resigned to accept a business position in Los Angeles, Cal.

President Franklyn B. Snyder paid tribute to the long years of service which both men had given to the university.

Wins Many Titles.

Robinson became the first swimming coach in the history of the university upon his appointment in 1909. Under his leadership the Wildcats won 10 Big Ten championships and six National Collegiate titles. Schumacher established Northwestern's intramural department, which has served as a model for such departments in numerous schools thruout the country.

Dal Marvil, president of the N. Men's club, presented gold plated money clips to both departing staff men. A gift of $2,000 contributed by the N. men and alumni was presented to Coach Robinson by James L. O'Keefe, president of the Northwestern University club of Chicago. Walter Black of the class of '22 presented Schumacher with a golf bag and set of clubs on behalf of alumni and friends.

WILDCATS PUT EVEN MORE FAITH THAN USUAL IN POWERFUL LINE

BY WILFRID SMITH.

For the first time since Lynn Waldorf assumed command of Northwestern's football forces the Wildcats are preparing for a campaign without the services of an outstanding back field man. There is no Otto Graham, Ike Kepford, Don Heap, or Bob Swisher in the group of four score candidates training each afternoon in Dyche stadium.

Lack of experience is a common situation at all college camps this fall, tho several of the Western conference elevens have one or more backs who have had a year's regular varsity service. Northwestern, preparing for its opening game on Friday night, Sept. 22, with Fort Sheridan, must offset novice backs by development of its potentially excellent line.

Good Line Is in Prospect.

If Northwestern's coaches produce a rugged, heavy line—and there is every possibility that the Wildcats will reach this goal—then Northwestern probably will not be beaten decisively in any game and may expect to finish in the first division of the conference, as has been the custom for a decade.

Northwestern meets six Western conference teams—Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota, Purdue, and Illinois—and Great Lakes and Notre Dame in addition to the opener with Fort Sheridan.

John Yungwirth, civilian freshman from Fond du Lac, Wis., a chunky 5 foot 6 inch back, is Northwestern's best passer. He will be the "Graham" of the 1944 Wildcats at the tail back position. In support is Jack Harker, second year R. O. T. C. student from La Salle, Ill., who never had forward passed until this summer. Henry Altepeter, track star; Bruce Bairstow, Waukegan, Ill., and Richard Conners, Chicago, are currently the wing backs.

Quarter Backs Have Experience.

Bob Funderburg, second year V-12 student from Belvidere, Ill., who had some experience last season, and Jim Meulendyke, civilian freshman from Fond du Lac, Wis., are the full backs. Waldorf naturally has concentrated at quarter back the only experienced backs available. Frank [Red] Clawson and Ben Schadler, who received varsity awards last season altho by no means playing regularly, were assigned to direct the team. Jack Doyle, Milwaukee freshman civilian, is another possibility.

According to 1944 collegiate standards, the Wildcat line will be a tough defensive unit. Ray Justak, left guard, a 1943 regular, is the outstanding player on the squad. Frank Jagels, another letterman, also is listed at the position. Currently Jim Powers of St. Mel's, is making a bid to start at right guard against Fort Sheridan.

Sickels Can Nab Passes.

Center is the immediate line problem with Jim O'Malley from St. George, and Duane Peterson, Minot, N. D., listed as best of the group. Both are civilian freshmen.

Northwestern's prospects now are fair. Defensive line strength may be offset by uncertainty of the secondary defense against passes. The Wildcats should attack with power between the tackles, but the execution of wider plays will not be thoroly tested until the Wisconsin game Sept. 30. Yungwirth to Sickels is a pass combination you'll see repeatedly this fall.

KARA, FORMER GOLDEN GLOVES STAR, IS MISSING

Cleveland, O., Sept. 12 [Special].—Lt. Ted Kara, 28, winner of the Chicago Tribune 126 pound Golden Gloves championship in 1936 and a member of the United States Olympic team at Berlin the same year, has been missing in action over Europe since Aug. 5. He was on his fifth aerial mission when lost over enemy territory.

He has a brother, Lt. Frank Kara, also a former Cleveland Golden Gloves champion, who has completed 50 missions and is awaiting transportation home. The Kara brothers were graduated from the University of Idaho, where they won several national collegiate boxing titles. Ted remained at the university as boxing coach and entered the service in December, 1942.

13 Iowa State Players Are Ruled Ineligible

Ames, Ia., Sept. 12 (AP).—The navy has declared 13 members of the Iowa State college football squad ineligible because of low scholastic grades, Coach Mike Michalske said today. Eleven are linemen, including two first string and three reserve tackles.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP).—Shoving over three touchdowns in the first period, the Philadelphia Eagles trounced the merged Pittsburgh Steelers and Chicago Cardinals, 22 to 0, in a charity exhibition game here tonight. Despite an all-day rain, a crowd of 20,000 turned out for the contest.

81-Yard Touchdown Run.

Taking the opening kickoff, the Eagles scored on the ninth play of the game, with Jack Hinkle taking a lateral for the touchdown. Seconds later, Jack Banta received a punt and dashed 81 yards to score.

Mel Bleeker scored the third touchdown of the first period on a line buck after a 62 yard march by the Eagles. Roy Zimmerman made good on two tries for extra points and the Eagles led, 20 to 0, as the period ended.

Eagles Score Safety.

The Eagles' ground attack bogged down in the mud during the second quarter and the Card-Pitts were unable to make connections as they took to the air. Ernie Steele was injured and carried off the field midway in the scoreless period.

The seesaw continued in the third period until Zimmerman punted out of bounds on the Card-Pitts' 2 yard line. Baptiste Manzini and Vic Sears broke thru on the first play, tackling Bob Thurbon in the end zone for a safety. The fourth period was a fumbling and skidding match, with neither team able to summon a scoring punch.

REPORT LEIBOLD CONSIDERED AS PILOT OF PHILS

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP).—The Philadelphia Record said tonight it had learned definitely that the Philadelphia Phillies are considering Harry [Nemo] Leibold, former White Sox and Red Sox outfielder, as a possible successor to Freddy Fitzsimmons as manager of the Phils.

Reached at Milwaukee, Leibold, now manager of the Louisville Colonels in the American association, declined to confirm that he had been offered the job here.

"It's news to me," he said, "and I'd rather not comment one way or the other. Right now I've got my work cut out for me trying to beat Milwaukee in the play-offs."

ATTORNEY TAKES ATHERTON'S POST IN COAST SPORTS

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 12 (AP).—Prof. John W. Olmsted of U. C. L. A., president of the Pacific Coast conference, has appointed Victor O. Schmidt, Los Angeles attorney, acting conference commissioner, filling the vacancy left by the recent death of Edwin N. Atherton.

Schmidt, assistant to Atherton since 1940, will serve until Dec. 31, when the conference meets to make a permanent appointment.

WHITE SOX WORK OUT TODAY, JUST TO KEEP ON TOES

Resume League Battling Friday in St. Louis.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The White Sox squad will work out at noon today, but the session will not be open to the public. So, unless you have influence, don't bother about going clear out to 35th and Shields for the ceremonies.

The calisthenics today will be designed to keep the lads up to the fine peak they showed in the home end of their current series with the Browns, which they took three out of five for their first successful series against a contending club since July 22, 23, and 24, when they conquered the Yankees by the same ratio.

The Sox, back on their heels most of the time since Aug. 4, when they began to recede after reaching a record of 50 games won and 50 lost, played some of their best defensive ball of the season against the Browns last week-end. The Browns are managed by Luke Sewell, a former member of the Sox' habitually happy little family of athletes.

The Browns are assured of at least an even break with the Sox in 1944 for they have won 11 games to the Sox' seven, and with only four to go.

Pirates Beat Cards Twice, 5 to 3, 6 to 5

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 12 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals, in a late season slump which has seen them win only four of their last 13 games, lost a double header to the second place Pittsburgh Pirates tonight. The scores were 5 to 3 and 6 to 5.

North Shore Golf Race to Close Today

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The North Shore Golf league, oldest organized interclub organization in the game in this district, will hold its final series of the 1944 season today at the Evanston Golf club, home base of President Jack Anderson. The winner of the season title in the concluding set of matches will represent the league in the Chicago District Golf association's annual interleague assembly of champions, scheduled for next Wednesday at Calumet. The South and West district champions already have been determined, Flossmoor winning the former while Brookwood captured the west district crown.

The North Shore league, which perennially produces close races down to the last series, goes into the stretch with another snug battle in prospect. The schedule for today's matches is based on position to date, sending the first place team against the second, the third against the fourth, etc. Thus Sunset Ridge, the leader with 43 points, will draw as its opponent Westmoreland, the defending champion, which currently occupies second place with a point aggregate of 37½. Other matches, with the teams' point total to date, are: Skokie [35] vs. Edgewater [31]; Ridgemoor [28] vs. North Shore [26½], and Park Ridge [26] vs. Evanston [24½]. With nine points at stake in each match, the end of the day may find several positions changed.

The Women's Western Golf association will hold its annual meeting at 12:30 p. m. on Oct. 16 at the Racquet club, 1361 N. Dearborn pkwy.

Youthful Dog Owners Will Have Classes

BY BOB BECKER.

THE TRIBUNE sports department will again sponsor the children's handling classes in the Western Specialty Clubs association dog show, to be held Oct. 7-8 in the Chicago Arena. This will be the organization's 34th annual combined show and is the only licensed dog show scheduled for Chicago this fall.

The children's handling classes, the only popular feature of its kind in the show, is open to both boys and girls, with no entry fee required. Details of the various classes and the time they will be judged will be printed in this department later. THE TRIBUNE is awarding cups and pins to boys and girls who win the children's events.

Adolph F. Kramer, president of the Specialty Clubs association, says that entries for the show will close Sept. 27. The following breeds will comprise the show this year: English setters, Irish setters, pointers, cocker spaniels, English springer spaniels, dachshunds, boxers, Doberman-Pinschers, shepherds, great danes, fox terriers, Irish terriers, Kerry blue terriers, Scottish terriers, Sealyham terriers, Chihuahuas, toy Manchester terriers, Pekingese, Pomeranians, Boston terriers, bulldogs, chowchows, and schipperkes.

DICK DEPIGIAN, ILLINI FULL BACK, TO BE INDUCTED

To cover the loss of Eddie McGovern, who announced he will not return to school, John Martin has been returned to left half back, where he is teamed with Ed Jacobs and Eddie Bray. Orville Hall of Chicago, after a brief trial at left half, returned to full back today.

WOLVERINES GET WET.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 12 (AP).—The Michigan squad skidded thru a two hour workout in the rain and mud this afternoon in preparation for Saturday's opener against Iowa Pre-Flight. Coach H. O. [Fritz] Crisler stressed aerial tactics during the drill, which also included plenty of contact work. The Wolverines will scrimmage tomorrow.

SEAHAWKS STRESS DEFENSE.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 12 [Special].—The Iowa Seahawks, who will open against Michigan in Ann Arbor on Saturday, ran thru their reportoire of plays today and finished up with a drill on defense against the five, six, or seven man line which the Wolverines are expected to spring.

Significant of today's drill was the capable manner in which George Strohmeyer, fotmer Texas A. & M. blocking back, moved into the starting lineup at center. Richard Arens of St. Louis Normandy High, a 200 pound guard candidate, also took his turn in the opening combination and showed that Fred Kuhlman may have to hustle to gain the choice assignment on Saturday.

PICKS PURDUE BACK FIELD.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 12 [Special].—A back field combination of veterans Boris Dimancheff and Chalmers Elliott at half backs, Ed Cody, transfer from Boston college, at full back and Ray Schultz, minor letter man from last season, at quarter back made a favorable impression on Coach Cecil Isbell of Purdue this afternoon. Speed and deception were stressed in the two hour session as Isbell sent three teams thru dummy drills in which tackling was barred.

HOOSIERS STRESS BLOCKING.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 12 [Special].—Indiana university's football squad went thru another workout on defensive and offensive blocking exercises today for the season's opener against Fort Knox here Saturday.

Indiana has seven letter men and a half dozen promising freshmen. One of the veterans, J. C. Coffee, a senior guard from Evansville, likely will be out of Saturday's contest because of an injured shoulder.

3 CHANGES IN IRISH LINEUP.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 12 [Special].—Three changes in Notre Dame's first team lineup were made by Coach Ed. McKeever during football practice on Cartier field today. Johnny Ray, a freshman who has been playing right end, was shifted to center, replacing Fred Rovai, Hammond sophomore who was moved to right guard. Bob Skoglund, Chicago naval R. O. T. C. trainee, replaced Ray at end.

SHIFT 3 BADGER LINEMEN.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 12 [Special].—Nick Collias, promising Chicago freshman guard on the University of Wisconsin football squad, was excused from practice today because of a back injury suffered by having been thrown from a horse. He is expected to be back by the end of the week.

Coach Stuhldreher announced three shifts to bolster his forward wall. Bob Welske was moved from center to guard, Carroll Lohr went to end from center, and Byron Pettinga was shifted from tackle to center.

War Plant Cut-backs

Throughout America, while production is being speeded up for certain critical war materials, cut-backs are taking place in plants producing less essential materials. This condition is generally reflected in the manpower market.

War mechanics, for example, are not available for hire, whereas a few weeks ago mechanics of top rank were spoken of as jewels out of Tiffany's window. Journeyman electricians have occupied such a category for many months. But all this is changing, only imperceptibly perhaps in some instances, but no less certainly.

To the men of America who find themselves released from war work after many months of unremitting toil, Tennessee Eastman Corporation, in the Knoxville area, still offers splendid opportunities. Chemists (inorganic and physical), skilled craftsmen, particularly mechanics and electricians, are those chiefly sought.

Living conditions in this war plant area are excellent.

Pvt. Arthur Fred Strobel, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Strobel of Janesville, Minn., was killed in action Sept. 1 in the Pacific theater, his parents have learned. Prior to his enlistment on Oct. 5, 1943, he was a war worker in Chicago.

Pvt. William George Borbely, 30, of 6223 University av., died in action in France Aug. 13, his wife, Helen, was told yesterday. Borbely entered service in January, and went overseas in July.

Corp. Gerald B. Miller, 26, of the marine corps, son of Mrs. Agness Miller, 2634 N. Mango av., was killed in action July 27 in Guam. Miller was graduated from Steinmetz High school and was employed by Western Electric until he enlisted in February, 1942. He went overseas in June, 1942, and participated in the battles of Wake Island and Saipan. Memorial services will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in St. Ferdinand church.

Pvt. Herbert Goodman, 38, who made his home with a sister, Mrs. Sylvia Grosby, 6951 N. Ashland av., died Aug. 23 in France after being wounded two days earlier. Pvt. Goodman entered the service March 16, 1942. He was a machinist.

Pvt. Donald W. Hertel, 21, was wounded in action in France Aug. 23 and died the next day, his mother, Mrs. Susan Hertel, 136 McKinley av., Waukegan, was informed. He was a member of an engineers' combat battalion and had been overseas since July.

Pvt. Malcolm D. Fletcher, 18, who was employed as an apprentice in the black press department of THE TRIBUNE when he entered the army, was wounded seriously in France Aug. 29, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fletcher, 1134 E. 45th st., said yesterday. Pvt. Fletcher joined the infantry Jan. 22, 1944, and went overseas July 10.

WARD HEARINGS OPEN; COMPANY HITS WLB MOVE

Justice William Lee Knous of the Colorado Supreme court, appointed arbitrator by the war labor board to hear contract grievances between Montgomery Ward & Co. and the United Mail Order and Retail Employes' union [CIO], opened the arbitration hearings yesterday in the La Salle hotel.

Attorneys Stuart Ball and John A. Barr restated the company's position that the WLB does not have authority to act in the dispute. In view of a ruling by the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia that no statute makes the orders of the WLB enforceable or reviewable, they said, the board is guilty of "dishonestly and hypocritically" flaunting constitutional rights by pretending to possess powers to issue orders.

Francis Heisler, attorney for the union, said it has 40 grievances since Jan. 1, 1944, including the discharge of 26 employes and salary cuts for five others. Anton Mutz, 46, of 10535 Ewing av., a stationery engineer who was discharged July 8, was the first witness yesterday. He said he was discharged for an alleged theft of bread and lunch meat and a wrench, which he denied.

BOY WHO STOLE $3,000 SENT TO STATE SCHOOL

Richard Pisarczyk, 16, of 3401 S. Hermitage av., who was arrested last month with his cousin, Donald Krause, 11, on charges of stealing more than $3,000 from Donald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Krause, 3232 S. Paulina st., yesterday was ordered by Judge Frank H. Bicek of Juvenile court to be sent to the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles. Charges against Donald were continued to Nov. 2.

Donald told police that he and Richard took the money and $2,225 in war bonds to Richard's home and later to a hotel in Berwyn. Some of the money was spent on gifts for girl friends, the boy related. Richard said he made a short trip to Kansas City, Mo. It was on his return that he was arrested.

WAUKEGAN ARMY FLYER RETURNS AFTER 52 RAIDS

A former Waukegan attorney who joined the army in March, 1942, was back home on furlough yesterday with a record of 52 missions as a ball turret gunner on a B-24 bomber, a distinguished flying cross, an air medal with seven oak leaf clusters, and African and Italian campaign ribbons.

He is Staff Sgt. Harold Kolbe, 42, of 117 Sherman av., Waukegan, where his wife, Viola, and his mother, Mrs. Morton Kolbe, live.

His bomber, the "Sky Wolf," participated in raids over Germany, Italy, Romania, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, France, Austria, and Bulgaria. It returned from one mission with most of its tail shot off and with 183 bullet holes in the fuselage.

Sgt. Kolbe will report back to an air base in Florida on Oct. 1. A brother, Carvin, is a chief machinist's mate in the navy.

MOTHER HANGS UP ON HIS GIRL; SON BEATS HER

Because his 60-year-old mother continued to hang up on his girl friend every time she telephoned the house, Charles S. Linell, 34, of 1133 S. Scoville av., Oak Park, knocked her down, pulled her hair, and beat her against the floor last Saturday, he admitted before Justice Alfred Brennan in police court yesterday. Linell said he was a radio engineer and operates a repair shop in the basement of his mother's home.

Linell, who lived off his mother's earnings until last New Year's day, was released on $50 bond and his case was continued for one week. By that time, Judge Brennan warned, "I want you to be out of that house and supporting yourself."

GUNMAN ROBS OFFICE OF $150.

A gunman yesterday entered the Household Finance company office at 11106 Michigan av., menaced a woman clerk, Marion Lindell, and escaped with $150.

HEALTH QUIZ

| | YES | NO |
|---|---|---|
| Do you have poor digestion? | ☐ | ☐ |
| Do you feel headachy after eating? | ☐ | ☐ |
| Do you get sour or upset easily? | ☐ | ☐ |
| Do you feel tired—listless? | ☐ | ☐ |

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 10¢ and 25¢.

DOUGLAS TELLS GREAT AVIATION FUTURE OF CITY

Peace Won't Reduce Output, He Says.

Chicago will be a great airplane manufacturing center after the war because it is better located than any other city in the United States as a distribution point, Donald W. Douglas, president of the Douglas Aircraft Co., Inc., said here last night.

The Douglas plant on the northwest side, near Park Ridge, will not be affected, he said, by the cancelation of war contracts after Germany quits.

Expects Bigger Output.

"As a matter of fact," Douglas said, "production at this plant will be increased, perhaps even doubled, after the war with Germany ends. One reason for this increase is that we are making C-54 Skymasters, a type of plane for which there will be great demand after the war."

Douglas stopped in Chicago on his return trip to Santa Monica, Cal., from New York, where he signed a contract Monday with three air lines for 93 post-war commercial airplanes.

C-54 Skymasters are now making 25 crossings of the Atlantic ocean every day, and 30 daily Pacific crossings, Douglas said.

Needed in War on Japs.

The war with Japan also will call for greater numbers of C-54 Skymasters, and additional hundreds of the cargo-transports will be required in the reconstruction work in Europe and for the return of American forces from Europe, Douglas said he was told by Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, a few days ago.

COURT REFUSES WRIT TO ANNUL DRAFT BY ARMY

Federal Judge Elwyn R. Shaw refused yesterday to interfere in a case in which a theological student failed to keep up his studies, therefore lost his 4-D classification, and was inducted into the army.

The student is Jack Eugene Brown, 20, of 505 S. Pulaski rd. Details of the case were disclosed when his father, Abraham Brown, a grocer, asked a writ of habeas corpus seeking the son's release from the army.

His attorney, David Chiamovitz, set forth that Brown registered with local board 123 on Dec. 11, 1942, and was classified 4-D after stating he had been a student in the Hebrew Theological college, 3448 Douglas blvd., since 1937. Later the college notified Brown's draft board that his school work was not completely satisfactory and that he had been absent frequently. The board ordered him into the army. He was inducted yesterday. Chiamovitz asserted that Brown's absence from school was caused by illness.

LAKE BACTERIA COUNT HIGHEST FOR 8 MONTHS

Heavy south and southwest winds on Sunday raised the bacteria count in the lake water near the Dunne and 68th st. cribs on the south side to the highest levels in the last eight months, Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, said yesterday.

The count at 2 a. m. Sunday, he said, was 2,400 coliform bacteria for each 100 cubic centimeters, and at 8 a. m. it was 5,400. To purify the water, the chlorine content was raised to 11 pounds per million gallons.

The average count this month has been in excess of 300, Hewitt said. The United States public health service states that 50 is the maximum count that can be treated by simple chlorination.

BURNS TO DEATH IN HOME.

Roy Manners, 50, a coal hiker, of 815 N. May st., was burned to death yesterday when his three room frame cottage was damaged by fire. Chief Ray Howe of the 5th battalion estimated the loss at $1,200. Origin of the fire was undetermined.

GRAIN ELEVATOR DISCRIMINATION CHARGED BY RICE

Asks Illinois Commission to Set Fair Rate.

Arguments were started yesterday before the Illinois commerce commission on a petition asking the commission to take over regulation of 11 grain elevator firms that are alleged to have coöperated with the Chicago Board of Trade [also a defendant] in practices harmful to the public and to the grain trade.

Most of the contention was over the jurisdiction of the commission, which has licensed only two of the firms. The others are licensed by the federal government. The commission ordered attorneys for the board and the companies named to submit written briefs and to be ready to argue further on Sept. 26.

Discrimination Charged.

Daniel F. Rice & Co., grain broker, is the complainant in the case. The petition, drawn by Attorneys Irvin Rooks and Lee A. Freeman, alleged that the firms, collaborating with the Board of Trade, granted undue preference for grain storage to themselves and favored firms without regard to needs of other dealers.

One of the specific charges is that the defendants have established unjust and discriminatory rates for their services. Another is that the elevator men mix inferior grain with higher grades, causing losses to the firms buying the grain. A third is that the outsider firms having no elevator connections are compelled to put their grain in the warehouses having the highest insurance rates.

Upholds Power to Act.

The commerce commission was asked to end these practices and to prescribe fair and reasonable rates for storage. Atty. Freeman said there was no doubt as to the commission's power to act because the state utilities act empowers it to regulate public warehouses of all kinds.

The firms named in the complaint, owning 40 million bushels of storage space, are: Chicago Grain corporation, Norris Grain Elevator, General Mills, Inc.; Rosenbaum Brothers, Santa Fe Elevator corporation, Morris Grain company, Cargill, Inc.; Continental Grain company, Great Lakes Elevator corporation, Cargill Illinois Grain company, and Stratton Grain company.

BAN ON TRADING IN CORN FUTURES OFF TOMORROW

Trading in corn futures will be resumed tomorrow on the Chicago Board of Trade. Directors of the exchange yesterday authorized trading in December, May, and July contracts with a ceiling price of $1.18¼ a bushel.

Operations in corn futures were suspended June 25, 1943, at the request of the government, which commandeered cash grain in Chicago elevators to obtain much needed supplies of corn for industrial purposes.

Monday's department of agriculture report forecasting a near record grain crop caused feed grains to break in early trading on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, but the selling movement soon spent its force and all grains rallied when aggressive buying developed on the belief congress would adopt legislation to maintain grain prices at about parity levels.

Barley was most affected by the government report and at one time was off 4¾ cents a bushel, or within ¼ cent of the maximum permitted. On the rally it recovered to close down 1¼ to 3⅝ cents.

Oats after being off about ¾ cent early rallied 1½ to 2 cents to close ⅝ to 1½ cents higher. September wheat ended ¾ cent higher. Rye was ¼ higher to ½ lower.

3 GT. NORTHERN ISSUES WON BY HALSEY, STUART

Syndicate Outbids Morgan Stanley.

Halsey, Stuart & Co., Chicago investment banking house, and a large group of associates yesterday submitted the winning bids for 100 million dollars of Great Northern Railway company bonds, outbidding the large eastern firm of Morgan Stanley & Co. A spokesman for the investment company said the transaction was the largest piece of corporate financing since the interstate commerce commission invoked its competitive bidding rule on this type of security several months ago, and one of the largest in Halsey history.

The Halsey group bid 100.88 for 35 million dollars of 3¼ per cent bonds due 1960, 100.13 for 30 millions of 3⅜s due 1970, and 100.76 for 35 millions of 3½s due 1980. Morgan Stanley & Co. bid 100.59 for the 3¼s, 98.771 for the 3⅜s, and 98.303 for the 3½s.

The Halsey group, subject to formal award by the company, reoffered the bonds to the public on this basis: 3¼s, 101.52; 3⅜s, 101.28, and 3½s, 102.04.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to retire $35,668,000 of first and refunding 4¼ per cent bonds due 1961 at 105; $25,138,950 general mortgage, series G, 4 per cent convertible bonds due 1946 at 101; $31,385,750 general mortgage, series H, 4 per cent convertible bonds due 1948 at 101; $9,695,000 Eastern Railway of Minnesota 4s due 1948 at 105; 5 million dollars collateral trust 4 per cent serial bonds maturing to July 1, 1951, at 104; 13 million dollars collateral trust 4 per cent term bonds due 1952 at 104.

The premium on the bonds, together with the principal, approximates 123½ million dollars, of which the balance will be supplied from the company treasury.

Competitive Bidding Debated.

The competitive bidding regulation under which the awards were made was adopted after bitter debate in financial quarters. Halsey, strongly backed by the Cleveland investment house of Otis & Co., headed by Cyrus Eaton, advocated the competitive system, contending the major railroads had too long been tied up with New York banking institutions which negotiated their financing requirements privately.

The opposite view was taken by Morgan Stanley, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and other firms who contended the roads had better protection over the years by dealing with bankers long acquainted with the roads' needs and capable of caring for their financial requirements under all conditions.

The First Boston corporation and associates will offer today 120,000 shares of 4¼ per cent cumulative preferred stock of Indiana and Michigan Electric company at 103¼ a share. Proceeds will be used to repay bank notes due in August, 1945, and replenish corporate funds.

Plans to Acquire Properties.

These funds, plus 3 million dollars to be received from the sale of 129,024 shares of common stock to American Gas and Electric company, will enable Indiana and Michigan to acquire various utility properties in or near territory now served.

Two syndicates, both headed by First Boston and G. H. Walker & Co., yesterday submitted successful bids for $10,600,000 of 3½ per cent first mortgage bonds due 1969, and 350,000 shares of $10 par value common stock of the Empire District Electric company.

GRANT WORKERS OF 7 COMPANIES WAGE INCREASES

Wage increases for 7,682 employes of seven companies in the Chicago area were approved yesterday by the 6th regional war labor board.

Companies and the number of employes involved were: Goldblatt Brothers, 3,206; Chicago Wholesale Liquor association, 400; Chicago Surface Lines, 1,300; Armstrong Brothers Tool company, 600; Allstate Insurance company, 522; Neumode Hosiery company, 240, and Jefferson Electric company, Bellwood, 1,414.

The board denied proposed wage adjustments calling for increases of 3 to 6 cents an hour for 535 employes of Kewanee [Ill.] Boiler corporation.

Reach Accord on Disposal of War Surplus

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—One hurdle was cleared in the congressional dispute over reconversion legislation today as the senate-house conferees reached tentative agreement on the surplus war property disposal bill.

Meanwhile, however, conferees on the so-called George bill, dealing with unemployment compensation and post-war public works, announced a deadlock on two major provisions.

Both measures will be submitted to the house for a vote early next week. Legislative leaders predicted prompt house and senate approval of the surplus property bill, but expressed doubt that either chamber would yield on the George bill.

Reject Two Senate Provisions.

Sen. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the conference group on his measure, said house conferees had refused to accept these two senate approved provisions which senate conferees insisted on:

1. A section extending unemployment compensation benefits to the more than 3 million federal workers now excluded.

2. Proposed federal payments up to $200 to migrant war workers to transport them back to their prewar residences.

Rep. Doughton [D., N. C.], head of the house conferees, announced he would ask the house Monday to reject the proposals. Legislative leaders expressed hope that if the house did reject the two provisions, they might be eliminated and submitted later as separate legislation. They said this would permit congress to dispose of the measure quickly and recess until after the elections.

States to Rule Jobless Pay.

Portions of the George bill on which conferees agreed would set up a $15,000 a year over-all director of reconversion to be named by the President with senate concurrence. The unemployment compensation program would remain in state hands, with federal loans to states, if necessary to help make payments to jobless workers during the conversion period.

The conference agreement on surplus property legislation was announced by Sen. Thomas [D., Utah], head of the senate conferees, who reported a compromise on the last disputed point relating to the stockpiling of strategic metals and minerals.

The agreed proviso directs the army-navy munitions board to report to congress within three months the minerals and metals it considers strategic and the amounts needed for defense. These would be retained in stockpiles for one year, then declared surplus and sold unless congress directed otherwise.

STANDARD GAS AMENDS PLANS ON INTEGRATION

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP).—Wisconsin Public Service company's common stock would be distributed among holders of Standard Gas and Electric company's notes and debentures under a new amendment to its plan of recapitalization, the securities and exchange commission announced today. The commission postponed hearings on the plan from Sept. 21 to 28.

By including Wisconsin in its retirement program, Standard has only one major subsidiary—Louisville Gas and Electric company [Del.]—to dispose of under the commission's geographic integration order, which found only the Philadelphia company, Pittsburgh, Pa., to be retainable in the Standard system.

Under the amendment, no dividends would be paid on Standard's common stock until provision is made for the payment of interest and principal on $23,500,000 of new debentures.

PROPOSES OPTIONAL TAX DEFERMENT TO SPEED PEACE SHIFTS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—The National Planning association suggested today a "war to peace" plan whereby a corporation might defer payment of taxes, upon the cessation of hostilities in either hemisphere, so that it could use its ready cash to speed reconversion to a peace time basis.

The plan would permit a corporation to postpone for a year payment of income and excess profits taxes on the current year's earnings, along with any unpaid taxes of the preceding year.

The deferment would be made pending determination whether the corporation is entitled to a refund on its previous tax payments. If not, taxes on the two years would be subject to a 6 per cent annual interest penalty and be payable along with the current tax liability in the third year.

MOTORS, PLANE STOCKS EXTEND SELECTIVE RISE

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—Selected stocks, particularly motors, aircrafts, and other industrials, extended their recovery today, altho many leaders remained indifferent.

Wall street was encouraged by the Maine Republican sweep. Investors were a bit less apprehensive over reconversion, altho the allied push into Germany again retarded buying. Outcome of the Quebec conferences also was awaited. A stock exchange membership was sold for $67,000, up $3,000.

The post-war outlook called attention to the automotive group. Huge orders for commercial planes stimulated the aircrafts.

Dealings again were among the slowest of the year. The Associated Press 60 stock average was up 0.2 to 53.8.

BONDS HOLD STEADY.

New York, Sept. 12 (AP).—Listed bonds had to compete with a large influx of new offerings today, but a fairly even course was maintained, especially among rails and investment issues. United States government loans were quiet.

CHICAGO PRICES RISE.

Prices closed higher on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in turnover of 24,000 shares. Consolidated Biscuit, the most heavily traded issue, was up ⅛ at 6¾ for a new 1944 peak.

HOG RECEIPTS DIP TO 11 MONTH TUESDAY LOW

Hog receipts yesterday fell to an 11 month low for a Tuesday, indicating a further shrinkage in pork supplies. Only once before since the United States entered the war has output been as low as during the first two days of this week, except for Monday holiday periods.

A large number of buying orders for pork and hogs went unfilled again, altho packers paid ceiling prices for nearly all stock. Cattle and lambs were generally steady.

Olds Assailed Before Senate as Communist

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—After two hours of debate on charges of communistic sympathies against Chairman Leland Olds of the federal power commission, the senate late today postponed until tomorrow a vote on confirmation of Olds' reappointment by President Roosevelt.

Sen. Moore [R., Okla.] delivered a speech reviewing the New Yorker's affiliations with such well known Communists as Earl Browder, William Z. Foster, and Carl Haessler before he gained the sponsorship of Mr. Roosevelt.

Moore said Olds was a member of the New York state power authority from 1931 to 1939 and made trips thruout Europe at Roosevelt's request to gather information "with the apparent view of implanting so far as possible European philosophies of government in the United States." Olds was appointed chairman of the power commission in 1939 as a political pay-off to the Communist dominated American Labor party of New York, in which he was a leader, according to charges in congress at that time.

Associate of Communists.

In the '20s, Moore recalled, Olds was a co-editor of the Federated Press, the executive board of which included Browder and Foster. He quoted articles written by Olds at that time which assailed the capitalistic system. Later Olds became active in the American Labor party as an associate of Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO political action committee.

"Olds came to the power commission fresh from the background of long associations with communistic thought and idealism and with the zeal and fire of a crusader," Moore told the senate.

"Witnesses at the hearings on Olds' confirmation, representing the state utility bodies, charged that Olds showed an ambition to become the utility czar of the nation and to invade the rights of the states.

Mentions Dall Deal.

"Probably the most astounding example of his arbitrary actions was in connection with the Tennessee Gas and Transmission company, headed by Curtis Dall, which had no financial backing or a supply of gas, but applied for a certificate authorizing construction of a pipe line from Louisiana to West Virginia.

[Dall is a former son-in-law of President Roosevelt, having been the first husband of the President's daughter, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall Boettiger.]

"The FPC issued a most amazing order to the Tennessee company in the nature of a conditional certificate, meanwhile denying even a hearing to another applicant, the Hope Natural Gas company, which had both funds and a supply of gas," Moore asserted. "The Tennessee company later sold 90 per cent of its common stock to the Chicago corporation [an investment concern] for $540,000 which repaid them for all their expenses and left them with a 10 per cent interest in the project without a single penny of cost. The only asset of the Tennessee company was the conditional certificate. The RFC then lent 44 millions for building the pipe line.

Branded Sordid Procedure.

"This was a rank and inexcusable abuse of administrative discretion and a sordid scene in administrative procedure.

"Either the Tennessee company received the certificate from the FPC as the result of personal influence or as the result of a desire by the FPC to favor publicly financed projects to the exclusion of privately financed enterprises."

Three New Deal senators, Hill [D., Ala.], Mead [D., N. Y.], and Tunnell [D., Del.], came to Olds' defense, denying that the chairman had communistic leanings.

CHARTER HINTS FIELD MAY ASK FINANCIAL HELP

Role of War Plants Not Indicated.

Deprived by congress of his privileged tax status, Marshall Field may seek outside help to finance his unprofitable publishing activities, it was indicated yesterday.

Field has acquired a charter from the state of Delaware for a corporation to which he transferred Sept. 1 the facilities used in the publication of his Chicago morning newspaper. The capital structure is so designed as to permit interests other than Field to participate in the deficits of the newspaper. Under the purposes stated in the charter the corporation is permitted to publish "fiction and nonfiction" and "furnish any type or kind of amusement whatsoever to the public."

Acquisition of the corporation charter follows enactment of legislation over the veto of President Roosevelt that limits the tax credits that individuals can claim on their unprofitable hobbies.

War Profits Offset Losses.

Heretofore, Field has been able to shift to the United States treasury a large part of the cost of operating his newspaper. One device he used was to acquire two industrial plants whose untaxed war profits were used as an offset to the publishing losses. Field operated these plants as unincorporated enterprises to get the full benefit of their swollen earnings. Under former ownership the profits of the plants were subject to the high corporation and individual income tax rates.

Field purchased these plants and an intercity bus line operating in the Chicago industrial area after launching his newspaper experiment. He was reported to have picked up the properties at bargain prices because the former owners had to pay out most of their profits in taxes. Unlike Field the former owners did not have other unprofitable operations against which the earnings of the factories could be pooled for tax purposes.

The two factories acquired by Field are the Delta Manufacturing company of Milwaukee, maker of portable machine tools, and V. & O. Press company, Hudson, N. Y., another tool manufacturer. Both were heavily engaged in war production.

Managerial Ability Needed.

Field was blocked by representatives of the war production board in his efforts to acquire a third war plant, the Cleveland Pneumatic Tool company, maker of aircraft parts. Like the companies that he succeeded in purchasing the Cleveland enterprise had large earnings subject to high excess profits tax rates.

Before making a deal with Field the management of the Cleveland company conferred with officials of the WPB aircraft division. An official of WPB disapproved of the proposed sale to Field, stating that what the company needed was "brains and managerial ability," not money. Field also tried to purchase the Northern Pump company, a tremendously profitable manufacturer of naval ordnance. The management rejected his overtures.

Altho the purposes of Field Enterprises, Inc., the new Delaware corporation, are broad enough to permit it to engage in manufacturing activities there has been no indication whether it will absorb Field's war factories.

Other Investors Indicated.

The capitalization of Field's new corporation consists of three classes of stock: A preferred issue; an A stock subordinate to the preferred, and a no par common stock. The aggregate par value of the two first named issues is $7,100,000. With whom this stock will be placed has not been announced altho it is known that several associates of Field are stockholders in the corporation.

The creation of the two classes of senior stock indicated that interests sympathetic with Field's aims may be invited to help underwrite his operations. It is considered unlikely that a market could be found for any substantial amount of the junior no par voting stock. Creation of more than one class of stock would be unnecessary if Field planned to retain complete ownership.

Move to Ease Land Seizures by U.S. Assailed by Law Group

Defeat of a New Deal sponsored measure known as proposed rule 71-A which would give the federal government the right to condemn private property simply by mailing and posting notice of its intended confiscation was urged in a resolution adopted yesterday by the real property law division of the American Bar association.

The association is holding its 67th annual convention with 3,000 members in attendance at sectional meetings in the Drake, Stevens, and Knickerbocker hotels and in the Medinah club.

Rule 71-A, condemned by the group and referred for final consideration today by the A. B. A.'s house of delegates, would amend the procedural practice of the Supreme Court of the United States in condemnation proceedings which now are governed by laws of the individual states.

Sponsored by New Dealers.

The rule was promulgated by the Supreme court's advisory committee on rules for civil procedure, of which Edgar Bronson Tolman, veteran Chicago attorney and editor of the Journal of the A. B. A., is secretary.

Norman Littel, a New Deal appointee in charge of the land division of the attorney general's office, had sponsored its adoption.

On at least two previous occasions, members of the A. B. A. group pointed out, the same rule has appeared in the form of proposed legislation rejected by congress.

Title Search Demanded.

The measure was not condemned because of any opposition to the federal government's right to seize private property for war use, the group said. It was rejected because it appeared to give too much protection to the "condemnor" and too little protection to the owner by failing to insist on a title search to determine all parties of interest in the properties which the rule could attach, members of the section said.

Littel is alleged to have agitated for enactment of the rule to relieve his department, said to be bogged down by ineffectual procedural methods in public land condemnation proceedings. Failing to have such a rule passed as law by congress, he is said to have resorted to an appeal to the Supreme court to achieve the change by decree rather than thru legislation.

Ask Review of Any Redrafts.

In its resolution condemning the measure, the A. B. A. section members said that any rule proposing to accomplish what 71-A is intended to do, should provide for service upon all owners as in other cases.

The resolution concluded by saying: "That before adoption by the Supreme court of the United States of any redraft of the proposed rule, time and opportunity should be afforded to the bar to consider and make recommendations concerning any such redraft."

Copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to each of the justices of the court.

CHICAGO LOSER IN MONOPOLY OF AIR—DAMON

Opposes Single Line World Operation.

Chicago will be one of the biggest losers if the United States adopts the "chosen instrument" policy providing for a single air line to engage in world air transportation, Ralph S. Damon, vice president and general manager of American Airlines, said yesterday. He spoke before the aviation insurance committee of the American Bar association in the Drake hotel.

Ralph S. Damon.

If the principle of regulated competition is expanded from domestic to international air transport, it will be possible to give Chicago direct service to all points thruout the world, he explained. But if this principle is not adopted, and international operations must start and stop at the seaboard, foreign bound travelers will have to go thru the same complications to which they are now subject in surface transportation—they will have to change from one carrier to another when they reach the coast.

Damon said there is no more ju-

Damon Opposes One Line World Operation Plan.

tification for a chosen instrument in international air transportation than there is for a single steamship line on an international route, or for a single bus company or railroad having a monopoly on a domestic transportation route.

Only by permitting domestic air lines to engage in international operations can the full opportunities of air transportation be realized, he declared. Much of the sensational progress in American aviation, which has produced the world's finest planes, can be attributed to the competition among the various air lines seeking to provide better service than their rivals, he said.

He quoted Edward C. Bowyer, head of the information department of the Society of British Aircraft Constructors, as saying that the operation of a single British company, Imperial Airways, had limited technical development by British companies. With only one big customer the British manufacturers did not have the opportunity or the incentive to produce better planes as did manufacturers in the United States.

Denies Doubt of Enough Traffic.

"Much of the opposition to having more than one air line represent the United States in the international air transport field is based on the assumption that there would not be enough traffic to make the operation of more than one line economically sound," Damon said. "Even the most gloomy proponent of the chosen instrument theory admits that we have witnessed perhaps 20 years of normal transport development crammed into two years."

Damon said that private operations thru their competitive methods freed the industry of the need for subsidies.

"The only major United States air line still receiving a subsidy is one, which until the war, had a monopoly on its trade routes," he asserted. "Under monopoly there is no incentive to get out of the subsidy class."

SEIZE 12 MORE SOFT COAL PITS; TOTAL UP TO 45

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12 (AP).—President Roosevelt tonight directed Secretary of the Interior Ickes to take over and operate 12 more mines closed by strikes of supervisory employes demanding recognition of their union. All mines included in the new seizure order are in West Virginia. This brought to 45 the number of mines seized in the supervisory employes' strikes.

Ickes announced that the 12 mines will be open for work Thursday. Foremen had kept 31 West Virginia mines closed today.

5,000 Idle at Ship Yard.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 12 (AP).—Three thousand employes of Todd-Houston Shipbuilding corporation who reported for work today, were sent home as the yard for the second day was shut by a strike of 2,000 boilermakers which began Saturday in an effort to force WLB approval for an election to determine the workers' bargaining agent. Later, it was announced, work had been resumed.

1,100 Halted at Alcoa Works.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 12 (AP).—Approximately 1,100 workers at Aluminum Company of America's alumina plant near Bauxite, Ark., were idle today as a result of a walkout by 10 CIO power house employes.

Colonial Stores Reports Sales Gain 8.8 Per Cent

Colonial Stores yesterday reported sales for the five weeks ended Sept. 2 of $3,001,042, compared with $2,268,548 a year ago, an increase of 8.8 per cent.

One Day Delay

Harold Cunningham (left) and Mathias Kearns before the bench in South State Street court.

A fourth continuance—this time for one day—was granted Mathias Kearns, international vice president of the Transport Workers' union [CIO], when he appeared before Judge Jay Schiller in South State street court yesterday on charges of assault and battery. Kearns' acting attorney, Hart E. Baker, told the court that Ben Meyers, who had been handling the case for Kearns, was out of town and asked for a 30 day continuance.

The judge advised Kearns that he would not grant the request regardless of who asked for it. "This case has been continued too many times," he said. "I won't grant 30 days, not even if the police want it."

Kearns is alleged to have attacked Harold Cunningham, 40, of 2033 Morse av., a trustee of the Chicago Motor Coach Employes' fraternity, an independent group, last July after Kearns had attempted to have the fraternity become affiliated with the CIO.

MEXICO FEEDING THOUSANDS OF FLOOD VICTIMS

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12 (AP).—Relief crews are administering food, vaccine, and clothing to thousands left homeless by storms in northern, western, and eastern Mexico, the health ministry reported today.

In northern Mexico a tornado and floods destroyed a large part of Parral, Chihuahua mining city, and parts of many smaller towns. The total death toll is undetermined, but in Parral 39 bodies have been found. The nation-wide toll may reach 100.

Floods were reported subsiding in most parts, but in sections of Jalisco, western Mexico, where rains have fallen for 14 days, new areas are being inundated. At Zihuatlan eight bodies were reported recovered and 28 other persons missing. There were three deaths in Autlan.

The health ministry reported that Manzanillo, Pacific ocean port, remains isolated by waters that cover suburban regions. Train service between Mexico City and border points has been restored.

Legion Post Will Honor Capt. William Gallery

Capt. William O. Gallery, commanding officer of the naval air technical training center, 87th st. and Anthony av., will be honored Friday night by the South Shore post of the American Legion. Capt. Gallery, 40, is a native of Chicago. He was graduated from the United States Naval academy in 1925 and became a navy flyer in 1931. He was decorated twice for achievements in the South Pacific.
